Car Stolen Twice—
 After he had gone from Portland to Albany to claim his Chandler roadster, stole a few days ago, R. M. Bain of the former city, reported yesterday to the police that he had again been robbed of his car while he was eating his lunch in Salem. The machine was standing in front of the White House restaurant during the noon hour and was missing when Mr. Bain had finished his meal. The number of the machine is 53,927. Police in Albany notified the owner early this week that they had located his car there before he knew it had been taken from Portland. He had just come after the machine and was driving it home when he passed through Salem.

People Object to Crossings—
 Complaints have recently been poring upon the city street commissioner concerning the condition of two crossings over the Southern Pacific tracks. Objections have been made to those on Trade and Church streets and Chemeketa and High, people claiming that they are extremely dangerous. Walter S. Low has looked into the matter but has been unable to get any action from the railroad company in regard to taking the necessary precautions.

DIED

BOOTHBY—BOOTHBY—At the residence, 555 East Main street, November 16, 1918, Very Boothby, aged 25 years, beloved daughter of Mary Rossanago Campbell, wife of Wilbur Boothby, sister of Louise and Francis Rossanago and Mrs. Claud Tackaberry, all of this city. At the residence, Nov. 16, Eddie Boothby, aged 11 years, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boothby, brother of Wilbur Boothby and Fay Wilkerson. Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Tuesday, November 19,) at 3 p. m. at the chapel of Miller and Tracey. Interment at Rose City. The above notice appearing in the Portland Oregonian of Wednesday is of interest to Salem friends of the Boothby family who were residents of this city many years. It also recalls the fact that this is the second time that a double death has visited the family in a single day. A few years ago the little son John McCourt and Tot Boothby McCourt was brought here for burial when grief at the loss of her little grandson caused the death of Mrs. W. F. Boothby.

FISCHER—At his home, 332 North Twentieth street, Wednesday morning, November 20, 1918, William H. Fischer. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Anna Fischer and Mrs. T. W. Cress. As yet no funeral arrangements have been made.

ROTAN—In Portland, Wednesday, November 20, 1918, at the age of 72 years, Mrs. E. H. Rotan. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. H. T. Clark, Mrs. Wilbur F. Brock and Miss Oskie Rotan, all of Portland. The funeral services will be held from Rigdon's chapel, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Vester N. Bones III—
 Mrs. W. A. Bones has just received word that her son, Vester N. Bones is seriously ill with pneumonia at Camp Lewis. The family live just out of the city near the state training school.

Men Grateful for Apples—
 Members of the Oregon guard, who met two through trains to California bearing discharged soldiers from Camp Lewis, were greeted with shouts of joy yesterday when they presented apples to those on board. William Gahldorf, chairman of the Red Cross canteen committee, is directing the work and has instructions to meet all trains on which the men are expected to pass through Salem within the next few days, only small number are being sent at a time. They are generally to be found in the first coach after the baggage car.

Mrs. Halferty Wants Money—
 After Downer Halferty had withdrawn his divorce suit before the circuit court, Mrs. Axie Halferty yesterday filed a complaint in which she requested the court to furnish her with funds to prosecute the case. She asks for $250 and an assured income for the future. Mrs. Halferty claims that her husband treated her cruelly and she ran away from their home near Chemawa and secured employment in a laundry in Salem. He then filed a divorce suit and when she asked for suit money she alleges he withdrew the action rather than pay it. The case was dismissed. Now she claims she is afraid to live with him, and that she is in poor health and far away from friends and relatives who would aid her in support and provide her with needed clothing.

Complete Inspections—
 When State School Superintendent J. A. Churchill and County Superintendent W. M. Smith have made their trip to Hubbard and Woodburn today, they will have completed an inspection of the high schools of the county. They are examining them in order to ascertain whether all are keeping up to the prescribed standards.

To Open Sewing Room—
 Sewing machines are to be placed on the second floor of the federal building, over the postoffice and may be used by any Red Cross auxiliary desiring to meet there to work on refugee garments. The former day class in surgical dressings is to carry this on systematically while the night class, under the direction of Mrs. F. A. Elliott, will continue to work on a small order of surgical supplies for the government. This class will meet on Friday night at 7:15. Several more sewing machines are still needed for the other work rooms. As soon as the material for bandages can be put out of the way the entire chapter will move its quarters to the federal building.

