Big Car of Flour— Another carload of flour—a big one, aggregating about 80,000 pounds, was in the process of filling yesterday, and may be started on its way to France today. From the districts outside of Salem it is estimated that 125 barrels will be turned back.

Masons Hold Joy Meeting— The representatives of the local Masonic lodge who attended the recent anniversary of the lodge at Silverton brought back reports of a royal good time, the hospitality of the hosts being equalled by the quality of the viands served up at the banquet. Two excellent addresses were given by Judge Burnett and F. E. Callister. In giving the history of the past half century it was noted that W. S. Dunnigan was the first master of the Silverton lodge, John N. Davis, first senior warden, and F. C. Shaw first junior warden. Master Klensorge of the present lodge, has recently been commissioned a first lieutenant of the medical corps, and is soon to leave for a war camp.

Uniforms Are Issued— Monday night the new uniforms were issued at the armory to Company G of the Oregon Guards, and last night a group of officers composed of Major A. A. Hall, Lieutenant M. L. Myers, Lieutenant E. T. Choate and Sergeant Simeral drove over to Silverton with the uniforms for the company at that place. Needless to say, the natty uniforms not only give the men a fine appearance, but serve to inject interest and zest into their drill work. On Friday evening it is planned to have the first uniformed drill of the entire Salem battalion.

Irrigation for 1918— For the purpose of trying to make the irrigation service more satisfactory the city will be divided into two districts so that each district will get the full service of the plant upon the day it irrigates.
The plan is to have the houses which bear even numbers on the streets irrigate only on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday, and the houses which bear odd numbers on the streets irrigate only on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. This plan will permit every house to irrigate four days out of each week.
The purpose of the Water Company in furnishing water for irrigation is not to furnish all the water a person can run through the hose in the six irrigation hours every day, but to furnish enough water to keep the lawn in condition. To use more than enough is a waste. We will pump the usual amount of water and hope to furnish it more satisfactorily.—Salem Water Light & Power Co.

Interest on the bonds is due mainly in January and July each year.

"Harry Up and Pay," is Call to Corporations
Annual reports and certificates of payment of license fees on file in the office of Corporation Commissioner H. J. Schulderman show that foreign corporations operating in Oregon are more prompt in making their reports and paying up their licenses than are the domestic companies. This is unusual. Mr. Schulderman says, and the reason is not apparent, since most domestic corporations in Oregon are in prosperous condition.
Corporations, both foreign and domestic, have only until July 1 to file reports and pay their license fees.

Dog Family Rescued
One convict rescued a tiny dog and a few week-old puppies from the middle of the grove and from death. They were the pets of the camp and presented a pathetic sight as they lay in the roadside whimpering through throats choked with dense smoke.
The fire came almost to the main bunkhouses, but hard work on the part of the convicts saved them from destruction. The fire was considered under control late yesterday afternoon, the only danger being left being from a heavy wind, veering in another direction than that which had been blowing throughout the day.

Adventists Arrange for Another Campaign Here
Evangelist Phil C. Hayward of the Seventh Day Adventist church who was in Salem last summer at the head of the Hayward-Johnson company, with a tent in Marion park, was in the city yesterday completing arrangements for the opening of another evangelistic campaign here this summer. He states that he will bring with him a larger and stronger company than he had last year. Most prominent among these will be Rev. L. K. Dickson who, besides possessing a pleasing singing voice, is a strong lecturer on prophetic subjects.
Mr. Hayward is deeply interested in all necessary war activities, and one of the features of his work is to arouse the Christian element in the community to a sense of its duty to the government in this great time of need. He said: "The Seventh Day Adventist church feels deeply the righteousness of our cause in this war, and the very purpose for which God ordained civil governments will be defeated unless everyone meets the evils of Hunish intrigue with every recourse at their command."
A very desirable central location for pitching the big 50 by 90 foot canvas pavilion has been secured and it is expected that the meetings will begin early in the month of July.

There ever was a time in the history of the world when Life Insurance meant so much to humanity.
We must "win the war"—we should protect our "loved ones."

Y. M. C. A. Workers Are Not in Insurance Plan

Persons assigned to war work with the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross or kindred organizations in the war cannot secure insurance under the government plan. State Insurance Commissioner Harvey Wells says in reply to inquiries addressed to his office. The government's plan of life insurance applies only to enlisted men in the federal service.
"It has been reported, however," says Mr. Wells, "that recently a group of life insurance companies have agreed to issue policies on the lives of those entering in the work of the above mentioned organizations for a single additional premium of $25 per thousand, which is to cover the war risk, and is in addition to the regular premium."
Explanation is made that on all regular plans of insurance issued by these companies to eligible applicants risks will be accepted. The charge cannot be made on policies issued before the beginning of the war. Most policies that were in effect when the war began are incontestable.

