

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

Why the Scotch Highlanders Wear Kilts

BECAUSE the Highland Scot, wading through the wet heather of the mountains, found Kilts kept drier.

Before the Roman soldier, himself a Kiltie, came, Lowland and Highland folk wore Kilts.

When modern life turned the Lowlands to trousers, the wet mountain heather held the Highlands to Kilts.

But his wet heather, had GOODRICH been founded, wouldn't he have worried the Highlander.

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

Goodrich would have met his needs with Hipress boots and waterproof garments, just as Goodrich met the need of the automobile for the right rubber tire.

Twenty-two years Goodrich has shaped the destiny of automobile tires, bringing them from crude, clumsy affairs, to the graceful GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

And all Goodrich inventions were directed toward one end, SERVICE VALUE to the user.

For Goodrich recognizes but one tire value; what a tire is worth to the motorist on his car and on the road, in comfort, economy, and long mileage.

Goodrich manufacture puts SERVICE VALUE in Goodrich Tires, both SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, and Goodrich Test Car Fleets prove it is there.

Demand the SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

THE CITY OF GOODRICH - AKRON, OHIO.

That's what must express the sentiment of Herbert Hoover, who as a boy eighteen years ago attended Sunday school at the local Highland Friends church, because just the other day a letter was received from him requesting that his name be placed on the membership book of that church.

The following is a list of the names of local women who have identified themselves with the work:

Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. B. C. Miles, Mrs. J. E. Hockett, Mrs. J. Ray Pemberton, Mrs. Retta Pemberton, Mrs. W. D. Matthews, Mrs. William Vestal, Mrs. Mary Pemberton, Mrs. Charles R. Scott, Mrs. Nancy Pemberton, Mrs. Lee McCracken, Mrs. S. Prensall, Mrs. A. J. Shinn, Mrs. A. L. Lull, Mrs. G. T. White, Mrs. B. Frasier, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, Mrs. Julia Showerman, Mrs. Valeda Hoxie, Mrs. Charles Pearson, Mrs. Wesley Thomas, Mrs. Mary E. Wooten, Mrs. T. Rickard, Mrs. Rosanna Gilbert, Mrs. John Rowan, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Cecil Cooper, Mrs. Clifton Ross, Mrs. Clifford Armstrong, Mrs. Rollie Armstrong, Mrs. Ellis McMillan, Mrs. John Carpenter, Mrs. Russell Moorman, Mrs. Carl Scott, Mrs. Sidney Lamb, Misses Edna Commons, Bess Shinn, Laura Commons, Beatrice Prensall, Winifred Frazier, Florence Frazier, Gladys Scott, Lillian Frazier, Alta White Isola Smith, Vira Lull, Melva Lull and Gertrude Tucker.

Mrs. L. M. Haines left for Portland Thursday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Isadore Halzman. She will remain in the city several days.

Mrs. Seymour Skiff, formerly a resident of this city, was here from Portland Thursday, passing the day with friends. She will leave early next week with her small daughter for Camp Lewis in order to be close to her husband, who is stationed there.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Eichelber, and their daughters Ruth and Edna of Wabburg, Wash., who have been entertained for the past three weeks as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laffar, left for their home this week.

Leaving about the middle of the month on a fortnight's motoring trip will be Mr. and Mrs. John Maurer, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gardner, who will go over the McKenzie Pass into Eastern Oregon, spending some time on the Metolius river. Returning over the same route they plan to stop awhile at the Maurer cottage at McKenzie Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Page R. Boyles left for Portland this week where they will make their home. They are located at the Park apartments, 353 Harrison street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker, and Mrs. Frank Power formed a motor party, going to Astoria during the mid-week, returning late Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Jones and their daughter Lucille were others from here taking in the celebration in Astoria Independence day.

That Salem women are as anxious to do their part in war activities as Salem men has already been demonstrated in too many ways to mention, quite the most notable of recent instances being the departure of several young women for cantonment camps, preparatory to their sailing to France as Red Cross nurses.

Three, all graduates of the Salem hospital, are now overseas, Miss Rose Williams, and Miss Marie Blodgett, who are located at base hospital No. 46, and Mrs. Emma Washburn Rice, at base hospital No. 116.

Word received from Miss Williams this week stated that on June 27 the unit of which she is a member was dedicated at St. Paul's Episcopal church in New York city.

In training at the Presidio are Miss Helen Post and Miss Helen Karhu. Another young woman from Oregon will be represented in the Mission of Mercy, of the Red Cross, close to the battlefield in France for a recent recruit to the army of trained nurses to go across where their services are needed by the fighting men of America and her allies is Miss Knuts, whose acquaintance in Portland and Salem make a large number. She is another to be ordered from here to the Presidio, leaving a month ago. She is a graduate of Trinity hospital, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, coming to Salem two years ago, since which time she has been exclusively employed by the Bush family.

Miss Clara Kirscher is receiving her preparatory work in Vancouver, Miss Erickson is daily awaiting governmental orders containing her assignment. Both are also graduates of the Salem hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mapletorpe are to have at their home guests shortly their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Shields of Seattle. Mrs. Shields has many friends here, she being formerly Miss Emma Mapletorpe. They will arrive about the first of August and will remain on an extensive visit.

Eastern people visiting in Salem are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Filley, their sons, Paul and Norris and Mrs. William Perkins, all of Fort Wayne, Indiana, who are guests of relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Westman, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Zimmerman, and Mrs. S. Prensall.

