THE OREGON STATESMAN

Issued Daily Except Monday by THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY 215 S. Commercial St., Salem, Oregon.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein

DAILY STATESMAN, served by carrier in Salem and suburbs, 15 cents a week, 50 cents a month.

DAILY STATESMAN, by mail, $6 a year; $3 for six months; 50 cents a month. For three months or more, paid in advance, at rate of $5 a year. SUNDAY STATESMAN, $1 a year; 50 cents for six months; 25 cents for

WEEKLY STATESMAN, issued in two six-page sections, Tuesdays and Fridays, $1 a year; (if not paid in advance, $1.25); 50 cents for six months; 25 cents for three months.

TELEPHONES:

Business Office, 23 Circulation Department, 583. Job Department, 583.

Entered at the Postoffice in Salem, Oregon, as second class matter.

WELL DONE, GALLANT ITALY!

"For Romans in Rome's quarrel Spared neither land nor gold, Nor son nor wife, nor limb nor life, In the brave days of old."

That same Roman spirit still lives among the sons of Italy in these braver modern days. The glory that was Rome is Rome again in fuller measure. In this last tremendous shaping and rough-hewing of human destinies Italy has been assigned an important part, and she s filling that part, just as the spirits of her bygone heroes and the hearts of her oncoming allies expected of her, with courage, confi- man type can not understand that dence and unswerving determination.

For the second time within the last nine months the massed hordes of the Goths and Vandals and the Huns have attempted to break through the lines of steel that keep from their covetous grasp the art treasures of the ages at Venice, in Florence, in Padua and Milan; that protect the homes of the peasants in Southern France from the tomatic and a couple of clips of carttalons of the baby-killers; that save from pillage and loot and robbery the rich agricultural plains of Venetia and Lombardy.

This second attempt to overwhelm our brave and gallant Latin ally has turned out more disastrously for the polyglot troops of Austria than did the great smash launched against Italy last November. On that occasion the combined German and Austrian armies advanced their lines from the Isonzo to the Piave river. This success for his long, muzzle-loading rifle. was not obtained, however, by straight fighting. It sprang from the and when he asked for another she undermining of the morale of the Italian Second Army on the Cenca exclaimed: "Why, we don't need Piezzo through pacifist propaganda sepread by Hun spies disguised two bar."

So splendid has been the resistance of the Italian army, so great the havor wroght among the massed forces of the enemy, so disas. the enemy know you are coming is trous for the Central European Allies the effect of this costly failure not in accord with his concepts of the on the civil population of Austria already in a state bordering on revolution, that from the historic Piave River may conceivably be launched the final blow of the allied friends of freedom; and so to chine gun and a wheelbarrow load gallant Italy be afforded the place of honor in starting the final of- of ammunition he could wipe the fensive that shall sweep through Vienna and carry the Allied armies Prussian army out of existence and to Berlin. And such is the great ambition of the Italian leaders, who are asking the support of their brothers in arms, with a prophecy of ending the war this year.

Italy has suffered more through her decision to battle with the forces of civilization than many of her allied friends are aware of. For a long time short of raw material and the sinews of war, she carried on an unequal struggle against her two powerful antagonists. That was before the necessity of unified Allied command had been driven home to the statesmen of the democratic nations. But Italy never complained, never relaxed her efforts; and her reward came when America entered the lists and under her guidance the Entente Cordiale became at last a real armed and solid alliance. We see the not improbable fulfillment of Italy's hopes and sacrifices in the spectacle of the Roman and the American legions marching side by side and shoulder to shoulder to the last decisive battle of the world.

removed from the possibilities of the war. Maybe so; but history relates that the efforts have not been a suc-

Scotland twice and Ireland once, but rather than what they brought with them. Napoleon had in mind the invasion of England but he did not at-

ALL INCLUSIVE.

The governor of California in a speech recently defined three kinds

A friend at the writer's elbow says

There was once a very homely women who was said to be "as pretty as she could be" because no matter

The I. W. W., try as he might.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

we had government ownership we should have lower rates and better is not better, rates are higher, and roads; the total sum would be startling had we not become accustomed to great public expenditures in other ways. The money we have caused railroads to waste in combatting the mean, vicious and foolish legislation, properly expended, would have put the properties on their feet. All the public utilities have been attacked in Well, we have what amounts to any prettier than she was.

worse than an I. W. W.

of traitors, one being the I. W. W.

be any more traitorous than he is.

tempt to carry it out.

No Italian will ever again be a of the island has by no means been Dago, in the United States.

Salem is again surprising herself, in the drive for war savings stamps.

Kuehlmann, Germany's foreign minister, wants Germany at the end of the war to have overseas possesions corresponding to her greatness. Some one will move to give her Pata-

Foreign Minister Von Kuehlmann of Germany says the end of the war can hardly be expected through military decisions alone and without reourse to diplomatic negotiations. Yes; there will have to be a peace conference. But there are growing indications that Germany will not have a great deal to say authoritatively in that conference. (Which Kuehlmann foresees).

