Today Last Chance to File Affirmative Matter

Today, which is the 115th day before the November election, is the last day allowed by law for filing of affirmative arguments for measures that go on the ballot. For initiative bills arguments must be by initiators of the measures, while for referendum measures any person may file affirmative arguments. The affirmative arguments filed so far are by C. S. Jackson and R. W. Hagood for two bills proposed by them, one proposing to repeal a law requiring publication of delinquent tax lists and another fixing compensation for publication of legal notices. These are the only initiative measures that have qualified for the ballot by the initiators filing petitions within the time allowed, which expired July 3. By special authority of the 1917 session laws, however, the state tax commission is expected to initiate a war emergency bill. Persons desiring to file negative arguments against any measure going on the ballot have until July 23, or the 105th day before election.

UNIVERSITY TO SEND 11 BOYS

Students Will Begin Military Instruction at Presidio July 18
Eleven students of Willamette university have accepted appointments to attend the officers' training camp at the Presidio, there to receive six days of intensive military instruction, which will entitle them to places as assistants to a federal officer in charge of drill work on the campus. Six had originally been called for but this number was later increased. The boys must be in San Francisco July 18 and will be temporarily enlisted during their presence at the camp.
Professor W. A. Darden is the faculty member who goes with them. Those who have accepted the offer are Harold Dimick, Woodburn; Francis Cramer, Astoria; Oscar Olson, Woodburn; Roswell Waltz, Salem; Kenneth Legg, Salem; Millard Dougherty, Lebanon; Lyle Bartholomew, Salem; Russell Rarey, Seattle; Clarke Story, Wolf Creek; Paul Doney, Salem, and Earl Fiegel, Portland. Several of these men are subject to the draft, but their training at the Presidio will make them liable to call only in case of emergency, according to present advices.

Chinock Extends Date Set for Leaving Office

James T. Chinock, who several months ago announced his resignation as superintendent of water division No. 1, to be effective July 15, has decided to extend the effective date and will not quit the office until some time next month. Unfinished work connected with the office is Mr. Chinock's reason for remaining in the office a few weeks longer. Upon his resignation, Percy A. Cupper, Republican nominee for the office, will be appointed in Chinock's place. Upon his leaving the position Mr. Chinock will engage in the practice of law at Grants Pass.

War Emergency Measure May Be Debated Monday

Governor Withycombe said yesterday that a meeting of the state tax commission will probably be called Monday, July 15, for the purpose of taking preliminary action to initiate a measure by authority of section 2, chapter 150, laws of 1917, providing for a tax levy in excess of constitutional limitations to meet war emergencies. The measure, if initiated, will be voted on by the people at the November election.

JULY 15 IS FINAL DATE

Heavy Users of Sugar Must File Applications in Next Three Days

A large part of the time of the clerical force, as well as the manager of the Commercial club, is now taken with the issuance of certificates to the consumers of sugar, in accordance with the regulations of the food administration. Manager Cull calls attention to the fact that all dealers, candy makers, bakers, hoteliers, restaurants, soda fountains, and other heavy users of sugar must file application and statement of future needs before July 15, or they will have no sugar coming to them.

No sale of sugar can be made by any dealer without the presentation of a certificate, signed by the state food administrator and issued through the county food administrator. There are absolutely no exceptions to this rule, and it includes retailers and all others selling sugar to be used for direct consumption, manufacturers of all kinds, bakeries and public eating houses. Manufacturers of candy, etc., are restricted, under the latest regulations, to one-half the amount they used one year ago, while bakeries and pastry makers are confined to 70 per cent of the amount used one year ago. The restrictions as to family consumption aim to confine the amount to three pounds to the person per month. Restaurants and hotels are supposed to confine themselves to the amount of three pounds for ninety meals.

The county food administration also calls attention to the relaxation in the rulings as to flour sales—a change that will be welcomed by retail dealers. An extract from the official announcement of Food Administrator Ayer reads as follows: "The rules and regulations governing the sale of wheat flour by mills and retailers provide, in rules 24, 27 and 28, that retailers should not purchase more than 70 per cent of their last year's requirements." This necessitated a great amount of supervision in the issuance of certificates, etc., and I am pleased to announce that these rules have been repealed and retail dealers are, therefore, permitted to purchase their reasonable requirements, not exceeding a 60 days' supply, without receiving certificates from this office. All other rules and regulations governing the handling of wheat flour are in full force and effect."

