Franchise Is Allowed—By an order of the public service commission yesterday a franchise is granted to the Veneta Timber Products company to boom logs on Coyote creek in Lane county. Improvements planned by the company are the construction of a splash dam and a catching boom and the clearing of the stream. It is said that a large amount of merchantable timber can be transported as a result of the improvements proposed.

Receipts, Notes and All Blanks—At Statesman job office.

Called to Service—Miss Laura Heist, daughter of Mrs. Susanna Heist, 828 North Commercial street, received her call for service in France yesterday. Miss Heist took the reconstruction aid course at Reed college during the past semester and goes to France in that capacity. She has been teaching in the commercial department of the Salem high school. Miss Heist was graduated from Willamette university with the class of 1914. She leaves for New York, en route to France, today.

Campaign Is Slow—Memberships to the Commercial club have been coming in very slowly the past two days and only about five have been added to the first 300. The principal difficulty lies in getting the committees out to work in the business districts, many of them not even having reported yet. The club must have 400 members by Saturday night. If the drive is to be brought to a successful close before it interferes with the coming allied war fun campaign.

Flu Masks May Be Worn—Unless the Spanish influenza epidemic has died out by election day next Tuesday it is possible that precinct boards may be asked to wear gauze masks. This was the suggestion made yesterday by County Health Officer Dr. C. E. Cashatt. As a precautionary measure it is probable that signs warning voters to fill in their ballots rapidly and move on in order to prevent crowds congregating may be put up by the judges and clerks at the polls.

Rev. Mr. Stansfield in East—Rev. J. A. Stansfield, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, is on his way to New York by way of San Francisco. Because of the demand for church services in Colorado, from which diocese Rev. Mr. Stansfield would not consent to his transfer here. It is probable that Rev. H. C. Powell of La Grande will take his place here as he has been in the city in conference with local church officials.

Dog Owners Beware—Persons who own dogs that have an antipathy for sheep should keep the dogs within their premises or they are likely to suffer capital punishment for depredations committed on neighboring flocks. Two dogs, a shepherd and a female of the bulldog species, recently killed a flock of sheep east of Salem, killed several of them and injured a number of others fatally. The sheep were valued at about $20 each and more than a score of them were killed and injured. The owners of the dogs gave the owner of the sheep permission to kill the canines, which was done accordingly.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Lea Turner died Monday, October 28, at the Deaconess hospital. She leaves her husband, Frank Turner, and three daughters, Elizabeth, 14 years old; Flora, 10, and Alice, an infant daughter, 3 months old.

Mary Lea was born at Marysville, Cal., May 30, 1858. She was united in marriage to Frank Turner March 19, 1894.

Mrs. Turner has been ill during the past few months, and her death was due to heart trouble. A few months before her death she was taken to the home of Mrs. Lennie Hewett. Three weeks before her death she was taken to the Deaconess hospital, where she underwent an operation which failed to save her life.

In the passing to the spiritual world October 21 of Mrs. J. A. Purvine, many hearts were touched to tender grief at the seeming loss to the living.

Although born in Washington, Iowa, March 4, 1858, her childhood spent in the east, her later years were spent in Salem, and Spring Valley and she was truly a western girl, the type all the world loves, tender,

STEINER BUSY AT ORGANIZING

Several Local Defense Councils Formed in Different Parts of County.

Seven councils of defense in Marion county outside of Salem have been organized in the past week by Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, chairman for this district. Last night Turner was added to the list, which already included Woodburn, Jefferson, St. Paul, Mount Angel, Hubbard and Stayton. It is planned to have the remaining large towns organized within a few days.

Up to the present there have been no local councils outside of Salem. Since the re-formation of the council in this city last month considerable work has been accomplished in the line of looking for profiteers and persons suspected of making seditious utterances and attending to similar matters.

PERSONALS

Attorney Frank A. Turner is in Portland on legal business.

J. H. Cook, C. J. Carlson, Mrs. James Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dory made up a motor party from Portland yesterday. They stopped for lunch at the Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Adams, George M. Adams and Laura Adams are stopping at the Bligh while waiting to secure a house in Salem. They have moved from Portland and expect to make their home here.

Daisy E. Phenneger of Langlois is at the Bligh.

A. Bracht of Dallas was an overnight visitor at the Bligh.

IN HUMBLE STREET.

The little house in Humble street is white with roses pure and sweet; Above the doors the colors flare, Below the flag a star gleams fair— For the young soldier in the line Who left his home to cross the Rhine, And fight for Humble street.