Mrs. Filley is prominent in railroad circles, having been with the Pennsylvania lines for the past seventeen years. Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Zimmerman are sisters. The two families had not seen each other for eleven years.

The visitors will remain for a month or more.

Miss Mignon Oliver of Seattle is expected shortly to pass her vacation with her mother, Mrs. I. E. Oliver.

Judge and Mrs. A. S. Bennett and their daughter of The Dalles, who have been visiting here for a month with Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Butler, left today for Seaside to open their cottage for the season. Mrs. Butler will join them there later.

Mrs. David Hill will join her husband at Seabeck, Washington, where he will prepare for Y. M. C. A. work. Mrs. Hill has been the house guest of the Dr. W. H. Lyties. Her home is in Pendleton.

To continue her studies of the Indians, customs, costumes and music with a view of further perfecting her work in pantomime, Mrs. Oscar B. Gingrich left for Portland Wednesday, from which place she goes to Pendleton where she will make her headquarters while studying the Warm Spring Indians on their reservation. Mrs. Gingrich has appeared frequently in programs in Salem and elsewhere and has had only the highest criticisms of her work.

Another wedding, hastily planned, owing to war conditions, was that of Miss Annette Graber to Wayne M. Price, which took place in the parsonage of the Baptist church Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. G. F. Holt reading the lines a few moments before the bridegroom left for Fort McDowell, California, where he went with the thirty-nine others of the last draft.

Mrs. Price is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graber, Sr., of 1203 D street, and because of its impossibility to make definite plans at present will remain with them. She is an attractive young woman and both she and Mr. Price have many friends. She has one sister, Mrs. Earl Anderson, of Salem.

Mr. Price is the son of Mrs. Florence Price, who left several months ago for the east, at present being in Pittsburg, Pa. A brother, Millard Price, enlisted in the navy one month ago. Mr. Price was a traveling salesman for Gile and company.

An interesting exhibition of some sculpture of Donald Tarpley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Tarpley, of Portland, formerly of Salem, is now on exhibition at the Portland Art Museum. Young Tarpley is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is in the engineering class of relatives and friends.

College romances have led to several engagements recently, which are of interest to young folks here. Among the students of the Oregon Agricultural college the betrothal of very notable that the name Quaker or Friend has come to be more prominently connected with civilian relief and reconstruction work in France than any other. Even before the American Red Cross sent its commission overseas English Friends had become the largest private operators and the pioneers in reconstruction work. They knew how to meet the needs of a situation for which there was no standard or precedent.

The official in charge of Red Cross emergency relief abroad in speaking of them said: "They did not merely rise to the emergency in a burst of temporary enthusiasm; they worked steadily, at a high pitch throughout." And as that statement is explanatory of the broader work abroad it also covers the perhaps less pretentious work here at home—the making of garments by women right here in Salem, for up to the present the report shows that during the few months that the clubs have been formed here one hundred garments have been made, including children's aprons, baby layettes, quilts and undergarments. Besides this, these women have given much time to the regular Red Cross work.

Just to give an idea of the scope of the Friends relief work in France a glance at a six month record is enlightening, telling of the manufacture of furniture and houses, erection of tuberculosis sanitarium, re-roofing of Rheims civil hospital, reconstruction work in forty villages of Verdun district, maintenance of maternity and convalescents hospitals, distribution of clothing, making and distributing furniture and bedding, furnishing refuge to old people, assistance in home for Belgian children, threshing of grain, raising of vegetables, distribution of seeds and many more.

The relation of this organization to the Red Cross is most close and cordial, the latter asking it to maintain its individuality because of the unusually high standard of service which can be developed in such a body, when animated largely by motives of religious dedication to their task.

Summing it all up, perhaps if we use the rather remarkable tribute of a Red Cross official we shall best express the spirit of the undertaking. He said: "The Quakers are working in Paris and outside it for refugees in a spirit not equalled on the whole by any group I have seen out here. They work with their hands... sleep in quarters that others find too hard, save money everywhere and because they knew what simple living is are the best of case workers in the city charities, never pauperizing, never offending. They work in the true religious spirit, asking no glory and no position, sharing the hardships they alleviate, and earning anywhere such gratitude from the French... Others working here in France have friends and enemies; the Friends have only friends... However dark, crowded or noisy it may get as we go on, I wager the Quakers will never complain. That isn't their way. My, but they are refreshing folk!"

Fordson Tractors

Henry Ford's Greatest Production

The "Fordson" Tractor is the result of extensive trials and experiments conducted by Mr. Ford, covering a period of many years. Before placing this Tractor on the market, every detail has been thoroughly tried out under actual farming conditions in various parts of this country and abroad. A small, light Tractor is the machine that fills all varying conditions satisfactory.

The Fordson Tractor

Is adapted for use on small farms, as well as on the largest. It will pull all farm implements and do the work generally done by horses, in addition by its belt pulley, the Tractor will drive farm machinery such as threshers, ensilage cutter, sawmill, etc.; making this Tractor a truly universal Tractor.

The simplicity of its operation and construction will appeal to the farmers.

We have 3 carloads on the road and after a few weeks the Fordson Tractors will be coming regular so as to supply all in need of tractors for fall farm work.

Announcements will be made later upon the arrival of the first three carloads.
