At the close of the previous quarter $123,578.83 remained and this with $28,797.72, the receipts for the period made a total of $152,374.55. Disbursements amounted to $66,391.07.

Circuit Court Meets and Grinds at Dallas
DALLAS, Or., Oct. 8.—(Special to The Statesman)—The Polk County Circuit court for October has been grinding away on a number of civil cases and is rapidly nearing the end of the docket. Monday afternoon the case of H. L. Crider vs. Graham & Watt for damages was heard and a verdict in favor of the defendant was rendered. Today another case of Crider vs. Graham & Watt for money due on an unexpired lease is occupying the court's attention.

Butler Hears of Death of Brother in France
A newspaper received from his home town in Tennessee has informed Chauncey D. Butler, automobile registration clerk in the secretary of state's office, of the death of his brother, Paul Butler, in a hospital in France. He also was a brother of Judge R. R. Butler of The Dalles. The young man was with the United States marines and was wounded severely in the battle of Chateau-Thierry in the battle of Chateau-Thierry. He was 23 years old. His brother here had a cheerful letter from him a few days ago, written while he was in the hospital, and information of his death was unexpected.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION
Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have
Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Schoolboy Killed by Playmate at Pedee
DALLAS, Or., Oct. 8.—(Special to The Statesman)—Russell Brown, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brown, ranchers in the Pedee vicinity southwest of Dallas was shot and mortally injured late Friday afternoon by Willie Marquette, a schoolmate. The injured lad was rushed to this city and placed in the Dallas hospital where everything was done to save his life but he died early Sunday morning.

The shooting occurred as the boys in company with other children of the neighborhood were going home from school, the Marquette boy leaving the crowd at his home and returning later with a .22-calibre rifle. Members of the party say that he ordered young Brown to carry his coat and when the lad refused he said he would shoot at him and proceeded to commit the act.

Little is known of the Marquette family in the Pedee country. His father is said to have been burned to death in a rooming house in Portland a few years ago and his mother was in Portland at the time of the shooting. The boy is but 3 years of age.

Funeral services over the remains of Russell Brown were held Monday afternoon from the family home near Pedee. Rev. P. F. Plowman of the Evangelical church of this city officiating. The body was laid to rest in the Pedee cemetery.

Five Lives Fire Toll During Last 30 Days
A toll of five lives were taken by fires in Oregon during the month of September, according to the report on September fire losses issued yesterday by Harvey Wells, state insurance commissioner. The persons who lost their lives were:

Mrs. Emma Wiley of Tillamook, who died of shock; John Swick of Linton, who was burned fatally while trying to put out a fire; F. A. Brunson of Pendleton, fatally burned by ignited gasoline while filling his automobile tank by light of a lantern; John Rineberger and Rudolph Strainer of the Hillsboro poor farm, who were burned to death.

Total losses for the month amounted to $256,855 exclusive of Portland. The biggest conflagration of the month was the fire that destroyed the town of Beaver, Tillamook county, with the loss of $100,000.

WAR LABOR NEEDS GREAT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Emphasis on a proper understanding by the people of the necessities of the war and the shortage of labor, was laid today by Chairman Baruch of the war industries board. He pointed out that the shipyards and ordnance plants alone are short 319,000 men and said the war industries board and the labor department's employment service are working on plans to tap the less essential industries for labor for war work.

in the spring. Only the endurance and determined spirit of these troops permitted them to pass to the offensive with such conspicuous success. By their heroic action in defense and attack, the men from all parts of the British empire have proved themselves soldiers of the highest order.

The advance continues this afternoon. We have reached the general line of Bohain, Busigny, Caudry and Caubert.

HALT COAL LICENSES.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Pending investigation of the decided increase in the number of coal and coal distributors within the last few months, the fuel administration announced that no additional licenses for the distribution of the two fuels will be granted. The increase is estimated as nearly 200 per cent.

McNARY BRINGS BIG REDUCTION
Freight Rate on Apples Is Reduced to Maximum of $1.10 Hundred

The public service commission yesterday received a telegram from Chairman Miller, who is in Washington, announcing that the railroad administration has granted a reduction in the transcontinental freight rate to a maximum of $1.10. This is the figure that the apple growers have been contending for. Chairman Miller's telegram gave Senator McNary credit for procuring the reduction. The lower rate will save the growers of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, the three northwest states benefitted, an estimated total of $800,000 this season. The rate is effective immediately and is without prejudice in bringing future complaints. For storage in transit an additional 5 cents a hundred will be charged.

A few days ago a telegram was received from Senator McNary saying that a compromise at $1.15 would probably be the best that could be done.

State Takes Over Big Tillamook County Work
At a meeting of the state highway commission in Portland Tuesday the commission decided to take over the Three Rivers grading and graveling project in Tillamook county, the estimated cost of which is $122,000. The highway is about 10 miles long and it is expected that nine months will be required to complete the work.

