Enemy Gains Foothold
"On the right, the enemy increased his pressure, seeking to gain the Matz valley. Several violent attacks launched against Chevinchon, were repulsed.

"The enemy succeeded in gaining a foothold in Machedon and Bethancourt which were bitterly disputed.

"South of the Ourcq river, the American troops this morning brilliantly captured Belleau wood and took 300 prisoners.

"Our day bombing machines continued their operations June 10, notwithstanding the bad weather, against points of a more exposed nature on the battlefield. Airplane groups flying low dropped projectiles on enemy concentrations, dispersing reinforcing troops and causing considerable losses.

"Certain squadrons made sorties and during the day eight tons of explosives were employed in this manner, giving the best results.

GERMANS REPORT OFFICIALLY
BERLIN, Via. London, June 11.—The official report from headquarters tonight says:

"On the battlefield southwest of Noyon renewed French counter-attacks failed with heaviest losses for the enemy."

The number of prisoners taken by the Germans in the new offensive has increased by more than 10,000, making the aggregate of prisoners taken since May 27 about 75,000, says the German official communication issued today.

The communication adds that the Germans have repulsed, with heavy losses, attacks northwest of Chateau Thierry, in which region American marines and French troops are opposed to them.

The text of the statement reads: "Fighting activity, which has been moderate throughout the day revived only on both sides of the Somme. After the firing had greatly increased, the enemy attacked in the evening between the Ancre and the Somme.

"A local break-through by the enemy on the Corbie-Braye road was brought to a standstill by a counter-attack. On the rest of the front the attack broke down with sanguinary losses.

Hilly Section Claimed.
"During the two storming days the attack by the army of General von Hutier led to the intended results and put us in possession of the hilly district southwest of Noyon. The thrust was directed against the strongest position of the enemy who was deeply echeloned in preparation for the attack. In spite of this the French divisions could not withstand the impetuous shock of our troops.

"Divisions of the French army reserves, who were brought up for centralized counter-attacks also were repulsed yesterday in bitter fighting.

"On the right wing of the attack the troops under General von Oetling maintained the lines which had been captured from the enemy south of Assainvillers against violent counter-attacks.

"The troops of General von Eborn are fighting in the neighborhood of Guercelles and Mery. On both sides of the high road between Roze and Estrees St. Denis they captured the ridge east of Mery, broke through the fourth enemy position and threw him back on the Aronde river.

"In spite of the stubborn army defense, the troops of General von Schoeler fought their way across the Matz and, after storming the heights of Marquessille in an uninterrupted assault as far as Antheuill.

More Prisoners Taken.
"In continuous fighting, General Hoffmann's corps penetrated the enemy's position and entanglements on the heights south of Thiescourt. On the slopes running south to the Oise we pressed forward as far as Ribecourt.

"The number of prisoners has increased by more than 10,000, thus raising the number of prisoners captured by the army group of the German crown prince since May 27 to about 75,000.

"On the front from the Oise to Oise to Rheims the situation is unchanged. Renewed attacks launched by the enemy northwest of Chateau Thierry broke down with heavy losses."

BOYS TO PICK LOGANBERRIES

U. S. Working Reserve Will Establish Two Camps on Ranches Near Salem

Two camps for boys, members of the United States Boys Working Reserve, will be opened within a short time at the Roberts ranch on the Pratum road and at Sunnyside where the youngsters will be engaged in picking loganberries. This is the first big movement of the Salem branch to remedy the labor shortage.

Daily requests for boys are coming into H. N. Aldrich, who is directing this work for the local U. S. A. and a number will be placed immediately upon the closing of school Friday.

The boys are divided into two classes, the seniors, composed of those between the ages of 16 and 21, and the juniors or those from 14 to 16. The latter will be engaged principally in handling the berry crop while the older ones may be sent to shipyards, canneries and farms. They will be under careful supervision and are expected to put in only vacation time. Those who have left the high school already are largely boys who have secured independent positions in the shipyards and in eastern Oregon. About forty have gone.

Mr. Aldrich will probably have the total enrollment of the boys ready within the next day or so and will be in a position to supply workers of all kinds. He feels that all of the parents who have objected to giving permission to their sons who wished to join did not understand that they would be as well taken care of in camps as if they were at home.

NEW DRESSINGS WILL BE MADE

Red Cross Women Prepared to Take Up Work With Sphagnum Moss

All is now in readiness at Willamette chapter's surgical dressing room in the post office for taking up work on the new sphagnum moss pads next week. High school boys have been assisting the Red Cross by placing the drying racks, which they constructed, and have prepared a quantity of the moss already. Preliminary instruction was given last night to all teachers and heads of tables, including five women who came over from Silverton especially for this purpose. Miss Evelyn Klahr will be here from Washington, D. C. Saturday to further aid those who are to have charge in getting this work under way.

The first shipment of forty-five sacks of sphagnum has just been received from Acme and this will be ready to handle Monday. As this substitute for cotton comes packed in wet bales it must be spread on screen frames before it is ready to make into surgical pads. Its extreme absorbency makes it valuable in hospitals.

An illustrated lecture by Professor A. R. Sweetser of Eugene, which was to have been given in the Commercial club rooms tonight, has been called off because the speaker will be unable to be here.

MILES RE-NAMED FOR PRESIDENCY

McNary Advises Prune Association That Government Wants More Fruit

The directors of the Willamette Valley Prune association held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon. B. J. Miles was elected president; H. S. Poisal, vice president; W. T. Jenks, secretary and treasurer. D. M. Crosin and Thomas Moot were elected members of the board.

The report of the secretary showed the affairs of the association in good condition. A dividend of 10 per cent was recently declared to the stockholders.

