Professional Baseball Players
Must Engage in Productive Occupations

BAKER ISSUES ORDER

Decision Given on Appeal of American League Catcher
for Exemption

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Professional baseball players of the draft age must work or fight immediately and the draft regulations may be changed soon to include theatrical performers and moving picture players and employes among those must seek new jobs or face induction into the army.

Secretary Baker in an unqualified decision holding the game a non-productive occupation and saying so far from amending the regulation to exempt ball players, he believed the scope of its provisions "should be so enlarged as to include other classes of persons whose professional occupation is solely that of entertaining." Legitimate theatrical performers were specifically exempted in the original work or fight order of the provost marshal general, and a recent ruling placed in this class actors and skilled men employed in producing pictures.

The secretary's decision was given on an appeal of the case of Edward Ainsmith, veteran catcher of the Washington-American league club, whose deferred classification on account of a dependant wife and child recently was revoked by a local draft board. All arguments against the ruling and in favor of a suggestion that the regulation should be modified in favor of the national sport were swept aside by Mr. Baker. He held that baseball as a business does not differ from other civilian peace time industries which must make sacrifices in the stress of war, and moreover, that it is by no means certain that so many players are of draft age that the organization will be disrupted.

TENER WILL COMPLY

CINCINNATI, July 19.—President John K. Tener of the National League, after reading Secretary of War Baker's announcement, made the following statement: "I have read Secretary Baker's decision in full and baseball interests will comply with the finding in spirit as well as in action."

"We feel, however, some provision should be made that would give us time to determine whether or not the clubs can proceed under the suggestion made by Secretary Baker or whether we will close out our business entirely and we will request the war department to make its ruling more definite as it concerns this point."

LOSS WILL BE LARGE

CHICAGO, July 19.—Whether or not baseball will continue in the American League with players above or below the draft age will be left to the administration, according to Ben Johnson, president of the American League. In a statement made public tonight, the order will take approximately from 85 to 90 per cent of the league's players, the statement said.

ACTION CONSIDERED WISE

CINCINNATI, July 19.—Chairman August Hermann of the national baseball commission issued a statement here tonight relative to Secretary of War Baker's decision placing baseball in the list of non-essentials. Mr. Hermann said: "It is apparent that Secretary Baker has given the matter his most serious consideration and his conclusions are beyond doubt based upon the highest motive. Just what the method of procedure of the club owners will be, will be determined in the next few days. I am sure there is only one conclusion and that is constituted authority must and will be upheld.

"His suggestions that many players are beyond the draft age and therefore it is by no means certain that complete disorganization of baseball business will follow, is a matter for the clubs to determine.

"The interested parties will take up with the proper authorities at once the mode of procedure in closing out the business temporarily, if it is deemed necessary."

Lightless Nights to Be Resumed in New England

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Resumption of "lightless nights" inaugurated last winter to save fuel, will become effective next Wednesday, it was announced tonight by the fuel administration. All outdoor illumination with the exception of necessary street lighting will be discontinued after that date on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week in the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia and on Monday and Tuesday of each week in the remainder of the United States.

The regulations under which the "lightless nights" will be carried out are the same as those put into force by the fuel administration last winter with the exception of the nights designated.

Sons of Norway to Equip
Ambulance for Use by U. S.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 19.—After voting $10,000 with which to purchase and equip an ambulance and give it to the United States, the supreme lodge, Sons of Norway, adjourned its convention here late this evening. The money will not only buy the vehicle and equip it but will provide for the salary of the driver and attending nurse, both of whom will be at least of Norwegian parentage.

Good Prices Promised for Evergreen Berries

This year's prices for evergreen blackberries are the best yet. People should begin now to prepare to help harvest a big crop of these wild berries.

The government is placing large orders for the berries with the canneries and this is going to give Marion and Polk counties an opportunity to market a larger quantity of berries than was marketed last year. Pickers can make good daily wages and if communities will co-operate in marketing, excellent returns will come from the sale of the berries.

Communities should have haulers who will look after the delivering of the berries so there will be no duplication of effort. Representatives in every community should make it a point to keep up on the prices and see that their localities send in their quotas of berries this season. The berries are being furnished to the navy and every county should send its special duty to harvest them.

Flares and Flickers

Dill wives sometimes prove useful women. Elsie Ferguson enlightens us to this effect in a "Dill's House" beginning today at the Oregon.

Since Douglas Fairbanks became "Big Brother" to the 157th Infantry at Camp Kearney, California, he has received more than six hundred letters and personally answered every one of them. During the production of his newest picture, "Say, Young Fellow," which will be shown at the Oregon soon he entertained the entire regiment at his southern California studio.

If you want to see pretty blue grass belles and get a whiff of Kentucky peach blossoms, see Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "Sany."

