In spite of this and from the $11,000,000 emergency agregradless of the overwhelming vote ricultural bill a house amendment prohibiting the use of some $6,000, 000 carried by the measure unless manufacture of wine and beer was stopped by the president. Senator Smith of South Carolina, chairman of the agricultural committee, upon his return to Washington tonight said he was inclined to oppose the amendment because a very small proportion of grain is being used in the production of alcoholic liquors since the distilling of whisky was stopped efforts would be made to have his committee take up the bill without delay. Mr. Hoover explained his position in a statement made public tonight following his letter to Senator Sheppard. He said that if the American people want prohibition, it should prohibit by legislation to that end and not force the food administration to the responsibility for an orgy of drunkenness.

After the position of the president member and on June 5 the number and the food adinistration had been had increased to 73 active and five Senator Sheppard and contributing members. Investigates Local Conditions Mr. Clark's address was the princinal feature of the session. While in this city, Mr. Clark devoted , what little spare time he had to investigating conditions so far as the boosting of local production is concerned. Though he did not find anything radically wrong with Salem, he has a number of dos and don'ts. which in his opinion might well be applied here. "There's no law that can compel a man to buy his goods from home manufacturers," said the visitor last September. Senator Smith said yesterday afternoon in discussing his work, "People don't realize the importance of keeping their money at home. Millions are going away from here for Liberty bonds and other worthy causes, yet at the same time it is necessary to keep some of it in this part of the country. "The government itself is doing all t can to help and never again in a lifetime will Salem have the United States backing and advertising the local output as it is now. C. E. Spence is said to have defendby which the resolutions against affiliation with the league was carried, many delegates belived last night that Spence would win the election for the master's chair over J. J. Johnson of Portland. It was said that the resolution adopted was not intended as a blow to the league by the Oregon Grange, but that it merely placed the Grange on record as not favoring combination with any league or political organization. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the grange is a nonsectarian and non-partisan order, and the state grange at its last session at Astoria endorsed the Non-Partisan League, which is a political organization, and

"Whereas, the whole people of Oregon under our laws are privileged largely through Grange effort to enact any law or set of laws whereby their will is made manifest by the use of the ballot, and therefore the State Grange of Oregon is fully able to act in representation of the it should do so without any affilia- No Steel for Non-War farmers of the state, and we believe tion with any political league, which, wihel its efforts at present might be well actuated, but which nevertheless might fall into the hands of selfish ends.

"Therefore, be it Resloved, that the Oregon Grange in session at Salem June 5, 1918, goes on record as not favoring any combination with any political party or league whatever.
