SACRED HEART ACADEMY HAS 9 GRADUATES

Fifty-Fifth Annual Commencement of Salem Institution Is Held.

CANTATAS ARE GIVEN

Tribute to Teachers and Pupils Is Paid by Rev. Bernard Murphy.

Prominent among the commencement events of the season in Salem was the fifty-fifth annual commencement of Sacred Heart academy, held in the high school auditorium Thursday night. True to the high standards established by the faculty of the academy, it was an event of great interest, and a source of much pleasure to music lovers.

The leading feature in this part of the program was the beautiful cantata entitled "The Garden of Flowers" which was presented in excellent form by the academic vocal class. This will not be soon forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be present. Numbers by the stringed quartet were also particularly enjoyable.

Of striking interest and spiritual import was the recitation "The Call of the Christ" presented by a number of the students with Miss Mary Lebold at the harp.

Rev. Bernard Murphy delivered a very instructive address on the beauties of convent education and refinement, in course of which he paid a glowing tribute to the teachers and pupils of the school. The air of patriotism that pervaded the entire evening was doubly emphasized by closing the performance with the singing of the national anthem.

Following is the list of graduates: Modern Language Course—Anna Mildred Berndorfer, Salem; Clara Maddalen Doerfler, Shaw; Frances Marion Doerfler, Silverton; Wilhelmina Dorothy Doerfler, Silverton; Eleanor Margaret Huckestein, Salem. DANGERS OF CONSTIPATION

Neglected constipation may cause piles, ulceration of the bowels, appendicitis, nervous prostration, paralysis. Don't delay treatment. Best remedy is Foley's Cathartic Tablets. Do their work surely, easily gently, without injury to stomach or intestinal lining. Contain no habit-forming drugs. Fine for fat folks. J. C. Perry.

Under the ruling of Director General McAdoo women employed in railroad work are assured of receiving equal pay with men for equal work.

The Young Women's Christian association, out of its four million dollar budget, has appropriated $200,000 for war work among colored women.

Mayor Connell of Scranton, Pa. has issued an order forbidding the girls of that town from kissing the soldier boys as they pass through on the troop trains.

POLK TIMBER THREATENED BY FIRES IN WOOD

Two Flat Cars Are Destroyed on Tracks of Valley Lumber Company.

HIGH TOWER IS BUILT

Gives View of Entire Wooded Section—County Is Well Patrolled.

DALLAS, June 12.—(Special to The Statesman)—Forest fires so far this year are threatening some of the valuable timber in western Polk county. Supervising Fire Warden W. V. Fuller reports that the first of the week a fire in the vicinity of Rock Rock burned two flat cars and threatened the destruction of a bridge on the logging road of the Willamette Valley Lumber company's holdings. Only the prompt action of a fire fighting gang saved the structure from complete destruction.

The fires to date have been confined to slashings only but with the continued dry weather some of the flames are bound to get into adjacent green timber unless corralled.

Mr. Fuller and a gang of men have about finished the construction of a high lookout tower on the summit of Bald mountain which rises some 2700 feet west of Falls City. From this station it will be possible for the fire warden to obtain a clear view of the vast timbered section of the entire western part of the county and with telephone connections in the tower he can notify wardens throughout the district of any fires he may discover.

Polk county is without doubt one of the best patrolled counties in the state and Mr. Fuller has had trails cut in every direction through the timber to allow quick travel in case of fires.

British Vessel Fights

tacked last night off the Virginia coast by a German submarine, passed safely through the Virginia capes today apparently not damaged seriously, if at all.

Naval officials here were informed of the ship's arrival, but had no account of her experience with the raider.

At least one of the German submarines operating off the American coast is camouflaged so as to present at a distance the appearance of an ordinary freighter, according to Captain Bratland, master of the Norwegian steamer Vinland, one of the raider's victims.

ONE COURT IS PLAN THAT MAY BE CONSIDERED

Judge Carey of Law Reform Committee to Draw Scheme for Legislature.

One general court for the entire state of Oregon, embracing the functions of all present courts and presided over by a chief justice may be the judicial scheme presented for consideration of the next session of the legislature by the committee on law reform appointed at the session of 1917. The one-court plan has approval of most of the seven members of the committee and it has been left with Judge Charles H. Carey of Portland, chairman of the committee to formulate into a report and submit to the committee at a future meeting.

The committee on law reform was appointed by the last legislature to investigate and report to the next assembly a plan for the revision and improvement of judicial administration, practice and procedure, with a view to simplification, and to reduce the expense and delay of litigation and to promote the certainty of justice in the courts. Members of the committee serve without pay. They are Charles H. Carey, Portland; W. D. Fenton, Portland; E. R. Bryson, Eugene; Justice George H. Burnett, Salem; Ben Selling, Portland; Judge Percy R. Kelly, Albany, and Alfred S. Bennett, The Dalles.

Few Meetings Held. But one meeting of the committee, attended by all members, has been held. That was about a year ago. At another meeting last fall three members were present. Several judicial administration changes, coming within the scope of duty outlined for the committee by the legislature, were suggested by different members, but discussions were confined mainly to the one-court plan.

Under the one-court plan, all courts in the state, from the lowest to the highest, would be presided over by the chief justice. Department would doubtless be created, it is explained, with police courts, justice of the peace courts, county courts and circuit courts placed in their proper departments. As presiding official, the chief justice would have authority to assign any judge to any court in the state of the department in which he would be accustomed to sit, while circuit judges would sometimes be assigned to sit with the supreme court. The chief justice would not busy himself with hearing arguments or writing opinions. His whole duty would be that of executive officer of the court.

Would Distribute Work. The committee does not propose to ask the legislature to legislate out of office any judges holding positions under the present system. Under the existing system the main defect in judicial administration is that judges are not available for the great mass of work. In some parts of the state, it is said, the circuit judges do not have enough to keep them busy, while in other parts of the state, particularly in Multnomah county, the number of judges is insufficient to take care of the work.

In the supreme court a congestion of work exists most of the time, but the condition as far as hastening litigation is concerned would not be improved by increasing the personnel of the supreme court, it is said, for the reason that every justice is supposed to peruse every case appealed to that tribunal.

Under the one-court plan, allowing the chief justice power to assign any judge to any court that might need him because of a congestion of work, much time could be saved before the cases reached the supreme court. While much has been written on the one-court plan by students of judicial procedure, the scheme has not been tried fully in any state.