Does it pay to flirt? Girls, Oh Girls! Think before you wink! Viviette's wink was as deadly as a bullet. It brought two brothers to pistol points. Girls! Think before you wink. Viviette Martin is Viviette at the Oregon this week.

Autocratic Russia is no more, but the memory of its grinding oppression still has in Count Tolstov's famous novel "Resurrection" the picture of which will be shown at the Oregon theatre soon.

Elsie Ferguson distinguished for her beauty and her remarkable talents as an actress will be seen in "A Doll's House" at the Oregon Theatre beginning today.

"The Kaiser's Shadow" a new photoplay of German Spy intrigue starring Dorothy Dalton is to be shown at the Oregon in the near future.

Enid Bennett will soon be seen in the "Desert Wailing" a new Paramount picture by J. S. Hawks. Jock Holt is her leading man.

The Chinese who have been appearing with Sessue Hayakawa in "The City of Dim Faces" a Paramount picture soon shown here gave the star and company a banquet in Los Angeles Chinatown.

If you like a thrill, love mystery, and seek relaxation, see "The Kaiser's Shadow" which will be shown at the Oregon theatre in the near future.

"Sandy" is Jack Pickford's last picture until the end of the war, he having just joined the naval reserves when "Sandy" was completed.

Alice Hegan Rice, Author of "Sandy," is also the author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "Lorvey Mary," "Mrs. Opp" and "Calvary Alley."

More often than we know, the German spies and plotters in our own land are handed the double cross by clever and astute secret service operators. In "The Kaiser's Shadow" they are handed the triple cross.

A hairbrush sandwich, a la rubber sponge, may not be appetizing but it helps to make "Say, Young Fellow," the best Fairbanks picture ever released. There is also a splendid object lesson for a young fellow.

"Over the Top" has proven to be the biggest success ever put over in any of the picture houses of Salem.

"Pershing's Crusaders," the official war picture of the United States government, now playing in Portland for a full week at the Hellig theatre will be the next big sensation for Salem coming to the Liberty theatre August 8, 9, and 10.

Dustin Farnum will be seen in one of his famous western characters in "Durand of the Bad Lands," coming to the Liberty theatre next Sunday and Monday.

Carmel Myers, the beautiful Bluebird star, will be seen in her latest production, "The City of Tears," at the Liberty theatre starting Tuesday.

"Hate, one of the most entralling photoplays of today, with an all star cast, will be shown at the Liberty theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mabel Normand in "The Floor Below," will be the first new Goldwyn production to be shown in Salem this season. Coming to the Liberty theatre August 1, 2, and 3.

"The Heart of a Lion," William Farnum's latest William Fox production, is taken from a novel, "The Doctor," written by Charles W. Gordon. The book was published under the pen name of Ralph Connor. At the Liberty today and tomorrow.

Herbert Rawlinson, the handsome, sensational young star of "Come Through," will be seen in "The High Sign" at the Bligh today.

Back to the blue shirt! William Farnum, in all the manly bravery of the parts the public love so well, is coming to town. In "The Heart of a Lion," the stalwart William Fox star makes his reappearance, bringing with him a story of absorbing interest and excitement. At the Liberty theatre today "The Heart of a Lion" will begin a two-days run.

Vance and Taylor, a young man and woman of unquestioned ability as entertainers present a new comedy novelty which they call "Corsets," consisting of singing and talking, using only exclusive material, especially written for them. There is a reason for the title, inasmuch as the action takes place in a French corset shop, located on the board walk at Brighton beach, the location giving opportunity for their very pretty settings. At the Bligh today.

William Morrow, a rollicking son of Momus, with a perpetual smile and a preponderance of ability as a comedian, presents an entirely new offering consisting of recitations, imitations, stories and sings, at all of which Mr. Morrow is most capable. On the Hippodrome show at the Bligh today.

Undine Andrews, a chic little woman with a delightful childish lisp, presents a novelty singing and talking number that consists of child impersonations that include all types of kiddies from the baby to the ragged urchin of 15. Miss Andrews' act is so different from the usual order of singing and talking numbers that it always strikes the fancy of every person in the audience. On the Hippodrome show at the Bligh today.

A big triple show coming to the Bligh theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. "The Witching Hour," a special feature of Augustus Thomas' famous play, Fatty Arbuckle and Mabel Normand in "His Diving Beauty," and Big Bill Hart in "Every Inch a Man." Some show, eh?

"The Kaiser," the mad dog of Europe, will play a return engagement at the Bligh theatre July 30 and 31, at reduced prices.

The Yanks are coming in "Pershing's Crusaders" at the Liberty theatre, August 8, 9 and 10.

Stenographers Unit to Leave for France Soon