Librarians Face Problem of Housing Camp Workers

More women are needed as camp librarians, but there are obstacles in the way of their employment, according to Dr. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., in charge of the library work of the American Library Association since the war, the increase of women as librarians in the camp libraries of the country would be desirable, but the lack of overnight accommodations for the women in camps makes it impracticable. The greatest rush on the resources of the camp library comes in the evening, after the women assistants have gone back to town.
Camp Upton, on Long Island, is to have a junior league house, which will accommodate two women librarians, who will assist in the cantonment's library. In Oregon Miss Cornelia Marvin and Miss Mary Ison sevice have been put in charge of library work at special military posts, such as Vancouver Barracks, where they directly administer library service. Everywhere throughout the country local town librarians are co-operating to the greatest extent with the libraries of the cantonment nearest them.
Camp Kearney has the largest circulation of books to the soldiers of any in the country.

MAIN SHOEMAKER Tired All Time. Did Not Want to Work, How He Regained Strength.
Sanford, Main.—"I suffered so much from a run-down, nervous condition and stomach trouble that I never felt like working and had tried almost everything without relief. The first bottle of Vinol however helped me and it has built me up so I feel better now than I have for a long time."—Chester D. Haines.
There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones, and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics. Emil A. Schaefer and Druggists everywhere.

National Guard Auxiliary to Be Formed in Hawaii

HONOLULU, T. H., June 9.— (By Mail)—Hawaii is to have a national guard auxiliary now that the two infantry regiments of the guard have been called to federal service. Plans for the creation of the auxiliary have been announced by Major Will Payne, adjutant general of the territory, for a new regiment to be organized. A call for 1500 recruits has been issued while 250 more are sought for other branches of the guard.
It is desired to organize two companies of coast artillerymen and a signal corps company.
A number of guard officers on the reserve list will be called to service to assist the organization.
Men in Class 1 of the draft will not be accepted as the draft call is expected this month. It is planned to give class 2 men active military training so that they will be prepared for service if Class 2 is called to the colors.
The new organization will be called only in vital emergencies.

Serbian Leave Salem to Fight Against Huns

Twenty Serbians in charge of an officer of the Serb army left here last night for Portland and ultimately will leave for their native country to battle against the Huns. The men were all from Camp No. 8 of the Silver Falls company and said that others of their nationality were being recruited in Washington state and in Canada. About 1000 Serbians will be gathered from the Pacific coast. When the Serbians left here on an Oregon Electric train they had the windows of the cars decorated with American flags.

Lime Board Continues to Await Official Action

Upon returning from Corvallis yesterday where he attended a meeting of the state lime board, Warden Murphy of the state penitentiary, ex-officio member of the board, said that the members will await action of the state emergency board before deciding what immediate disposition is to be made of the state lime industry at Gold Hill. The emergency board, which is to meet some time in July, will be given another opportunity to declare a deficiency in the lime board fund to provide money for completion and operation of the Gold Hill plant.

Rooks Around Camp Made Granade Practise Targets

CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Wash., June 25.—A use has been found for the rocks which are so numerous in certain parts of the cantonment.
They are used in giving the men their first hand grenade drills.
There are any number of rocks of approximately the size of the hand grenade and the men must be taught how to throw this modern implement of warfare. Frequently big groups of men can be seen in the parade grounds just back of the division headquarters learning the proper manner of throwing them.
The baseball player can find in hand grenade throwing something that approximates his favorite pastime, but the manner of throwing is quite different. The hand grenade is thrown in much the same manner that an athlete in a college field day puts the shot. The thrower must learn to place the grenade and non-commissioned officers constantly are on the alert to correct faulty throwing. A line is drawn and the men are told to try and hit

PUBLIC ESTIMATES
A good many people are agreed that the Chiropractors have a peculiar kind of ability to help the sick, with which they have not met in their dealings with other kinds of health practitioners.
A large measure of the public have concurred in the opinion that there is merit in Chiropractic spinal adjustments great enough to insure the permanency and steady growth of the practice. This concensus, necessarily of slow accumulation due to the comparative newness of the work, is now of ample proportions to not only vindicate the judgment of those who created it by lending their favor to the Chiropractic mode but to influence a proportionately greater public recognition through the future. At its present rate of growth, Chiropractic health service in every home in a not far distant time is a feasible proposition.
