GRAY AND RED TUBES

"Horse Sense" Economy

MOTORISTS who carefully select an expensive tire and then "economize" on tubes are "saving at the spigot and wasting at the bung-hole."

When an "inexpensive," leaky tube ruins a $20 or $30 casing, it becomes an extravagance.

Diamond Tubes, made in either Gray or Red rubber, are "horse-sense" economy. We could have made them cheaper and sold them more readily years ago. But now we have the permanent business of thousands of motorists who, after costly experiment with others, insist upon Diamond Tubes.

A Diamond Tube in a Diamond Casing makes the ideal equipment.

HARRIS MEMBER OF CLASSES AT BIG UNIVERSITY

President Butler, Fred B. Smith and Dan Poling Address Students.

GREAT CHURCH VISITED

Salem Man Finds Burgess Ford and Perry Reigelman at Columbia.

BY R. A. HARRIS
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, New York, June 23.—As this vacation between the first and second semesters of our course at Columbia University, I will send a line or two to The Statesman for all whom I have promised to write.

Our course includes two semesters of three days each. The first began Thursday last and ended Saturday night. Sunday is vacation. We will attend services at 11 a. m. today at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine (Episcopal) near the university. I am told this church has been under construction now for some fifteen or twenty years and they hope to complete it some time in the future. It is said to be America's largest church and, I am told third in the world.

Finds Salem Man
Our class is the largest single group of Y. M. C. A. workers assembled at any one time for overseas service. It comprises 372 men of whom there are some from almost every state in the union. Burgess Ford is the only Marion county man beside myself in this group, though I have found Perry Reigelman among the soldier boys taking instruction at the institution. He is taking "cinematography" which in plain U. S. means "the moving picture business." The government uses this agency among many others for securing records of the war.

Here is our daily schedule: 8 a. m.—Lecture on Athletics (largely adapted to army needs); 8:30—Foreign language (French) by classes, of which there are many; 9:30—Lectures on countries and customs; 10:30—chapel; 10:45—Study hour (forty-five minutes); 11:30—Overseas instruction 2:00 p. m.—Foreign language (French) for entire group. (This is devoted to rapid-fire drill in pronunciation and word forms); 3:30—Athletic instruction on field—learning and participating in games; 8:00—inspirational addresses.

Hears Dan Poling
On our arrival here Tuesday afternoon, after preliminaries were attended to, we were treated to two addresses in the chapel that we shall long remember. The first was by President Nicholas Murray Butler of the institution, on the part France has taken in behalf of weaker peoples struggling for freedom throughout history. The second was by Fred B. Smith, former international secretary for the Y. M. C. A., who spoke from wide personal experience in the war zone. But space will not permit me to enumerate.

The greatest event of the first three days was an address on Friday night by Dan A. Poling, formerly of Dallas, Or. His subject was the same as that of Mr. Smith, but for an address containing the heights and depths of oratory, emotion, passion of service and dynamic spirit, all founded upon and intensified by the most thrilling experiences under fire in the front line trenches, his address was at once a war classic. It left every man who heard it with a vastly deeper sense of the mission he was upon, and increased eagerness to get into action. Practically every man in the house

ARMY BILL PUT THROUGH

tend the draft age limits to 20 and 49 years would be misinterpreted, declared in voting they were only temporarily postponing action in accord with the war department's request for two or three months time to submit the enlarged program.

Provisions Added.
Among important legislative provisions added by the senate to the bill, many of which the house leaders already have agreed to accept, are the following:
Authorizing the president to organize volunteer Slavic and Russian legions; proposing the rank of lieutenant general for Provost Marshal General Crowder in recognition of his selective draft administration; providing for training and equipping of foreign troops, designed especially for the so-called "pan-American army;" amending the draft law to have quotas based on the number of men in Class I instead of on state population; giving effect to the British-American reciprocal draft treaty and other similar conventions which may be concluded, and permanently debarring from American citizenship citizens of neutral nations who have filed preliminary citizenship applications and who claim exemption from the draft; authorizing formation of an $100,000,000 corporation under the aircraft board; providing distinctive badges or buttons for men discharged from and rejected for military service; authorizing the president to commandeer timber and lumber and conduct timbering operations, proposed for the aircraft and shipbuilding programs; providing medals of honor and distinguished service crosses and other decorations; authorizing officers to buy their uniforms and equipment from the government at cost, and providing more general officers and promotions for the medical corps.

