DATA DESIRED BY COMMISSION

Commercial Organizations Asked to Give Information For Hearing

A letter suggesting the form in which data should be compiled in behalf of Oregon shippers for presentation at hearings to be conducted in Portland September 20 and 23 has been issued by Fred G. Buchtel of the public service commission and mailed to all commercial organizations of the state. The hearings are to be conducted by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clyde B. Aitchison.

On September 20 will be taken up the railroad administration's increased rate of 25 per cent as it affects fresh fruits and vegetables, fruit juices and empty containers bound west, and on the same day the 10 per cent increase on express rates applying to fresh fruits and fresh fish will be considered. Reconsignment and division rules will be discussed on September 23, as the rules affect fruit and vegetables. The hearing will be supplementary to a hearing in Chicago in September 4.

All interested persons are asked to send in their data as early as possible so that it may be whipped into shape for the most effective presentation, and also to send the names of any persons who could be used to give testimony. It is suggested that conferences prior to the hearings be arranged with Assistant Attorney General J. O. Bailey, who will represent the commission.

The form in which each locality is requested to tabulate its data follows:

- 1. Acreage producing fruit.
2. Annual yield by varieties, pounds.
3. Local cannery consumption, pounds.
4. Shipments for the past four years by freight; by express; at old rates and new rates.
5. To other state canneries.
6. To state markets.
7. To Rocky Mountain points.
8. To Missouri river points.
9. To Chicago points.
10. To Atlantic coast points.
11. Growers financial condition for the last five years.
12. Cost of growing fruit.
13. Annual returns per acre.
14. Eastern competition.
15. Effect of present rates.
16. Future outlook.
17. Annual volume for the whole state shipped east.
18. Annual tonnage last four years.
19. Principal markets.
20. Competition of Canadian markets.
21. Effects of new rates on state fish industry.
22. Any other facts and statements you may deem relevant in any of the three hearings.

INDIAN RELAYS FOR NEXT FAIR

Secretary Lea Hopes to Have Four Strings From Northwest Reservations

An innovation on the racing program at the state fair in September will be the Indian relay race for both men and women continuing through the week, the prize to be awarded at the end of the week. Secretary A. H. Lea is already practically sure of three strings of horses for each of the races and hopes to add a fourth. The Indians participating in the races will be from several reservations of the Northwest. Secretary Lea has procured permission from the Indian agents to invite the racers to the state fair.

Gold Hill Lime Plant Soon Ready to Operate

The state lime plant at Gold Hill, operated by labor from the state penitentiary will be in operation before September 6 and 10, according to Warden Murphy, who has just returned from the quarry. Much delay has been caused in getting money from the state. The emergency board finally allowed $5000 and subsequently there was further delay in obtaining machinery. The plant has a capacity of 100 tons a day, but the output will not be that large for some time after the plant is started. Though convict labor will be used mainly it may be necessary to have one paid man in charge. The meeting of the state lime board will be at Gold Hill about the middle of next month.

45,000 POUNDS HOPS GLEANED AT LAKEBROOK

Industry Will Distribute Only About $600,000 to Workers in Valley

EARLY YIELD IS GOOD

Picking of Late Varieties Is Expected to Begin Next Monday

If Marion county were depending on the hop industry as its chief payroll this year there would be many a slim purse here. With the national prohibition measure now before congress many growers are wondering whether it is worth while to bother to pick the hops at present on the vines.

The T. A. Livesley company, however, is going ahead with its harvesting and Saturday afternoon completed picking 45,000 pounds of early hops off 40 acres on the Lakebrook ranch. This is a relatively good yield. Monday work will begin on the late hops at Lakebrook, Livesley, Independence and Oroville, where a great need for pickers is being felt. With work for between 500 and 600 the company can only count on 100. Eighteen or 20 days work are ahead for a large crew.

Where it formerly was possible to get 1200 pickers from Portland, very few may be counted upon from that city this year. The canneries and prune orchards have taken many of the local people. Oregon's hop harvest, which has in normal years totaled between 145,000 and 160,000 bales, will probably not be over 20,000 this season. If the prohibition bill is passed there will be a market for but one-tenth of 1 per cent of the former yield. These being used in the manufacture of yeast, dyes and medicines. The industry, which formerly distributed over $3,000,000 to the laboring people of the Willamette valley, will bring in $600,000 at the most this fall.

All of the early hops look good and should market well to the eastern brewers.

