IS GIVEN CORN

Damage to Crop Feared From Hot Winds in Southwest -War Makes Breaks

CHICAGO, July 26 .- Fear of crop damage from hot winds in the south west gave the corn market a pronounced upward swing today after breaks due to fresh gains for the entente allies in France. The close was unsettled %c to 1 1/2c net higher, with August $1.52 % to $1.53 and September $1.53 % to $1.54. Oats finished %c to 1%c up, and provisions down 5c to 70c Notwithstanding that two days frost danger was a bogey, the corn market today found high temperatures a powerful source of disturbance to values. At first, however, continued defeats of the Germans, especially the capture of Oulchy, led to general selling and to resulting downturns in prices. Slightly enlarged rural offerings together with bearish views regarding crop conditions tended also to bring about weakness. Then came talk of hot wings, and there was a complete reversal of sentiment. Throughout the rest of the day, absence of pressure was very evident and the buying $65; oats, No. 3, $55; clipped oats.