Loses Right Eye—
 C. L. Adams, for several years a candy maker at the Spa, is at the Willamette sanitarium while the doctors are taking precautions to save his left eye injured last Friday when he attempted to open a barrel of glucose. The right eye was struck by a piece of steel broken from the chisel, with which he was removing the lid of the container, and Mr. Adams lost the sight of it entirely.

Many a person must have died lately who had wished to live long enough to see what became of the Kaiser. The late Mrs. Russell Sage's last words were, "Has the Kaiser abdicated?"

JAMES ELVIN IS COMMENDED
Message Praising His Work in Columbia County Is Sent Dr. Mott
 James Elvin, Salem Congregational minister who recently returned to Oregon after nine months in France as a Y.M.C.A. secretary, contributed so materially to the success of Columbia county in exceeding its quota in the united war fund campaign that the following commendatory message has been sent to Dr. John R. Mott of New York, national director of the campaign. The telegram is sent by Orlando W. Davidson director for Oregon: "Columbia county of Oregon has raised its quota plus 50 per cent. James Elvin of Salem, Or., Y. M. C. A. secretary recently returned from France, is credited with contributing largely to this result as he did practically all of the public speaking in this Columbia county is raising $700 in addition to figures mentioned above which they estimate was the expense of bringing Elvin from France to Oregon." Relative to this message to Dr. Mott Mr. Davidson has addressed the following brief letter to Mr. Elvin: "I want to express to you my appreciation of your valuable services during the united war fund campaign. Dr. Elvin and Mr. Charles Wheeler of Columbia county have both told me about your work in that district and have both expressed their appreciation of your valuable services. I am, therefore, today sending the enclosed telegram to John R. Mott."

Lieutenant Chenoweth Is Cited for Promotion
 A recent letter received by Mrs. O. I. Chenoweth of Corvallis from her husband, Lieutenant Chenoweth with Company M, of the Ninth Infantry in France and enclosed a recommendation by the commander for Lieutenant Chenoweth's promotion to a captaincy. "On account of the excellent qualities displayed at St. Mihiel offensive and at the battle of Medjah farm," is the reason given for this recommendation. Lieutenant Chenoweth is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity at Purdue university and well known among the men of that fraternity throughout the state. He went to France with the Third Oregon as 1st lieutenant of Company L. He was transferred to the company he is now with on August 20. According to Lieutenant Chenoweth the short time he has been with this company may stand in the way of his promotion. "The beginning of the battle of St. Mihiel was the most beautiful and at the same time the most horrible sight I ever saw," writes Lieutenant Chenoweth, who was one of the first men over the top. Lieutenant Chenoweth is a graduate of Salem high school.

Good Citizenship to Be Talked to the Soldiers
 SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 20.—Noted speakers are being used to instill lessons in good citizenship and civic welfare in the minds of soldiers who are about to be disbanded by military authorities at Camp Travis in what is probably the first move in the plans of the morale section of the army for a great reorganization program. Acting virtually under orders of Camp Travis authorities, although traveling under the auspices of the army Y.M.C.A., Dr. Ira Landrith, educator and late candidate for vice-president of the United States, heads the list of speakers here and daily is addressing soldiers assembled by order of their commanding officers. Other speakers at Camp Travis are combating what army officers term the peculiar propaganda now generally encountered that "now that the Germans are whipped, let us make brothers of them."

Apollo Club Practicing For Concerts of Season
 Practice for two big concerts to be given by the Apollo club this season is now in full swing and a chorus of 24 men is meeting regularly to go over their numbers for the first appearance of the season on January 10. No admission is to be charged this year, as the club is supported by associate memberships and each of the associates will be invited to four invitations at each concert. As there will be at least 100 of these memberships, an audience of be-

May Spread Prohibition Through Peace Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 20.—The peace conference as a means of spreading the prohibition movement into countries yet untouched by anti-saloon forces was advocated here tonight at the world-wide conference on prohibition, held under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

Rev. P. A. Baker, national superintendent of the league, said "that somehow prohibition sentiment must make itself felt at the peace table," but he did not indicate just what means might be adopted.

