Osborne Fire Finder Proves of Great Value

PORTLAND, Or., June 19.—The Osborne fire finder has been adopted by the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture as standard equipment for lookout stations on the national forests of the country, according to a letter received by District Forester George H. Cecil from the forests at Washington. This fire finder, the invention of Forest Examiner William B. Osborne, Jr., of Portland, has been tried out successfully on the summit of Mt. Hood and at numerous other lookout stations in various parts of the North Pacific district for several seasons. Fires more than fifty miles distant have been accurately located from Mt. Hood by means of the instrument.

More than 350 fire finders now are in use and it is planned eventually to equip all the more important lookout points on the national forests which have suitable housing facilities, with them. The instrument complete costs about $48.

In addition to its use by the federal forest service, the fire finder is used by the Canadian forest service and a number of associations of private timber and land owners in their fire protective work in various parts of the West.

Foresters in various parts of the world have shown their interest in the instrument by writing to the district forester for information about it. One request for information was received recently from the conservator of forests of Australia.

FAKIR STOCK VENDER HERE

Commissioner Schulderman Is on Trail of Operators in Oregon.

H. J. Schulderman ,state corporation commissioner, is hot on the trail of a certain sauve and clever vender of corporation stock who has been making illegitimate sales of shares in companies that are said to be of questionable character. Schulderman is grimly determined to catch his man and believes he will have him located in a short time. The flitting salesman has been heard of in Portland, Salem and other cities and among those to whom he has sold stock are prominent Portland business men who, Mr. Schulderman says, ought to know better.

A trick of this particular salesman is to dispose of the stock and then promise certain discounts on goods handled by the company he claims to represent if his victims will pay down on the shares purchased.

Other quack stock salesmen also are operating in the state, the commissioner says. Schulderman gives no names of persons he believes to have been bilked, nor the names of corporations the agents claim to represent. He says, however, that oil and minig stocks are being mailed in from outside the state and disposed of in Oregon. Some of the agents are believed to be fakirs of the first water. Others are said to represent companies that may have been in good standing at some time in the past, but, now insolvent, are attempting to evade the corporation commissioner, realizing that they would be refused permits to operate in the state if they applied to that official.

The method of the salesmen is to remain a short time in each town, selling a few shares of stock, then jump to another place and finally out of the state before they can be apprehended.

"These men are usually very clever," said Schulderman yesterday, "and gullible persons buy their so-called stock without a thought of investigation. I want the people to know that this office is here to investigate such concerns and persons thinking of buying stock should find out here whether they have permits to operate."

HEAT SENDS UP CHICAGO GRAIN

Corn and Oats Strong on Drought Damage in Central West.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Hot weather and drought impairing the promise of a record-breaking crop of oats had a conspicuous part today in forcing sharply higher prices on grain. The close was strong with corn up 1⅞ to 2⅞c net at $1.45⅞ to $1.46 for July, and $1.47⅞ for August. Oats gained ⅞ to 3 c, and provisions 20 to 65c.

Oats took the leadership away from corn, both as to volume of business and as to upturns in value. The principal bullish factor was the government weekly report which showed that actual damage had been done in Kansas, Missouri and Montana, and that rain was needed in some of the central states. Inasmuch as heretofore prices had been virtually based on a perfect crop outlook, buying on a big scale developed and the advance received additional impetus from export purchasing. Besides, arrivals were scanty and consignment notices indicated but little likelihood of any immediate increase. Under such circumstances reactins proved unimportant, and the market closed at the topmost level of the day.

Corn sympathized with the advance in oats, although no injury to corn was mentioned in the government advices. On the other hand, however, expectations were for decreased receipts of corn.

Provisions rose with grain, despite weakness of hogs.

SAFE AND SANE FOURTH OBJECT

Fire Marshal Tells Mayors of Danger of Clandestine Work by Enemies.

State Fire Marshal Wells has sent a letter to all Oregon mayors urging them to prohibit the sale and use of firecrackers and fireworks for use in Fourth of July celebrations. Numerous requestes have been received by the fire marshal asking that this be done. His letter follows:

"This department is making a special appeal to the mayors of Oregon to assist in the waging of a campaign for a safe and sane Fourth of July.

"Action along this line is particularly desirable at this time, because of the advantage some persons might be disposed to take of this opportunity, under the guise of a patriotic demonstration, to inflict untold damage on property and war supplies by explosions resulting in disastrous fires.

"In line with this appeal and in harmony with the action taken by other mayors of the state, you are respectfully urged to issue a proclamation prohibiting the sale and use of fire-works of all discriptions whatsoever, in celebration of this Independence day.

"Your cooperation will contribute largely to the protection of all food supplies, wa materials and other necessities necessary to suport our boys in France."

What a splendid army of young men who have become of age since June 1917, and have registered for service. The War of the Rebellion was fought and won by men under 21 years of age. Hundreds of thousands are now eager to join in the battle for the civilization of the world.