A project statement relative to a post road between Burns and Crane in Harney county was signed by the commission and will be presented to the United States highway council for its approval. The estimated cost of the project is $109,000, of which the state and the government will each pay $40,000 and Harney county $29,000.

The commission authorized the expenditure of $15,000 in Wheeler and Gilliam counties for maintenance work. A macadam project of about four miles between Marshfield and Coquille in Coos county was approved by the commission, provided permission of the federal government can be obtained. The Coos county people were represented at the meeting by a delegation headed by Louis Simpson.

New Home for Old Folk May Await End of War
An acre of ground on the north side of Center street at the corner of Sixteenth is to be occupied by the Salem Old People's Home, whenever it is possible to secure the release of materials for its construction. This very likely means that it must wait until after the war. The purchase of the property has been completed and all preliminary arrangements for the erection of a $25,000 structure made. There are now 13 inmates at the old home on Twelfth street, but the proposed building will accommodate many times that number. The selection of the site is considered a particularly fortunate one as it is near the parks.

EPIDEMIC NOT YET IN SALEM
Several Persons Are Scared and Call Doctor, But Illness Is Light

With no reports of cases of Spanish influenza received from official sources in Salem yesterday, it appears that there is as yet no danger of an epidemic such as in other coast cities. City Health Officer Dr. O. B. Miles stated that a number of persons had phoned him concerning supposed cases, but he believed that they were nothing more serious than severe colds or mild cases of influenza one finds at this season of the year in Salem.

Several cases reported at the Chemawa Indian school have proven very light and not of the epidemic type of influenza. Harwood Hall, president of the school, emphatically denied that there need be any concern about them, stating that in an institution of the size of Chemawa there is always a certain amount of illness of this sort. It was supported in his statement by Dr. Mary C. Rowland, consulting physician, who said last night that all of the seven boys in the hospital there had very light attacks and would probably be well shortly.

MAX GEHLHAR HELPS COMPANY
Local Military Man Will Assist in Drill and Lecture Men on Tactics

Captain Max Gehlar, who has had 11 years commissioned experience in the Oregon National guard, and who is now a federalized National guard officer in reserve, has consented to assist in directing a drill and to lecture before Salem's new M company, Oregon National guard, in tactics and other military subjects.

Captain Gehlar is considered one of the best informed military men in the state and is almost an authority on tactics.

An excellent drill period was participated in by the members of the company last night. Several new recruits were added to the company and more are wanted.

Non-commissioned officers school will be held Friday night. All members of the company are welcome to attend.

DISINTEGRATION OF HUN PROMPTS PLEA
ond has its greatest depth before Lens.

Between these two pockets, the Anglo-American drive, supplemented by the French advance east of St. Quentin, has thrust a blunt wedge which not only has engulfed Cambrai, but has torn its way through the whole Hindenburg defense zone into open country beyond.

On the north, the British force pressing in on Lille from the west and north forms the northern jaw of a possible pincer movement against the whole Douai salient. The Germans began a retirement on the Lens-Armentieres front some time ago which they have checked, fearing probably the envelopment of the whole of Cambrai now threatened. The capture of Cambrai, if well, and it is believed here that the enemy must move immediately out of the whole Lille-Douai region.

The situation looks to be even on the Loos front. From the north the British breakthrough almost certainly will give the allies command of the Oise valley in a matter of hours with open ground eastward from Loos itself. To the east, the French troops under General Gouraud already are across the Aisne and are turning the enemy's position on the Sulippe still further east with the American second division aiding.

The Sulippe offers little hope of prolonged resistance, as it is supported by few strong hill positions and the occupation of the Aisne valley in the near future seems a certainty. That would leave the enemy along the front in St. Gobain forest and the heights to the southeast in a difficult position between the Oise and the Aisne lines.

Encircling both these pincer movements stands the great trap tipped on the Meuse jaw by the American first army and in Belgium that has reached Roulers and caused the enemy to prepare for early evacuation of the Flanders coast. At both extremities of this line there are strong indications that new blows are about to be struck.

It has been reported unofficially that the entire French army has been moved to Belgium to supplant the Franco-Belgian effort there. Officers here have noted that recent reports have made no mention of this army and are inclined to believe that a new drive in Belgium is to be expected at any moment.

On the other extreme of the line today's advices show that General Pershing has been cleaning up the ground immediately east of the Meuse where enemy positions stand off the flank of his lines of communication with the most advanced forces near Brestles. This may be a tactical move to prepare the way for a new American drive on the Meuse front.

INFLUENZA REACHES CAMP.
CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 9.—Spanish influenza made its first appearance in Camp Lewis today with the arrival of 217 officers and enlisted men for the 215th engineer regiment from Camp Forest, Ga. It was announced by Major Irby O. McGlasson, division sanitary inspector, tonight. Fifteen cases were discovered in the unit. These were immediately isolated and quarantined at the base hospital. Every other member of the unit was placed immediately in restrictive quarantine to prevent the disease from spreading among other soldiers stationed here.