William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, addressing tonight's session, aroused applause when he alluded to the probable signing by President Wilson within a day or two of the national war prohibition bill. Mr. Bryan declared sale of intoxicating beverages on the continent of North America is nearing its end rapidly and that when prohibition has become effective in the United States and Canada officials of other nations should be invited here to note the results, which, he believes, will be most convincing and effective in the advancement of the conference's aim of international prohibition.

Mr. Baker, speaking of the world-wide movement, said: "The time is opportune for a great, aggressive, world-wide movement against the alcoholic drink traffic. When the peace treaty is signed we will be in a new world wherein righteousness will flourish less hindered than any period in the past. If weak nations are to be protected from those who would coin their weakness and wickedness into cash." Mr. Bryan applauded loudly today when Ernest H. Cherrington, general manager of the publishing interests of the Anti-Saloon league, declared that "hereafter no president who is not representative of the prohibition conscience of the United States must sit in the White House."

between 500 and 600 will be assured. The first program is to be divided in two parts with the interim between devoted to a social time. The choruses are to be made up of the members of the club and other numbers will be given by the best soloists it is possible to obtain. One of these is Mrs. Amy Fahey, a soprano singer of Victoria, B. C. John W. Todd is acting as director again this year. Officers of the club are Justice George H. Burnett, president; F. G. Deekbach, vice president, and W. T. Jenks, secretary.

Dangerous Curve in Road Made Straight by County

SILVERTON, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special to The Statesman).—The bend by Pudding river below the R. M. Harding place, in the Scanty road, sometimes called the Salem road, has been straightened. The bridge has been moved a little to the south so that, where it read formerly a wavy little to the north, creating a dangerous curve into the bridge, it now crosses the bridge directly and goes straight up the hill on the west side without any crooks.

Alfred Jensen, who enlisted in the polytechnic institution at Portland sometime ago, has been at the Vancouver hospital for about 10 days. He is expected home for a short visit the latter part of this week. Miss Elsie Sobberg will go to Portland Wednesday morning to attend business college.

 amounts were as high as that and explained that different state organizations raised various amounts, each brewery being assessed on the amount of its output. In the "wet" and "dry" campaign in Nebraska several years ago, he said, the assessment was 50 cents for each barrel brewed. The "fight was lost," the witness added. In reply to questions, the witness said the Pennsylvania state association adopted the policy of destroying check stubs and cancelled checks each month after its bank accounts were balanced. No minutes of its meetings were kept. "Wasn't it because the activity of the Pennsylvania state association was entirely political that you thought it best to adopt this policy?" asked Major Humes. The witness denied this, saying labor disputes which he desired to keep from the public led to the adoption of this policy. It was while Secretary Fox was on the stand that Major Humes read the statement said to have been prepared for the former president of the German-American alliance. Copies of the statement, which was a declaration of the alliance's position on the European war before the United States became a belligerent, was sent to F. W. Felgenbaum of Newark, N. J., who aided in financing the purchase of the Washington Times and the Montgomery Advertiser and who then was chairman of the publications committee of the brewers' association. Hexamer's statement condemned as sabotage the destruction of American factories engaged in producing war materials for the allies and also condemned the sinking of ships carrying munitions. Those responsible for such should be punished, Hexamer said, but he added that he did not believe they were committed at the instigation of Germany or Austria. "This indicates that some literary inclined person in the office of the United States Brewers' association was writing German propaganda, doesn't it?" asked Major Humes. "I don't recall anything about it," Mr. Fox replied. "Mr. Felgenbaum was the chairman of the publications committee at the time this article was written and sent to him, was it not?" "Yes," Fox replied, and he added: "That bears an indication that some one prepared it in the office of our association." "German propaganda," he continued, "was by common consent discussed very little with us. I do not know whether that was because I am an Englishman."