"Somewhere in Germany," a good many Sammies up in Lorraine can now date their letters, and "somewhere" in Germany is going to be the date line of incrasing numbers of the missives of our Yankee soldiers. France is growing too crowded, any way.

Nobody is worrying these red-letter days how General Foch pronounces his name.

The American aviators on the Italian front will now be fighting above the clours over the Alps. That is an inspiring thought, the government has already advanced Colonel Repington warns England tremendous amounts to the railthat a German attempt at invasion

FUTURE DATES

June 27, Thursday—District Conven-tion Royal Neighbors of America. June 29, Saturday.—Home-coming July 1. Monday-"Work or fight" gulations become effective. July 4. Thursday.—Races at State July 6. Saturday—Republican State the same way, and are suffering in Inly 6 to 14—Annual convention of the same way, and are suffering in Christian church at Turner.

August 26, 27 and 28—Western Walnut Growers' Association to tour nut bave overdone it; we are like the

-James W. Nye-died at 62; one-Eugene Casserly-died at 63; one-H. W. Corbettt-died at 76; two-W. M. Stewart and S. B. Axtell died at 83; two-G. H. Williams/and Joseph S. Smith-died at 87; J. A. Johnson was living in 1911, aged father who, instead of fairly and intelligently correcting his son, beats him brutally, causes the boy to run off, and himself to feel shame and

In my state alone (Kansas) the increase in railroad rates proposed by the government administrators will cost the people more than $28,-

The fools did it; and they are threatening in a number of other

OLD-TIMERS.

(Los Angeles Times).

Of six senators and five congressmen who represented California, Or-ways.-E. Howe's Monthly.

000,000 annually.

now at the age of 80; and one-Cor- age to hide the patches on his pants? nelius Cole-is living now at the age But possibly they are not where we of 96. Both of the latter two are residents of Los Angeles, which circumstance accounts for their length

SHOOTING STRAIGHT.

The soldier of the American plainssort of efficiency which permits the put a single enemy out of a job.

He was accustomed to making ev. Cincinnati authority. ery shot count and if he had an auany Custer massacre.

He is of the brand of the old frontiersman who told his spouse that he guessed he'd go and get a grizzly bear. The wife gave him one bullet surrounding tissue.

This idea of touching off a couple of carloads of shot and shell to let fighting game.

He thinks if he had a modern maget back by milking time.

Of course he is a bit of a back number, but there can be no denying that the army that can shoot the straightest and conserve its munitions best will make the strongest showing in the finals.

Ammunition is mighty expensive stuff, whether it is being bought for a Fourth of July celebration or a

FIVE MILLION INSIGNIFICANT.

(From the Scientific American).

One year ago the strength of the American army was 212,034; today it is 1,652,725. Our population is conceded to be 100,000,000 for purposes of discussion. So in spite of cess. The Stuart pretenders reached the heavy increase which we have scored for our armies, we have put Steusloff and Dr. and Mrs. W. S. they relied upon the military help but 1.6 per cent of our numbers in Mott. of their partisans within the island uniform.

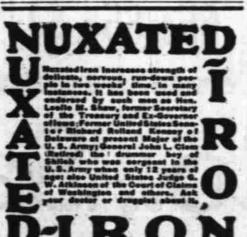

Yet we talk of supreme efforts in terms of a "gigantic" army of five

May we not well pause to realize that before we shall have equaled the performance of the thirteen original colonies we shall have increased | nic grove, this figure by half; that before we shall have put ourselves on a par with the beaten Confederacy we shall have doubled it?

May we not give thought to the that if the I. W. W. were all the fact that in order to put forth an efthree kinds put together he couldn't fort duplicating that of the North, we must raise an army of thirteen and a half million men!

It is absurd to look with complacence upon the insignificant military how hard she tried, she couldn't be aid which the average American has in his mind when he contemplates our share in the great war. There could never possibly be anything are plenty of people now living who fought in the Civil war; plenty more who lived through it. If we would but remind ourselves that before we shall have equaled The excuse for persecuting rail- the achievement of their generation, roads has always been government we must still put eleven and a half ownership; we have argued that if million troops in the field, perhaps we should look with less complacence upon what we have done, and with less misgivings upon the raising of the next million, or the million: government ownershop The service after that.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Fair and warmer.

Though it is warm enough al-

. . . Salem is piling up herWar Savings Stamps sales. Though there is some jog ahead yet. * * *

The cherries are being picked, by the ber people in the world.