TOMORROW IS BASTILLE DAY

Governor Calls Upon People of Oregon to Observe Holiday of Allies

Governor Withycombe, in a statement issued yesterday, calls upon the people of Oregon to participate in a national demonstration of Bastille day, the national holiday of the French people. Bastille day is Sunday, July 14. The governor's statement follows: "It is my sincere hope that the loyal hearted people of Oregon will follow the commendable example of other Americans over the world by participating wherever possible in the national demonstration of Bastille Day on July 14. The French people, who are again allied with us in a righteous cause, have this month displayed their deep friendship for this country by observing the Fourth of July and it is a pleasure to see how enthusiastically Americans are responding to the compliment by taking notice of the importance of the French holiday. Let us reassure the brave sons of France of our determined purpose to support the French and the other allied armies until a victorious peace has been accomplished."

Shell Explodes and Sends Bullet Through Man's Leg

DALLAS, Or., July 12.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Fritz Kinderman, a resident of the country near Kings valley, was accidentally shot the first of the week by the premature explosion of a shell in a .32 calibre automatic pistol. The bullet entered the right leg above the knee and broke the bone. He was brought to Dallas and is at the hospital.

PIG CLUB SHOWS IMMENSE GROWTH

L. J. Allen Makes Inspection—County Membership Between 400 and 500

L. J. Allen, of Corvallis, who is in charge of the Pig Club work throughout the state under direction of Oregon Agricultural college, has been in Salem for several days, making trips of inspection to the various pig clubs in this section. A company with Supervisors Hoppes and J. W. L. Smith has visited about one half the clubs in Marion county, getting into touch with more than 200 members. There are now between 400 and 500 members of the clubs in the county, and from all that has been noted they are going to play an important part in the future of the pork industry of Oregon. Mr. Allen has been impressed by the evidence of genuine interest shown by the boys, who are not only interested in financial returns from the work but with genuine American push are going after standards. Probably 20 per cent of the patriotic porcine propagators are raising thoroughbred stock, and perhaps 50 per cent of the stock raised will be pure bred.

One outstanding illustration of what may be accomplished by the young hustlers is the case of Madison Nichols—a 19-year-old boy living a few miles east of Salem. Last year he started out with three pure bred Chester Whites, and as a result of his work for the season he secured a scholarship at Oregon Agricultural college, returning from that institution a few weeks ago. This year he has a drove of sixty registered Chester Whites and is finding a good market for them as breeding stock. The college is keeping in touch with the clubs through monthly bulletins, and Mr. Allen and the local supervisors will assist them in the matter of securing feed in quantities, as this is one of the serious problems the boys must deal with.

The young breeders will have their eyes on the state fair with a view to competing with all the breeders of the state. A number of district fairs will be held in the county in advance of the state fair, and those who win out in these will be the two highest rated and will be entitled to enter the big show, where there will be a number of prizes hung up jointly by the state, the banks, stock breeders associations, etc. The banks have given the greatest encouragement to the young breeders, there being ten banks in Marion county who are backing the clubs. It should be noted in this connection that the United States National bank of this city leads all the banks of the state in this work. George W. Eyre, of that institution, is known as the father of the pig club movement in this section, having a list of about 300 club members who are being financed through the bank.

REASON FOR REFUSING OTHERS.

Persons who have once used Foley Kidney Pills prefer them to any other medicine. They give relief from kidney and bladder troubles, backache, sharp, shooting pains, rheumatism, stiff, swollen joints, sore muscles, puffiness under eyes, nervousness, "always tired" feeling and sleep-disturbing bladder ailments. J. C. Perry.

Socialists May Oppose Representative Hawley

The Socialist party evidently will have a congressional candidate in the field for the first Oregon district. Attorney General Brown has received from L. Mollanen, of Tovorri, a Finnish newspaper at Astoria, inquiry whether the nomination of candidate for representative in congress can be made legally by an assembly of electors on Sunday, and whether it is necessary to record on the nomination certificate the names of all electors at the meeting. Mollanen is said to be a member of the Socialist party. The reply is that under the statute the attorney general is allowed to give advice only to state officers.