Gotham Sun is Fickle
The sun rises at every point of the compass and sets anywhere it happens to find itself when it feels a disposition to set.
As yet our duties have prevented our seeing much of the city and all this is probably well in order that we may meet the many surprises gradually enough to prevent outbreaks that might result in our detention in the interests of public safety.

PRUNE GROWERS FIX UPON PRICE

California Schedule with 8 1/2 Cent Base Finds Favor at Meeting.

Prune growers from various parts of Marion and Polk counties to the number of seventy-five were in attendance upon the meeting held at the Commercial club rooms yesterday afternoon, the object being to arrive at a fair maximum price on the various grades of prunes, and to select delegates to the meeting of northwest prune growers to be held in Portland Tuesday morning. The delegates selected were Louis Laehmund, Fred Kurtz, B. J. Miles, H. Poisel, Ed Jory, L. T. Reynolds, W. T. Jenks, J. J. McDonald, F. E. Evans and Frank Hurbetz.

Much time was spent in going over the schedule of grade prices issued by the California growers. The growers decided on this schedule with a base of 8 1/2 cents but with 1 cent more for the 50s-60s run.
Doubt was expressed as to whether the California schedule would cover the big increase in labor and packing cost. It will be one of the aims of the Salem delegation in Portland to arrange with the head of the food administration for an increase of a cent on the 50s-60s grade, as it is anticipated that a large part of the crop in this part of the valley will run to those sizes.

J. A. Taylor and J. White, of the Butte Falls Prune association were at the meeting and will report its action at a meeting to be held at Scott Mills Monday.

The Dallas and Roseburg growers have already held meetings, and in both it was recommended that a price of 12 cents be adopted for the 20s-25s grade, with a quarter of a cent drop for each decrease grade.
There was an exchange of experience and opinion as to picking and drying prices, and it was the belief of the majority that a large increase in wages should be paid this year. As to the crop prospects, a number of growers commented upon the heavy drop of fruit and predicted that the continued dry weather would tend to cut the yield and also to reduce the size of the fruit.

Consumers of prunes will be interested in the prospect that even with the government demands and increased cost of packing, the price to the consumer may not be greatly increased because of the fact that speculation and speculative buyers have been eliminated from the situation by the government regulations. In other words, any person handling foodstuffs, aside from the producer and consumer, must be able to show that he intends to perform a service in distribution, and is not merely operating for the purpose of raking off a profit between the grower and the retailer.

Dan W. Bass, one of the visitors in Salem yesterday, in observance of home coming day, is manager of the Frye Hotel, Seattle, one of the most prominent in that city. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bass and his sister, Miss Jessie Bass. Mr. Bass says Seattle is prospering greatly now, and growing at the rate of 2000 to 5000 new people a month. Mr. Bass drove over in his automobile, and he will return by way of a farm he owns in the northern end of Marion county.

HARBORD MADE MAJOR GENERAL

Officer Promoted by President is Cousin of Mrs. Dan J. Fry.

To be a major general in the National army under General Pershing is the honor which has come to James C. Harbord, who is the first cousin of Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Sr., of Salem. The appointment was made Friday by President Wilson under the selection of General March.

As a brigadier general and chief of the 1st Brigade of the 1st Cavalry Division, Harbord was recently assigned to command the Marine brigade. Part of this brigade fought with honor about Chateau Thierry. The officer was also active in the Philippines, Cuba and at the Mexican border. He is a military writer of note and has served in the war college in Washington, D. C.

Another man, whose name honors Salem because of an important appointment is Harold C. Fiske, who will become a brigadier-general. He was appointed a cadet at West Point from Salem. He has a brother, V. P. Fiske who is postmaster at Dallas.

"Dutch" Leonard, the Red Sox huler, duplicated his no-hit no-run game against the Browns in 1915 in his great exhibition at Detroit the other day, even to allowing one player to reach first base on four wild ones. Severid of the Browns and Veach of the Detroit outfielders were the pastimers given passes first.
