

President Takes Lesson in Riveting Ship

President Wilson, who has become greatly interested in the contest of 10,000 shipbuilders to excel in driving rivets in steel vessels, is here shown driving the first rivet in the keel of a 10,000 ton steel ship, which was laid at the yards of the Virginia Ship Building Corporation at Alexandria, Va.

CHICAGO MAKES THREE STRAIGHT

Oeschger Knocked Out of Box—Poor Base Running Spoils Phillies' Chances

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Chicago made it three straight from Philadelphia today by knocking Oeschger out of the box, score 6 to 1. Vaughn started off badly but poor base running spoiled the locals' chances to score. Markel and Meusel were the hitting stars.

CAMP LEWIS NOTES

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash., June 8.—That probably most effective of all modern implements of warfare, and the weapon concerning the operation of which the public is least familiar, the machine gun, will be demonstrated in the big military horse show at Camp Lewis Sunday, June 16.

A number of machine gun carts will enter the arena and go through maneuvers just as on the field of battle, reaching the desired position and then starting rapid firing. On one end of the arena there is an abrupt hill and it is into this hill that the swift succession of bullets from these guns will be directed.

Along with machine gun maneuvers will be those of the 346th field artillery, which is to be shown in a lendid display of action. This artillery unit is noted for its fondness for animals. It has 1250 solid bay horses and no other like organization in the American army is better provided in this regard.

The show is to be given for the benefit of the overseas athletic fund and also to pay off an outstanding indebtedness of the Camp Lewis athletic council.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—During today's hearing before the house ways and means committee on war revenue legislation, Professor O. M. W. Sprague of Harvard, submitted a comprehensive taxation plan, proposing consumption taxes and heavy levies on war profits, incomes and luxuries.

Some of Professor Sprague's recommendations were: War profits 80 per cent, based on the English system; tea one to two cents a pound; coffee 10 cents a pound; beer, substantially increased; whole wheat flour $2 or $3 per barrel; hotel bills, 20 per cent on all above $2.50 per night, and on all meals above $1, automobiles, heavy rate on sales; gasoline, used for passenger cars, 20 to 25 cents; employers of chauffeurs, $10 to $50 a month; luxury taxes on jewelry, talking machines, dress goods above a certain price; sporting and athletic goods, negligee shirts costing over $3; shoes, costing over $6 or $8 and a graduated tax on bank checks.

In addition Professor Sprague suggested a surtax of ten per cent on incomes to apply unless the person receiving the incomes invests a certain proportion in "economy bonds," a proposed new form of government war-time securities.

A. F. Thomas of Lynchburg, Va., urged stringent provisions in the coming bill to compel distribution of excess profits. Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford, a sodawater bottler, and Hugh MacMaekin, secretary of a New England sodawater bottlers' association, urged the committee not to tax that industry so heavily as to put concerns out of business.

Fourteen Sioux Indians from South Dakota today were disappointed in their hopes of being exempted from military service and going back to their wives and families on the farm. The men claimed exemption on the grounds of dependency and secondly that they are not United States citizens. They were overruled in both instances. It developed during their examination that the men are not unwilling to fight for their country after it was shown they are given the same advantages of the white men. Some of the men said they had been told that their companions who had been sent home and the general movement for exemption on their part was due to a feeling that they should be allowed to return if their comrades were exempted at the Kansas cantonment.

The men were all living on government land allotments of varying size and in virtually every case their income from the lands, from the government as Indians and secondly as soldiers, would give their families more than $50 a month and they admitted this was sufficient to care for them. Because the men had forsaken the tribal customs of the red man for the civilization of the white man, it was ruled that they had become American citizens. They had been married since the passage of the draft law and came to Camp Lewis in the May contingent of the draft with the first troops to be received here from South Dakota.

The examination developed that many of the Indians were not getting the allotments due them as soldiers. They had not understood the explanations given that at the mustering office that they could obtain allotments for dependents by giving them half their own pay and it was believed when this is adjusted there will be no further cause for complaint.

The biggest officers' mess in the cantonment was opened today in the 166th depot brigade at Fifth street and Montana avenue. One hundred and forty-four officers can be accommodated and there were 139 present for the first meal today. Officers from the fourth officers' training camp, depot brigade, and medical officers of the mustering office and depot brigade are making their mess there.

SUGGESTS TAX ON BEVERAGES

Tea and Coffee Included in War Profits Legislation Proposed by Professor condition and to tear it out would be an unwarranted expense. The committee, however, was instructed to investigate on that point. As planned the repairing will cost in the neighborhood of $800.

