DIED
RUSSELL—At her home, 1083 Oak street, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mrs. A. P. Russell. Death was caused by heart trouble. Mrs. Russell is survived by a husband and a large family. The body is at the Rigdon company's establishment. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Body Coming Home—The remains of Kenneth Carlton Crossan of Salem, who died in a naval hospital at Portsmouth, Va., Friday, were sent from that place last night, according to information received by W. T. Rigdon, and are due to arrive in Salem, Sunday, Oct. 20, a week from today.

Ford Stolen—Friday night from 1940 South High street, license number 9922, engine number 1580592, 1917 model center back window out, electric side lights, phone information to W. H. Stevely, phone No. 708.

Mrs. Cochrane Wants Divorce—Huldah E. Cochrane has filed a divorce complaint against her husband, Thomas E. Cochrane on the grounds of desertion. She says he left her on October 10, 1917. The plaintiff asks for all of the property rights of the couple.

All Those Owing—Dr. Mendelsohn for services please call and close your accounts as the doctor expects to leave shortly.

To Our Friends in Salem—It seems impossible at this time to write a reply to each individual letter of sympathy that the many kind friends of Salem have sent us in our sorrow. How much we appreciate these messages of comfort you may all know. That others think of us and feel for us at this time is a source of no little comfort. And so to the dear old Church, and the Endeavor Society, to Capital Assembly #4, United Artisans, and to our many friends we wish to say, "God bless you" for your expressions of sympathy and good will. Very truly yours,
—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kantner.

Notice—We are Ready—To receive cider and vinegar apples at the following prices: Cider apples, sound fruit, shaken from trees, $10.00 per ton. Vinegar apples, windfalls and down fruit, $8.00 per ton. Sacks furnished. Gideon Stolz Co., near Mill and Summer streets.

Mrs. Park Starts Class—Mrs. C. A. Park has consented to organize and teach a Bible class for young people of both sexes, married and unmarried, in the Presbyterian Sunday school. Mrs. Park has had wide experience as a Bible teacher and is a graduate of the Moody institute of Chicago. Her classes, of which she has had several in Salem, speak highly of her as an interesting and helpful instructor. A general invitation to the young people of the city to join this class is extended to those who are not at present attending other Sunday schools. The class will hold its first session Sunday morning, October 20, at the Sunday school hour.

Legal Blanks—Get them at the Statesman job office. Catalog on application.

Assists Miss Sykes—Miss Estina Kumrow left Friday for the Bremerton Navy yard where she has accepted a position with the government in the cafeteria being installed by the Y.M.C.A. She is assistant manager and cashier to Miss Nell Sykes.

Receipts, Notes and All Blanks—At Statesman job office.

Boys Leave School—Four boys from the State Training school ran away from a prune orchard near Rosedale, where they were being employed, Friday afternoon. It is thought that they were responsible for the theft of an automobile taken in this city, as all were sent to the institution on account of stealing cars. The boys went toward Independence, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The runaways were Wallace Crews, aged 15; Russell Hall, 15; Clarence Ward, 14, and Bob Burroughs, 14.

PERSONALS

Lieutenant Carl R. Smith, who is stationed at Wadsworth with the spruce division, is passing the weekend in Salem as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith. H. M. Parry and family made up a motor party of six which drove down from Portland yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McDonald of Eugene stopped at the Marion over night. They were motoring to Portland over Sunday.

J. E. Gunsley of Ocean Lake is at the Bligh.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Morton and two children of Eugene were Saturday night guests at the Bligh.

Dr. White & Walton, Osteopaths—506 U. S. Bank Bldg. Phone 859.

Mrs. Sevits Gets Divorce—Mrs. Mary Hannah Sevits was granted a divorce from Arthur Franklin Sevits yesterday by Circuit Judge Bingham. As the defendant did not appear in court, it was adjudged a clear case of desertion. Mrs. Sevits maintaining that her husband had left her in September of 1915 and gone to a ranch to dig potatoes. She had not heard of him since and was of the opinion that he was hiding in order to avoid the draft.

Trespass Notices—On cloth. The kind that lasts. Statesman job office.

Paul Praast of Dallas Suffers Severe Wounds
An Associated Press dispatch last night announced that Private Paul Praast of Dallas, Oregon, who a few days ago was reported as missing in action, was severely wounded. He is well known at Dallas.

