$300 IS RESULT OF DAY'S SALES

Tiny Forget-Me-Nots Adorn
Lapels and Blouses of All
Salem Folk

"Forget-Me-Not" day in Salem went over the top by noon yesterday and then some. Of the 2400 tiny bouquets of significant flowers and ribbons commencing about 10 cents per willing head, every one had found a snug place on someone's coat lapel or blouse as the noon whistle blew.

Then there was a hurried scramble to procure more flowers and short bits of red, yellow and black baby ribbon. Soon the women workers had made many more little nose-gays. But by 3 o'clock not another forget-me-not could be begged, borrowed or unearched in Salem. Resourceful women had even treaded their way homeward to pick the small flowers from some ancient hat.

As a result of the activities of the tag sale, $300 was raised. It will be sent to Portland as Salem's bit toward Oregon's lift for the little ones of devastated Belgium. And behind the canvass will remain much glory for the participating local women. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Mrs. John Albert.

Others who gave their time to the work were Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. Lloyd Farmer, Mrs. W. H. Prunk, Mrs. Claire Vibbert, Mrs. E. V. McMechan, and the Misses Elizabeth Lord, Dorothy Pearce, Doris Churchill, Lucille Jones, Ada Miller, Luella Patton, Harriett Griffith, Mary Jane Albert, Hazel Downing, Gertrude East, Ha Spaulding, Hazel Blake, Lena Huestein, Mabel Robertson, Valerie Briggs, Katherine Hartley, Marie Schulerman, Florence Austin, Dorella Anderson, Helene Cleaver, Lorena Geer, Wanda Bullock, Margaret Stolz, Bertha Vincent, Leona Geer Thelma Young, Leah Ross, Lucille Moore, Ruth Griffith, Lena Baumgartner, Elsie Hop Lee, Margaret Lewis, Mary Cuper, Elizabeth Lewis, Iris Hewett, Edith Brotherton and Neva Millard.
