WISE MAN SAID: The way to make friends is to be friendly; the way to promote fraternity is to be brotherly; the way to secure harmony is to yield pleasantly to the will of the majority; the way to be happy is to make others happy; the way to conquer an enemy is to return good for evil; the way to secure the respect of your lodge is to show deference for the opinion of your brothers and sisters and instead of kicking at everything that is done, put your shoulders to the wheel and help roll it along; the way to make yourself a useful member of an order is to be useful, not only at a banquet and in the show procession, but in a sick room and every place where a member is in distress; the way to work for the good of the order is to induce others to read the literature and keep posted about the order; the way to make your life bright is to carry sunshine with you; the way to be a true member is to do unto others as you would have them do unto you. — ErhWange.

Just what is the war program of the Young Women's Christian association and how does it spend its money secured through the drives? is a question asked by many people, who realizing that girls and women do not go to the front, are not quite certain on this point. In view of the Y. W.'s participation in the big drive to be held all over the country next month, the following facts concerning the expenditures of its $5,000,000 last year are interesting and timely:

were accompanied by Miss Irene Hodgkin and Miss Gladys Nichols who have been spending the week at the Nichols' home. Miss Nichols and Miss Hodgkin are students at Willamette university.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. McMechan left Saturday for Yakima, Wash., to spend two weeks at the home of Mr. McMechan's parents. While in Washington they will spend a few days in various Puget sound cities, among them Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane.

Friday night a merry group of girls gathered at the bidding of the Lausanne freshmen tea the "Spook assembly". The assembly room of Lausanne hall was decorated in typical Halloween fashion. The freshmen girls glided around clad as ghosts and entertained by fortune telling and other stunts. A number of old-fashioned games were played until late hour after which light refreshments were served.

Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, received word that the exercises which were to have been held Saturday by the Sarah Shildress Polk chapter, D. A. R., at Dalles in connection with the unveiling of the monument to mark the site of the first Polk county court house have been postponed indefinitely. A number of members of Chemeketa chapter had planned to attend the event.

Miss Greta Witzel delightfully entertained a bevy of girls informally at her residence, 415 North Cottage street, Thursday evening. The affair was in honor of Miss Mary Barrick who is leaving the first of the week for her home in Portland. Those invited were: Miss Lucy Holt, Miss Mabel Barrick, Miss Mary Belle Reinhardt and Miss Gerta Witzel.

Miss Barrick has lived in Salem for the past number of years and will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends. Her father, L. E. Barrick, is leaving for Independence where he plans to locate permanently. Miss Barrick will make her home in Portland with her sister, Mrs. Fred Desart (Edna Barrick).

John McCormack, the always welcome, is on his way to the coast. He has been fortunate in being able to continue his tour up to the present. However, the influenza in Southern California, where he was to appear has made it necessary to rearrange his dates, which now scheduled will bring him to Los Angeles much later this season. Manager Behymer recently received a telegraphic communication which positively verifies his coming later. Mr. McCormack will appear sometime this month in a concert in Portland. Music is daily proving one of the essential amusements of the war. It stimulates the boys in camp and the sailors at sea, and for those at home it is of immeasurable value. Since the opening of the war, the larger cities of the United States have enjoyed a number who have been forced to remain in the United States. Instead of giving their concerts in Europe.

Miss Hazel Fishwood returned the first of the week to Salem after having spent a few days at "Cedarcroft", the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fishwood, at Creswell, Or. Miss Fishwood is art teacher at the Salem high school.

Miss Blossom Redmon and Miss Olive Rae Metcalf Hand returned Friday evening from Newport where they have been the past two weeks.

While at the seashore they were the guests of Mrs. James Rae. Mrs. Hand and Miss Redmond are teaching in the Salem high school.

Captain and Mrs. O. D. Byrd are the proud parents of a daughter born to them Thursday, Oct. 31, at the Salem hospital. The little miss has been named Virginia Mary. Messages of felicitation have been showered upon Mrs. Byrd upon the arrival of the daughter, which was birthday of the little miss' uncle, Dr. W. H. Byrd. Captain Byrd left last July from Camp Lewis and later for overseas service in France, and since that time Mrs. Byrd has been making her home with Mrs. Martha Byrd at 410 Union street.

Miss Lena Hansen and Miss Laura Hansen are spending a few days in Portland visiting with friends and relatives.

Miss Dorothy Buchner and a number of her sorority sisters of Oregon Agricultural college motored up from Corvallis recently for a brief stay at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buchner, at 1210 Court street. Miss Buchner is a member of the Delta Psi fraternity.

Miss Emily Cornell of Portland is the guest of Mrs. Ida M. Babcock at her home, 749 North Commercial street, this week.

Mrs. B. J. Miles and son, Donald Miles, are spending a few days in Portland as the guests of Mrs. Miles' daughter, Mrs. W. A. Knight. They will return to Salem early in the week.

Miss Laura Heist received official notification Thursday from the surgeon general of Oregon to report for immediate duty in reconstruction work. She has been instructor in the commercial department of the Salem high school. Miss Heist is a graduate of Willamette university with the class of 1914. She left for New York Friday preparatory to sailing overseas.

A new course of training will open December 1 at Reed college. This step was decided upon owing to the recent heavy casualties on the western front, the surgeon general having revised his estimate of needs and notified the college that 7000 reconstruction aids in physiotherapy would be needed. This is approximately seven times the estimate of three months ago. It now seems possible that every candidate who is admitted and receives the recommendation of the college will be appointed by the surgeon general to assist returning soldiers in recovery of the use of their functions in military hospitals of this country or France. These women will receive all living expenses and traveling expenses, $64 a month as head aides, and $50 a month as aides. Their uniform will be provided by the Red Cross.

