Prospect of New Crop Movement Closes Bears
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Prospects of an increase in the movement of the new crop had a bearish effect today on corn. The market, although unsettled, closed 1 cent to 2 1/2 cents net lower, with December $1.29 1/4 @ 1/8 and January $1.31 1/4 @ 1/8. Oats finished 3/4 to 1/2 cent down, and provisions up 5 cents to 1/2.

Notwithstanding gain, the corn market fluctuated rapidly and that at one time the January delivery touched the highest spot yet on the crop, the general tendency most of the session was clearly downgrade.

Hedging sales depressed oats. Seaboard demand was slack, and the visible supply total showed a liberal increase.

Provisions were dull but firm. Notice of an embargo on big shipments to Chicago Thursday and Friday was a strengthening factor.

New York Stock Market Still in Confused State
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The uncertain trend of prices during the greater part of today's stock market session offered cumulative evidence of the confusion existing in speculative and investment circles. Trading showed a moderate expansion of operations over the previous day but movements were often exceedingly contrary, even in issues of the same class. Pools dominated various specialties, the list hardening appreciably at the end.

A foretaste of the post-war was furnished by the break of five to 14 points in the several issues of the Maxwell Motor company, following announcement that the dividend on the first stock is to be suspended because of readjustment conditions.

Irregularity at the beginning was occasioned by the heaviness of Marine preferred, which broke over the plan of the sale of the company's British tonnage.

Marine made up much of its loss later and Mexican Petroleum, which fell about three points at the outset, scored an extreme advance of four points, most of which was retained.

United States Steel and affiliated stocks gave a better account of themselves than at any recent time but buyers were under pressure, ignoring reports of the formation of a combination for the export of metals on a huge scale. Rails played little part in the day's business, that division evincing no trend until the final dealings, when Pacific hardened. Tobaccos were among the strong specialties, but utilities eased one to two points. Sales amounted to 550,000 shares.

Domestic bonds were irregular on the break of 1 to 2 per cent in rails and Marine 6s. Liberty issues were steady with the international group. Total sales, par value, aggregated $10,675,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

TACOMA, Nov. 19.—Tacoma's newly elected port board completed organization today by electing Chester Thorne president and Edward Kluss secretary.

REAL ESTATE REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

The Story of a Honeymoon

A Wonderful Romance of Married Life Wonderfully Told by ADELE GARRISON

CHAPTER 141
HOW DICKY'S MOTHER "SAW THE SIGHTS."

"Where shall we go first?" asked the question patiently, it seemed to me, for the ninth or tenth time. Beyond saying that she wished to see some of the historic churches of New York, Dicky's mother had given no indication of which particular section she wished to visit first.

To my surprise she was ready with an answer. "Suppose we go to the very end of the island first, and come back slowly," she said. "I am so anxious to see the harbor."

I glanced anxiously at her wraps, which were warm, but not unusually heavy. We stood just outside the apartment, and I felt the rush of a brisk wind. Of course, the trip down to the harbor would be all right because it would be made in the subway, but I knew, as the elder Mrs. Graham could not, the sharpness of the ocean wind sweeping up from the bay, and dreaded the chill for her.

But I knew better than to make objection. Even my brief association with my husband's mother had taught me that the price of peace in her presence was acquiescence in her plans.

"Very well, then," I said. "The subway will take us there, but we shall have to change to an express at Fourteenth street."

"I have never ridden in the subway," she remarked. "They were talking of it when I was in New York last, but nothing had been done."

have heard many people of good taste say that they thought they added a picturesque touch to the streets.

"They ought to go to school," was my mother-in-law's acid retort as we entered the subway.

Able Army Officers to Remain in the Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Steps to retain permanently in the army officers commissioned from civil life who have displayed marked ability in the service are being considered by the general staff. Plans for the demobilization of officers, it was learned today, are being shaped with this in view.

The first of the approximately 160,000 men in the officers' training corps released will be those who are anxious to sever completely their connection with military life. Application from these men for release, officials said, will be acted upon promptly.

Consideration, it was said, next will be given to applications from officers who wish to return to civil life, but retain their status as reserve officers, subject to call for a period of years. General staff officials believe that a large portion will follow this course thereby giving the United States an adequate supply of competent reserve officers for the first time in history.

In passing officers back into the inactive reserve list, care will be taken to hold to the last officers who desire to apply for commissions in the regular establishments and those whose records show them to be fitted for regular army life.

Nearly a Billion Over Is Late Liberty Loan Record

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Total subscriptions to the fourth liberty loan were $6,989,047,000, the treasury department announced today after final tabulations had been completed. The oversubscription of $99,647,000 was 16.48 per cent. Every federal reserve district exceeded its quota.

The San Francisco district stood seventh among the twelve in percentage of oversubscription,