Let no man hereafter call in question the bravery of President Wilson—he remained in Washington all summer. Anybody who has been on Pennsylvania avenue on a hot August afternoon knows what nerve it requires to stay in that heat-blasted town during dog days.—Exchange.

What Are You Doing For The BOY Over There?

When the boy joined the Army or Navy he took out $10,000 in favor of the folks OVER HERE. If he does not return you will be taken care of to the full extent of his ability and because of his life insurance in YOUR favor.

BUT, SUPPOSE the boy comes back incapacitated and is unable to work or engage in business?

Why don't you take out insurance in his favor so that should he come home disabled he will have additional help in his after life?

Better think it over. Better still, come and talk to

Ranaways From Roseburg Found on Salem Train

Two boys beating their way south on a Southern Pacific train were taken into custody at 3:30 yesterday morning by a police officer and brought to the city jail, where they were identified at Mae Butler and Raymond Spencer of Roseburg. The two are 16 and 14 years of age respectively. They left home on October 1 and went to Hood River where they were picking apples. Becoming dissatisfied, they set out on another jaunt. When arrested they gave their names as Lloyd Jackson and Charles McKay, each gave a different age and their stories failed to coincide.

A telegram received by Chief Folland several days ago from Foster Butler, father of one of the boys, who was looking for them at that time in Portland, gave warning that they might pass through the town. The two were taken by surprise when they found that their identity was already known. Mr. Butler was expected in last night to take them home.

Judge Bingham Decides in Defendant's Favor

Judge Bingham yesterday decided the divorce case of Flora M. Butsche versus Mathey Butsche in favor of the defendant. The plaintiff was the only witness as to the acts of cruelty and desertion charged in the complaint. He said it was a rule of the court in divorce proceedings to require evidence corroborating the testimony of the person demanding relief, and that corroboration means additional evidence of a different character on the same point, tending to connect the defendant with the wrongs charged in the complaint.

The court further says that it is its duty to remember that the contract of marriage is not like other contracts, for the state is especially interested in its being preserved un-

30 FOOT TAPEWORM REMOVED

Salem Woman Recommends Treatment of Dr. S. C. Stone
Salem, Ore., Sept. 24, 1918

To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that I was afflicted with tapeworm for about four years and that repeated efforts were made by other physicians to remove it were failures. Finally I went to Dr. S. C. Stone of Salem, Ore., who gave me medicine, and inside of 48 hours the worm came away head and all. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Stone's treatment as entirely satisfactory.

SCULPTOR ELWELL LAUDS CHIROPRACTIC

Famous Weebawkenite Pens Note of Praise for Conover and Impressions of Treatment

F. Edwin Elwell, one of America's most famous sculptors and known all over the world for his works, is a convert to belief in the efficacy of chiropractic treatment. He is eloquent in sounding praises of the profession in general, and particularly concerning Dr. Fred E. Conover, of West New York, pioneer chiropractor, and who treated the noted artist's little son successfully.

"There is no mystery thrown about the working of the Chiropractor. He simply looks to the spine and there sees registered whatever difficulty there may be and exactly where it is located. The medical profession at large has never been able to tell anything by the spine.

"The Chiropractor is occupied with trying to give a more healthy life. The Chiropractor gives no drugs. He examines the spinal column, finds what is out of place, adjusts each section, liberates congested nerves which center at the column, and lets nature begin to do her own work.

"The best minds in America—of the deepest thought—recognize that the Chiropractor has come to stay for a great good and we who have experienced benefits through Chiropractic, are grateful to this highly developed mechanical science for better health and more real happiness.

broken, and the contracting parties cannot annul it, or the court, except for causes specified in the statute and only then when satisfactory evidence is produced that such cause exists. Mere disagreement of the parties, or their failure to live happily together, is not grounds for a divorce.

Motto of the kicking Germans, who are rioting in the streets of Berlin, to the allies: "Welcome to our city."

John W. Davis, our new ambassador to Great Britain, is praised by former Justice Charles E. Hughes. "Mr. Davis is a lawyer of distinguished ability," says Mr. Hughes. "His work as solicitor general has won the highest commendation. I am deeply gratified at his selection as ambassador to Great Britain. He will be in every way a worthy representative of the country. Aside from his ability as a lawyer, he is a most effective speaker and a man of rare personal charm."