One of the most charming social affairs of the week was a tea given in Portland Friday afternoon given by Mrs. J. R. Montgomery in honor of Miss Fanny Chamberlain, daughter of United States Senator Chamberlain, whose wedding to Horace Texis will be the event of the very near future.

Invitations for the wedding have been sent out by Senator and Mrs. Chamberlain, the ceremony to take place at Westminster Presbyterian church Thursday, November 13, at 8:30 o'clock. The wedding of these popular young people is one of the important social events of the year in Oregon.

A picture of Miss Elizabeth Fox, formerly Dean of Women, at the University of Oregon, who is on a leave of absence from the university to engage in war work with the Young Women's Christian association war board in France, is posted on the bulletin board of the library at the university. The picture is in a war work bulletin for October 4, which is issued by the national board of the Y. W. C. A. The message in this bulletin is for nurses in France. Miss Fox' picture appears in a group of women who are having tea at Tours, on the recreation island in the Loire.

Miss Edith Claxton was a delightful hostess Thursday evening when she joyfully entertained with a Halloween party. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the festive season and black and white were in evidence in all the spooky and dark corners of the rooms. The guests were received at the door by ghosts, attired in white sheets, who were no other than Miss Alice Claxton and Miss Catheryn Parker. The evening was passed with music and dancing after which a dainty luncheon was served in keeping with the war-time requirements. Mrs. Fred Barker and Mrs. Mary Barker served. Those bidden were: Orleans Thomas, Esther Halesgard, Pearl Collins, Daisy Valley, Edith McFarland, Selma Barts, Grace McDonald, Mae Varley, Bernice Gohson, Edith Barker, Marcell Thomas, Minards Fahy, and Francis Traak of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Whitney celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Friday afternoon at their home, 2105 North Liberty street, when they were honored at a charming reception. A number of out-of-town guests were present and a number of old-time friends called to pay their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Whitney.

About 60 guests called during the afternoon between the hours of 2 and 5. The reception rooms were brilliant with masses of deep yellow chrysanthemums and golden marigolds. Autumn foliage was in evidence about the rooms which lent a gay color scheme to the decorations. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Whitney in the receiving lines were their daughters, Mrs. Paul Hauser, Mrs. W. J. Hagedorn and Mrs. Lloyd Ramsden assisted about the rooms, and at the tea tables. Mrs. Louis Thompson of Portland assisted. Dainty refreshments in keeping with the war-time regulations were served during the afternoon. The couple were the recipients of a number of handsome gifts and congratulatory messages. All of the twelve children were present with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. W. J. Bann, of Los Angeles. The daughters present were: Nellie W. J. Hagedorn and Mrs. Nellie Bunn of Salem; Mrs. F. N. Lupton of Portland; Mrs. J. H. Steivers of Alta. Ia.; Mrs. James Ennis, Cherokee, Ia.; Miss Nina Whitney of Portland; Mrs. Lloyd Ramsden of Salem; Mrs. Stacy Reeves of Astoria and Mrs. L. W. Price of Salem.

Mrs. J. B. Sutherland charmingly presided at a luncheon Thursday at her residence on Chemeketa street, complimenting Mrs. Anderson Cannon of Portland. Later in the afternoon a few close friends of Mrs. Cannon were bidden in to tea to greet the guest. Mrs. Sutherland frequently entertains informally with afternoon affairs which are always charming in their simplicity. Mrs. Cannon is the guest of Mrs. L. F. Jones, at Labish Meadows.

Mrs. R. W. Walton, who is an instructor in the Lebanon high school this winter, is in Salem with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith, 176 Center street. Mrs. Walton recently received a message from her husband, Dr. Walton, stating that he was sailing for France. Dr. Walton, who is in the medical corps, was first stationed at Fort Riley, Kas. A little over a week ago he was transferred to Camp Fremont, where he found awaiting him field orders to leave immediately for New York, preparatory to sailing overseas.

Mrs. Robert Ewing entertained a few friends very informally at a pretty appointed luncheon Wednesday in compliment to her house guest, Mrs. Russell Seaton of Corvallis. Mrs. Seaton returned to her home the latter part of the week.

The women of the S. A. T. C. club of the First Methodist church have issued invitations to the members of the S. A. T. C. of Willamette university for each Saturday night during the winter months. The first event will be given by the mothers here of the boys "over there." The second will be conducted by the mothers of the boys "over here." Plans are being formulated to have the fathers preside at one of the meetings. All of the university girls and the girls of the church are to be welcomed at each festivity. The executive committee of the club is composed of the following members: Mesdames H. H. Vandervort, C. G. Doney, G. H. Alden, B. L. Stevens, A. A. Lee, A. E. Hunt, I. L. McKams, M. C. Findley, F. A. Legg, B. N. Avison, U. G. Holt, W. F. Proctor, W. E. Vincent, E. I. Farmer, B. T. Randall, D. W. Fisher, C. C. Clark, M. B. Parangogian, R. L. Walker, and Miss Adella Chapter.

A few friends were entertained Wednesday evening at dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Rollo, at their residence, 230 Mission street. The dining table was artistically decorated with fern and gray colored autumn leaves. Seated around the table were: Rev. and Mrs. H. N. Aldrich, Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Holt, Mrs. A. McConnell and Mr. and Mrs. Rollo.

Miss Fannie Binegar was united in marriage to Ralph Gesner at a quiet wedding Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, at the home of Rev. R. N. Avison of the First Methodist church. The wedding was marked by the simplicity and the bride was attended by Mrs. Bessie Undergrass. The couple will take up their residence at 666 Perry street.

A very pleasant evening was spent (Continued on page six)