T. A. LIVESLEY DONATES FLAG

Unique Ceremony Marks Raising of Emblem by People of Community

LIVESLEY, Or., Aug. 28.—A unique flag raising took place at Livesley Monday evening, where Noble Henningsen climbed to the top of the highest fir tree on the hill above the station and fastened a large American flag. The flag was donated by T. A. Livesley, in honor of the boys who are leaving for service in the army. Noble Henningsen, who has just reached the age of 21 since the last draft, Henry Henningsen will leave next week for army training. Mrs. W. A. Burns and family spent a part of last week visiting her sister, Mrs. H. B. Carpenter.

C. D. Query is having his prunes picked for shipping. Evergreen berries are being picked in large quantities and taken to C. D. Query's store where they are sent to Salem on trucks. The Methodist church here had a berry picking bee, on Tuesday and Wednesday. Sufficient funds were raised to meet the church expenses, and the usual bazaar will be omitted this year.

Mrs. Alice Coolidge and Mr. and Mrs. Spurrier motored over to the Santiam and spent Thursday and Friday. F. E. Batson of Seattle visited his friend, Noble Henningsen, for several days before Mr. Henningsen left for Camp Lewis.

Mrs. L. Francis spent Sunday and Monday at her home here.

Frederick Rader Will Be Released From Penitentiary

The supreme court today through Associate Justice Beaman, issued an order approving a $7500 bond of Frederick Rader and directing his release from the state penitentiary pending hearing in the supreme court. Rader was charged with manslaughter. He was committed from Grant county and was sentenced from 6 to 10 years and fined $1000. The bond has the approval of District Attorney Phil Ashford and Circuit Judge Dalton Biggs of Grant county.

Regents Would Have Full Authority on Building

Should a hospital for returning soldiers be built in Portland in connection with the medical college of the University of Oregon, the building would not be subject to Portland city authorities if the bill appropriating the money in the legislature provided that the hospital be under the supervision of the university board of regents. This is the holding of Attorney General Brown in a reply to a hypothetical question by W. K. Newell, chairman of the board of regents.

The president has a couple of fine houses. One is White and the other is Col.

TWO POSITIONS CONSOLIDATED

Truant Officer and School Nurse Position Given to Mrs. Gladys Ide

Instead of having a separate truant officer and school nurse, the Salem schools this coming year will have a woman in charge acting as both and making through the two interests a special study of the retardation of pupils. At Tuesday night's meeting of the school board Mrs. Gladys Ide, a graduate of Columbia university, was appointed in this position and is to receive a salary of $1000 for nine months work. The principal object in trying out this innovation is an economical one. City Superintendent John W. Todd pointed out to the members of the board that for every time a child repeats a class it costs the school district $40 for the year. In some classes the pupils seem almost to congregate, the failures are so repeated. Mrs. Ide has studied truancy, child psychology and school nursing and it is thought she can ably fill the vacancies left through the resignation of Mrs. W. J. Porter and Miss Grace Taylor.

Two other teachers appointed last night were Miss Mabel Rupert of Salem and Mrs. Mabel McKusick Davies of Albert Lea, Minn. The former is to receive $80 a month in the elementary schools and the latter $100 as instructor in typewriting in the high school. Mr. Todd was authorized to secure a man to fill the place of Rex Putnam, former instructor in mathematics and athletic coach, who resigned this summer. In case it is impossible to find the desired combination the place may be filled by a woman and football will be provided for in some other way. The opinion of the board, however, was that athletics are more than ever desirable, as military drill alone will not give the boys the training which is now proving so valuable in the front lines. It was pointed out that the value athletics has been to the American youth is now being conspicuously demonstrated.

The resignation of Miss Minnetta Magers as music instructor in the high school was also accepted last night but no provision was made for her successor. Among minor matters brought up was the paying of 40 cents an hour to janitors doing extra work before school opens. A motion, which also met with approval, was that applicants for two vacancies as janitors be tried out before being recommended.

Federal Ruling Affects Purchasing of Mohair

Following a recent recommendation made in a letter from Lewis Penwell, chief of the wool division of the war industries board, the Clifford Brown company is not contracting or buying any of the fall mohair clip this year. Government orders have commandeered this and the local company at present is cleaning out the last of the spring clip, which is not included in the order.

Practically all of the mohair from around Salem is taken early in the spring, but southern Oregon is affected by the rule and the wool which would ordinarily be contracted in that section by the local warehouse cannot be considered. Mr. Penwell mentions in his letter that prices and commissions will be fixed and regulations adopted later in the season.