Since soldier-boy went off to drill The little house is very still; It says to all "He's gone to France, To prove his grit with deadly chance, And cry aloud 'They shall not pass,' Nor savage Humble street."

Where neighbors keep the girl-wife trim To watch her flush with pride of him; Where every sunrise breathes its prayer— That God will hold him "over there" While roses clamber high and sweet Above his home in Humble street, Where blooms a service star, —Mary Stewart Daggett.

Military Courtesy Lacks in Salem, Says Register

That people in this city aren't accustomed to common military courtesy and do not salute the flag as often as they should is the statement of Lieutenant Edmund S. Register, acting commandant at Willamette university. A number of people are in the habit of stopping near the campus when the bugle sounds "to colors" and witnessing the raising or lowering of the flag. While the students stand at attention, civilians fail to do so. According to Lieutenant Register, the correct attitude for members of the faculty passing across the grounds and onlookers to take would be to stop and remove their hats. This is customary where large military camps are located. People in automobiles stopping in the street near the flag pole should also step out and salute in the same way.

faithful, loving, with the high courage, brave spirit, which did always higher care and make merry with joy.

Her love for the beautiful outdoors, the woods, the hills, and the blue sky, and for the green things that grew was a passion second only to her love for her friends.

Her early education was gained in Iowa and after moving to Oregon, she graduated from the Salem high school.

On October 23, 1907, she was married to J. F. Purvine. With the exception of one year spent in Salem, they had lived on the old home place of A. J. Purvine in Spring Valley.

Her tenderness and devotion to her family are known best to them. Her courage, loyalty, and wide reaching spirit of helpfulness are known to many. Never did a child appeal to her without receiving full measure of consideration. One baby boy, Orin B. Purvine died seven years ago.

Lowell B. Purvine and her husband survive her.

She was a member of the Methodist church from girlhood until she came to live here and then she united with the Presbyterian church.

She was an enthusiastic worker in the missionary society, and of the Red Cross since its organization and it is here where she will be greatly missed.

The funeral was held October 24, and was conducted by Rev. W. T. Scott, assisted by Rev. G. A. McKinley, who have been long time friends and who have officiated in like services for the family several times.

The music was rendered by her most intimate friends in accordance with her wish. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott and Mr. and Mrs. France McKinley composing the quartette.

The floral offerings from her friends were many and beautiful.

COMMITTEE IS READY TO GO

United War Fund Drive Leaders Discuss Plans at Commercial Club.

An enthusiastic meeting of the campaign committee for the united war work drive November 11 to 18, was held at the Commercial club on Wednesday night. Those present were chairman R. C. Bishop, W. M. Hamilton, T. B. Kay, Theo. Roth, E. T. Barnes, T. K. Ford, T. A. Liveley, Charles Vick, R. P. Boise, D. W. Eyre, W. I. Staley, Dr. B. L. Steeves and Oscar B. Gingrich. A meeting was held earlier in the day and preliminary plans and organization matters in general discussed.

Chairman R. C. Bishop made a general statement concerning the campaign in which he emphasized the necessity of obtaining many contributions of substantial sums in order to meet the $25,000 quota which has been assigned to the Salem division. The Salem division comprises the city and all rural routes out of Salem.

County Chairman Staley made a statement concerning the organization of the county in general and said that in every instance he, together with Director Smith, were received enthusiastically and that in his opinion the campaign would be a marked success providing the preliminary organization was attended to properly.

Campaign Director Gingrich said that in no former campaign was there as much time for preliminary preparation as for this one and that if the eve of the campaign finds the committee inadequately prepared they will have been woefully negligent.

BOYS ARE MOST PRONE TO STEAL

Theft and Delinquency Main Offenses that Cause Commitments.

The biennial report of Superintendent L. M. Gilbert of the State Training School for Boys as submitted to the state board of control shows that the most common offenses for which boys are sent to the school are stealing and delinquency. Commitments for these offenses during the biennium closing September 30 were 101 and 69 respectively.

Interesting statistics are shown relative to the family records of the boys received during the two years. The following figures are shown: Parents separated or divorced, 42; parents both living, 163; parents both dead, 15; father dead, 55; mother dead, 42; condition unknown, 7. More boys are received at the age of 15 than any other age. The present population of the school is 148. A total of 376 were received during the biennium and 338 were paroled and escaped. The number of those eloping was 33.

The 1917 legislature appropriated $72,433 for the school, of which $70,691.33 was expended up to September 30, leaving a balance of $1,743.67. The sum of $8,905.71 was spent from the last previous appropriation, making total expenditures $85,597.04.