. . 5 Von Kuehlmann, Germany's foreign secretary, lays the onus for starting the war on Russia, with France and Great Britain next in order culpable. Which brands him as an international ass, is anything was necessary to so brand any one egon and Nevada in the Firty-first in the official family of Germany. congress (1869-1871) one-A. A. Germany started the war, and every-Sargent-died at the age of 60; one body in the world knows nt. The Germans know it better than anyone > Patriotic kids! Thousands of 'em in this country are going barefooted in order to conserve shoe leather.

5 5 5 If the overcoats are to be made shorter this winter, how will Direct-82; one—Thomas Fitch—is living or-General Secretary McAdoo manthink they are.-Los Angeles Times.

NO TRICK TO LIFT A CORN RIGHT OUT

Says There is No Excuse for Cutting Corns and Inviting Lockjaw.

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers use of about a ton of ammunition to if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce ridges there would never have been is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This simple drug, while sticky. dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

M f t. Dan J. Fry. Sr., was a host-ess for the members of the Priscilla club and their families last night at an ejoyable lawn party on the spacious grounds of the Fry hill residence. The entire time was passed out of doors and a picnic repast was served. The occasion was also the birthday anniversary of little Miss Priscilla Fry, the young daughter of the hostess. The gathering will be the last to be held by this club for the summer.

Those present were the Fry family Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craig and daughter Benice, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eppley and daughter Hortense, Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Webb and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mevers and children. Mr. and Mrs. A. Waln and son Keane Mr. and Mrs. Al Brown, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East and daughter Miss Gertrude East, Mr. and Mrs. Fred

Miss Pauline Liska will be the soloist at the patriotic celebration on July 4, in Eugene. Miss Liska has been singing this summer in Willson park with the Salem band. She will be accompanied to Eugene by the Cherrian band. The concert and solo numbers wil lbe given in a pic-

Miss Nell Hay, a teacher in the Grant school, is in Portland for a summer vacation.

Accompanied by her two children, Margaret and Charles Paul, Jr., Mrs. Charles Ohling (Margaret Poisal) of Seattle has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Poisal. Mrs. Ohling also visited in Albany. 분 분

Mrs. S. Jessup of Boise, Idaho. has gone to Roseburg for a several weeks' stay. Mrs. Jessup has been in Salem for about a month as the guest of Mrs. Frederick Stewart and other friends and relatives. She will return to this city before leaving for her home.

Mrs. H. B. Allen of Wichita, Kan. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Gerald Volk for the summer.

Mrs. James Elvin returned yesterday from Seattle, where she passed a ten-day sojourn with Seattle

Miss Prudence Goodhue of Portland is passing several days in Salem as the guest of Miss Emma Godgret, 405 North Liberty street.

Eric P. Bolt, a former student of Willamette university, claimed Miss Elsie L. Kreig as his bride, June 22 at the home of her parents at Waterloo, Oregon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard N. Avison. Mr. Bolt has charge of the Y. M. C. A. barracks at Vancouver, Wash.

Preparatory to the groom's leaving for an officer's training camp in Georgia, Miss Lois Ashby and Henry C Richter, both of Portland, have been married there. Mr. Richter is remembered by many Salem people as he is a graduate of Oregon Agricultural College. He has recently yielded to the impulse to leave eybeen doing Y. M. C. A. work,

MAKE HIS DREAMS COME TRUE—BUY WAR SAVING STAMPS

Last night American soldiers, sleeping in the desolation of France, dreamed of victory-of America safe, free and happy.

They have left the comforts of life to fight the Huns. To help stamp out of the minds of the Huns forever their ideas of world dominion.

You must back them up. Loan your dollars to the government. Buy War Savings Stamps-$4.17 during Ju ne.

ROUSING BARGAINS

at THE BIG CLOSING OUT SALE

Dress Goods Closing Out Prices Silks at Closing Out Prices

Silk Gloves Old Prices Splendid Qualities

Clothes Brushes Hair Brushes and Combs Closing Out Prices

Women's Silk and Lingerie Waists at Reduced Prices Women's Purses and Umbrellas at Reduced Prices

Women's Muslin Underwear at Reduced Prices Embroideries, Laces and Collars at Reduced Prices

One Assortment of Purses

Linings

at

Old Prices

Buttons

Closing Out

Prices

45

$9.50 Purses $2.50 $8.00 Purses $2.00 $6.00 Purses $1.50 $4.00 Purses $1.25 $2.75 Purses 75c

Revelations of a Wife

The Story of a Honeymoon

A Wonderful Romance of Married Life Wonderfully Told by ADELE GARRISON well at first sight held her single reference out to me with pride shin- over critically. ing in her eyes. I took it and drew from the envelope a sheet of notepaper whose appearance betokened the belongings of a well-bred womna. I unfolded it and read:

"The bearer of this, Katie Slovinsky, has been in my employ as general housekeeper for a year. She leaves me only because I am compelled to go South on account of illness. She is a good cook, laundress and general worker, neat, strictly at me. honest, willing and obliging. For a mistress who can understand her temperament she will make a most valuable maid.