The aldermen occupied a lively quarter of an hour in a set-to over leasing the city's paving plant to the county for the improvement of about seven miles of county highways. Alderman Elliott, chairman of the street committee, reported completion of the South Church street improvement and recommended leasing the plant to the county at a charge of 7 1/2 cents a yard. Ward held out for a charge of 10 cents, offered an amendment to that effect and it carried. Buchner supported Elliott and went as far as to move that the city sell the plant to the county for $4500, the amount paid for it. The motion was not acted upon.

Alderman Elliott Balks. When the mayor asked the street committee and Mr. Elliott to find out if the county would be willing to pay 10 cents a yard Elliott refused flatly, saying he would have nothing to do with the affair if a charge of 10 cents were going to be made. He asked for the minutes of a previous meeting which he believed would support his stand for 7 1/2 cents. The records were produced, but did not show that figure. Mr. Elliott will serve as requested. Elliott was asked when the county expects to start paving. He replied that the court had already taken the plant and had it at the fair grounds.

Compensation to the city from the county for use of the plant will be about $100 a day, estimating on the basis of an average of 1000 yards a day at 10 cents a yard. Sixty or seventy days will be required for the work.

Bond Bids Received. Bids on $8633.50 in city improvement bids were received last night, three firms bidding as follows: Keeler brothers, Portland par and accrued interest with $40 premium; Morris brothers, Portland, par and accrued interest with $175 premium; Devereaux & Co., Portland, par and accrued interest with $5.63 premium.

Postponement of all bond sales for public improvements during the war was advised in a letter from the capital issues committee of San Francisco federal reserve bank, but the letter was disposed of by being filed. The bids were referred to the finance committee to report upon at the next meeting.

The ordinance bill directed against carnivals and circuses was killed by indefinite postponement. Though the bill was introduced as a war measure similar to those which it is said have been adopted in other cities, several members declared it to drag. Had it been enacted in an ordinance the measure would have put a complete quietus on all carnivals, circuses, menageries, dog and pony shows or similar amusements within the city, leaving only local theaters the right to operate.

Ordinances Are Read

Other ordinance bills were disposed of as follows after first reading: Hotel and rooming house bill—Referred to committee on health and police. The bill proposes an annual license of $1, the license expiring December 31 each year. Moral welfare of the city is the main purpose of the measure. It requires the applicant for a license to make his application in person, or if the house is run by a corporation or association the manager is required to make the application.

Ordinance proposing $300 appropriation for maintenance of playgrounds under public playground board—Referred to the ordinance committee.

Ordinance providing annual vacation of two weeks on pay for city employees—Sent to final reading and passed. The ordinance allows annual vacations for all employees of the city after service of not less than six months, with the exception of employees of the street department who are required to have served a year before allowed annual vacations.

The street committee reported that work had been non on South Mill creek to make that stream more sanitary.

Need of 100,000 feet of lumber was reported by the bridge committee for the reconstruction and repair of bridges. The purchase was authorized.

Morris Kilinger was granted permission to erect a steel chimney on a building in the business section.

A. L. MILLS TO TALK IN SALEM

Portland Banker Slated for Address at War Savings Stamp Rally

A special committee consisting of Daniel J. Fry and Oscar B. Gingrich, representing the Salem committee for the war saving stamp campaign went to Portland yesterday for the purpose of interviewing A. L. Mills, president of the First National bank of Portland, to extend to him an invitation to speak at the big rally in the armory Sunday, June 23, at 3 o'clock, when all the workers, including the entire personnel of all teams to take part in the drive will be present together with as many citizens as care to occupy the galleries and extra space on the main floor. Mr. Mills accepted.

Mr. Mills has made a number of speeches on the subject of war saving stamps and his talks have met with popular approval wherever they have been given. A short time ago he spoke in McMinnville and it was necessary to obtain the large armory to accommodate the crowd.

Mr. Mills is a very busy man but told the representatives that if the people of Salem wanted him and thought he should come he would be glad to render the service.

WATCH YOUR STEP! APPEAL NOT NEEDED IN THIS STUNT

"Watch your step" is the mute appeal of Kiddo, performing white horse, and Buster, pony actor, as Floto, a member of the three performing elephant herds with the Sells-Floto Circus, coming to Salem Thursday, June 13, starts his daily stroll, which is a feature of one of the novelty acts with the big show this year. But Floto does not have to be cautioned to mind his tread, for he wouldn't step on his little friends for a box-car full of double-jointed hump back peanuts. Not on your life! Floto is one of the nine Maypote elephants in the big spectacular extravaganza, "The Birth of the Rainbow," which opens the performance in the two-mile street parade all of the characters in the picture are in the long novelty section of the pageant.
