EXPRESS FIRMS FIGHT ASSESSOR

Attorney McCamant Appears Before Commission for Lower Valuation
 Attorney Wallace McCamant of Portland was heard yesterday in conference with the state tax commission relative to a plan whereby he hopes to have the assessment against the American Express company and the Wells Fargo Express company cut down and to persuade the commission to adopt another plan of assessment which would eliminate what Mr. McCamant declares is discrimination against the express companies.

The present valuation of the companies is based on the capitalization of earnings, which Mr. McCamant claims is discriminating for the reason that no other class of taxpayers is assessed in that way.
 The tangible assets of the American Express company in Oregon, he shows, amount to $39,783 and the assessed valuation is $203,709. The tangible assets of the Wells Fargo company Attorney McCamant places at $115,101, aside from the company's building in Portland which is assessed separately, and the assessed valuation is $351,439. He is urging the Oregon commission to adopt a plan whereby the average assessment for three years would be made and from this would be deducted all non-express assets. The assessments he would apportion among the states according to mileage. For the three year period the stock value for the whole United States would average $28,507,000. The property not used in the express business would be valued at $19,467,229, leaving approximate operating value assets of $9,140,000, and making Oregon's share $141,647.

Why Compare Beef and Coal Profits?

Swift & Company has frequently stated that its profit on beef averages only one-fourth of a cent a pound, and hence has practically no effect on the price.

Comparison has been made by the Federal Trade Commission of this profit with the profit on coal, and it has pointed out that anthracite coal operators are content with a profit of 25 cents a ton, whereas the beef profit of one-fourth of a cent a pound means a profit of $5.00 a ton.

The comparison does not point out that anthracite coal at the seaboard is worth at wholesale about $7.00 a ton, whereas a ton of beef of fair quality is worth about $400.00 wholesale.

To carry the comparison further, the 25 cent profit on coal is 3 1/2 per cent of the $7.00 value.

The $5.00 profit on beef is only 1 1/4 per cent of the $400.00 value.

The profit has little effect on price in either case, but has less effect on the price of beef than on the price of coal.

Coal may be stored in the open air indefinitely; beef must be kept in expensive coolers because it is highly perishable and must be refrigerated.

Coal is handled by the carload or ton; beef is delivered to retailers by the pound or hundred weight.

Methods of handling are vastly different. Coal is handled in open cars; beef must be shipped in refrigerator cars at an even temperature.

Fairness to the public, fairness to Swift & Company, fairness to the packing industry, demands that these indisputable facts be considered. It is impossible to disprove Swift & Company's statement, that its profits on beef are so small as to have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

DRAFT MEN'S STATUS SHOWN

Procedure to Be Followed for Different Ages Shown in Message

The status of men who registered on September 12 under the draft enactment is explained in the following telegram which the local draft board received yesterday from Adjutant General Beebe of Oregon, quoting from Provost Marshal General Crowder to General Beebe:
 "The secretary of war has today issued the following order to the provost marshal general:
 "You will at once instruct state headquarters and local and district boards immediately to discontinue all work connected with the classification of men who on September 12, 1918, had attained their 37th birthday. You will further instruct said boards to continue to complete as expeditiously as possible the classification of all registrants who on September 12, 1918, had attained their 19th birthdays and had not attained their 37th birthdays. You will, finally, at the earliest appropriate moment direct all local and district boards to issue questionnaires to all registrants who on September 12, 1918, had attained their 18th birthdays and had not attained their 19th, to proceed with and complete as early as possible the classification of such registrants."
 "Further orders will be issued later covering the matter of sending questionnaires to and classifying 18-year-old registrants."
 "In entering pursuant to the foregoing instructions upon what seems, in view of the mighty events of the day, to be the final work of this character to be done by the selective service system, I extend to the members of that system my personal congratulations upon their truly great achievements of the past year and a half, achievements that have taxed to the utmost, the time, the ability and the endurance of all those engaged in the work, and that have furnished the army with the credit measure must be given the credit for saving to the world both civilization and government by the people.
 "To you, members of that system, must come a sense of duty well done which only a loyalty, patriotism

Justice Conrad P. Olson of the supreme court is ill at his apartments in the home of Charles K. Spaulding on Court street. His illness appears to be either influenza or a nervous breakdown.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat most regularly.

No man or woman who eats most regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you feel sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so that no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which is regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

FLU PATIENTS NUMBER 125

Penitentiary Disorganized by Malady, But Cases Are All Light Ones

With 125 prisoners and eight employees at the state penitentiary ill with influenza every available room at the prison has been converted into a temporary hospital and beds have been borrowed from the state hospital, boys' training school and other places. Cots have been placed in the auditorium, shoe shop, Bertillon room and surgery, and these in addition to the regular prison hospital are crowded with patients.

In all cases the disease is said to be light, which is attributed to inoculation. All other activity at the prison has been stopped, and all available help is used to combat the malady. Three deaths that occurred at the penitentiary a few days ago are said to have been caused by a complication of influenza with other chronic ailments with which the patients were afflicted.