The growers were generally optimistic with regard to the coming crop and market conditions, it being the sense of the meeting that owing to the fact that the price of labor this season was going to be at least a third higher than has prevailed in the past, the maximum selling price should be set high enough to absorb the increase. The picking price in former years was placed at 5 or 6 cents a bushel, but this year it will probably be placed at 8 cents.

The secretary presented a letter from Senator Charles L. McNary, from which the following is an extract:

"I am pleased to advise you that the government has promised to enter the Oregon field this season and acquire a large quantity of our excellent prunes of this year's crop. They are especially well pleased with the prunes they acquired last year, and the Quartermaster General told me yesterday that he now appreciates their true worth."

Germany Again to Make Declaration of War Aims

LONDON, June 11.—A discussion is taking place between the German government and the high army command regarding a declaration of war aims which the German government will make in the near future, according to a dispatch received by the Central News from Amsterdam quoting advices reaching Holland from Berlin.

The dispatch adds that the program will be discussed with Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister.

ANOTHER PLANE FALLS.

HOUSTON, Texas, June 11.—When an airplane fell at San Leon, aerial gunnery range maintained in connection with Ellington flying field here this afternoon, First Lieutenant Roger Montgomery of Tunica, Miss., instructor in aerial gunnery, was killed and the pilot of the machine, Second Lieutenant William R. Hartline, was slightly bruised.

CAMP LEWIS NOTES

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash., June 11.—Five times today automobile drivers endangered the lives of themselves and passengers and interfered with "attacks" on German advance posts which American infantry were approaching. It was the first time the B. target range was used and the motorists somehow got past the sentries which were guarding all roads and drove directly in the line of fire. They were seen in time and the field telephone flashed the order "stop firing."

A battalion of infantry camped last night on the range and began this morning to put into actual use their training of the parade ground. The targets are placed at unknown distances and must be discovered by the soldiers in the same manner as enemy patrols would be found. One perfect score was made, everyone of its targets receiving at least one direct hit. All the scores were good considering the conditions, officers said. Under actual battle conditions seldom would more than one of the enemy party have escaped alive.

A tented city sprang up into being at Murray, five miles from Camp Lewis, where the Washington national guard was mobilized. It is inhabited by the First infantry, regular army, which came direct from Honolulu, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel E. A. Shuttleworth. There are 1310 officers and men in the new camp and they were a sick lot during most of their nine-day voyage, the men said; few of them being hardened to ocean voyages.

The Camp Lewis quartermaster's department had installed electric lights and connected the water system and the old mess houses are serving the purpose for which they were built.

The Y. M. C. A. was first on the job, equipping an old mess house as a hut and installing writing tables and stationery yesterday. Dozens of men this afternoon were gathered here writing to their friends in the islands. The Y. hut is in charge of W. C. Moore of Portland, who is awaiting orders for overseas service with the association.

Torpedoboats Boldly Attack Two Warships

ROME July 11.—Two Italian torpedoboats attacked boldly two Austrian warships and ten destroyers near the Dalmatian coast on Monday. Two torpedoes were sent into one battleship and one into the other. One of the destroyers which pursued the Italian warships after the encounter was damaged seriously. The Italian vessels returned safely to their base.

One hundred women student of the University of Washington plan to spend their summer vacation in the Yakima valley picking, sorting and packing fruit.

CLOWNS MUST PASS SMILES

AROUND OR STEP OFF SHOW

"Here comes the clowns," say the town folks.

"The joys are at it now," remark the men on the "front door," or main entrance to the circus, and they can tell by the rollicking music of the big show band. People with the show don't have to look into the big top to tell what acts are on—they identify them by the music.

And "joys" are clowns, you know. Nobody knows where they really got the name, but it was an old name before the first American circus in the seventeenth century. With the Sells-Floto circus coming to Salem Thursday, June 13, there are some forty clowns and they all wear full moon smiles just like the chap in the picture. And a clown doesn't last long with this circus if he fails to bring just such smiles to the faces of the grown-ups and full-chested laughs from the kiddies.

In the two-mile street parade the clowns, with their band instruments, ride little Rocky mountain burros, to the great delight of the boys and girls of the land. And the clowns can play, too. In the opening spectacle of the performances, "The Birth of the Rainbow," in which 600 people, including scores of ballet girls and 400 animals take part, the clowns are assigned to the roles of king's jesters in the beautiful groupings and evolutions of the pagan "Sunrise," the world's most beautiful horse, recently bought as a pre-eminent feature from the English royal stables, heads a cavalcade of mounted characters in the spectacular extravaganza.

National and Local Meat Business

The meat business of the country is conducted by various agencies—

By small slaughter-houses in villages—

By local Abattoirs or small Packing Houses in towns—

Using only a part of the local live stock supply and Furnishing only a part of the local demand for meat.

These slaughtering and distributing agencies fill a well defined but necessarily restricted place in the distribution of the products of live stock.

But only packers like Swift & Company, organized on a national scale, are able to undertake the service that is more vitally important, involving

An Obligation to the Producer

To purchase for spot cash all the live stock the producer may send to market for slaughter.

An Obligation to the Consumer

To make available to every consumer, everywhere, in season and out, the full supply and variety of meat products, of the highest standard that the market affords.

Helpful Hints on Banking

One's Affairs Are Private

WHILE a bank will discuss its own functions and operations, it WILL NOT divulge the transactions of one of its depositors. The status of his account—as well as other affairs—remains CONFIDENTIAL.

If you are uncertain about your bank balance—write or call for the required information. Signatures are a matter of record—and faces seldom mistaken. But a voice over the telephone is not sufficiently reliable.