"SARAH S. CLARKE. "The Aberdeen, Tuesday, Jan. 12." I could read between the lines of this letter. I had dealt with many girls of Katie's type in my teaching days. I knew the childish temper. the irritatting curiosity, the petty icalousy, the familiarity which one not understanding would deem impertinence, with which I wold have to contend if I engaged her. But the two other applicants for my work whom I had seen, the half-drunken virago of yesterday, and the grim vision of today, decided me. would try this eager girl if her terms were reasonable.

"What wages do you wish?" "Twenty-five dollars a month." Then she looked at me shrewdly.

"Perhaps, bimeby, if I suit you. you give me $28?" "Perhaps," I returned non-committally. "You wish every other Sunday and Thursday off, I sup-"Oh! yes, missis, if you please, missis."

"When can you come?" She laughed gleefully, displaying a set of beautiful white teeth.

"Right now, this meenit. See I brought my work dress, my apron. my cap, right here." She lifted a bundle wrapped in paper which I had seen in her lap. "You like me to wear cap? I look nice in She smiled coquettishly.

"Of course," I answered. "And I will give you a trial for a week. You may come out into the kitchen now, and I will show you where things are, and tell you about din-

As I preceded her into the kitchen I had a sudden qualm. I knew Dicky's fastidious taste, and that underneath all his good natured unconventionality he had rigid ideas of his own upon some topics. I happened to remember that nothing made him so nervous and irritable as bad service in a restaurant. His idea of a good waiter was a welltrained automaton with no eyes or ears. How would he like this enthusiastic girl? It was too late now, however. I was committed to a week of her service.

As we entered the kitchen I was again glad that before I left it the night before I had put everything in order. I had been tempted to leave it in disorder when Dicky had made the scene about Jack's letter but my own natural methodical self had triumphed over my emotions. I would have been twice humfliated if I had erything. Dicky had scrutinized it in the morning, when my headache | an unused closet. "You may keep The maid whom I had liked so was so bad I could not arise, and keep your things here. I shall want "Nice kitchen," she said smilingly.

> "Yes, and I hope you will keep it looking nice." Her face clouded a little. "I al-ways keep my kitchen nice," correctly. I saw that she would be like a child in her resentment of critleisms or suggestions. "Here are your cooking utensils," Her face was a blank as she looked

"Thigs to cook with," I explained. might as well get into the vernacular first as last. I reflected grimly.

yes, missis - what your name? I forget what the letter said. "Graham, Mrs. Graham," I re-"Please call me that." "Oh! yes, Missis Graham, I find 'em all. You just say, Katie, here kitchen, here cooking things, here dishes, here dining room, here meat. beg-e-tables-dessert to cook. I If I no find, I ask."

Her enthusiasm was grateful, but her manner held something of shooing me out of my own kitchen. She was evidently a most energetic person. She had undone her bundle while we were talking, and produced a very neat striped gingham working dress, a gingham work apron and a white apron and cap.

"See, Missis Graham, I put on first my dress, then my white apron and cap, then my gingham apron over all. If the door bell rings I enatch off apron-so-I then parlor maid. Where I change?" laughed gaily.

"Right here." lopened the door of room here."

Her face fell, "I can sleep out. yes, if you have no room. But $ no like to. I think you nice lady. I like be all time in your house. Maybe after while you get bigger she said seriously. I had read her flat room for me?" "Perhaps," I answered smiling. She was really irristible.

'What you want for dinner?' Are things here?" "No. I shall have to order them. did not see the marketman this morning, for I was ill. We will have a small pot roast of beef-Mr. Graham is very fond of that-with a horsergdish sauce, potatoes cooked with the meat, some spinach, not, creamed, simply chopped, with pleaty of butter and seasoning, and a the table." "No dessert tonight; just cheese and coffee. You do not want too find everything. I fix. If I no much to do your first dinner. will telephone for the things now." Lturned away.

lettuce and green pepper salad. Mr.

Graham will make the dressing at

But she plucked at my stees. "No telephone. Wait. the market?? I go get. Those grocerymen they cheat you when you telephone, no give nice things. charge so-o much."

Right there I decided to keep Katie if Dicky could possibly stand her. Perhaps I could tone her down. I had heard so much of the lazy, uninterested, extravagant maids of which some of my friends had been obliged to contend that Katie's enthusiasm charmed me. .

(To be continued)

Helpful Hints on Banking Should Accident Befall NOTHER way in which a "joint" bank -account between members of a family carries a benefit is in case death should suddenly overtake the head of the household. In such an event the survivor or survivors would have access to the bank balance without legal process. Time, trouble and expense are thereby oft times eliminated.

Joint bank accounts may be opened here at the United States National Bank in the names of husband and wife-and other members of the family if

Oregon