

OFFICERS WILL GO WHEN ASKED IS DEVELOPMENT

War Department Will Determine When Commissioned Men Leave Service

ORDERS ARE RECEIVED

Resignations Out of Order, But May Express Preference If Wished

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 26.—Detailed instructions covering the discharge of commissioned officers reached here today from the war department and furnished an answer to a question which thousands of officers have been asking for some time.

The information makes it plain that the resignations that have been turned in by some officers, are "out of order" and that discharge from the army will be determined by the war department and not the personal inclinations of the individual officer.

All officers, however, have already been requested to state their preference as to becoming a member of the regular army or being placed on the reserve list or receiving a complete discharge.

"The president has determined," the order states, "that the public service will be promoted by the discharge, as rapidly as their services can be spared, of officers in the United States army, except those holding commissions of any kind in the regular army."

"All separations," the order states "however, will be by discharge as authorized by law; tenders of resignation will not be received or considered."

As orders are received directing the reduction of the enlisted strength will be made, determining the order of discharge by arranging the officers into the three following classes:

First, those desiring full and immediate separation from the service.

Second, those desiring prompt separation from the service, but a place upon the officers' reserve corps and who have been recommended by commanding officers for such a place.

Third, officers desiring appointment, if opportunity permits, in the regular army, who commanding officers have recommended for such appointment.

THE TRACTOR HELPS.

One of the most potent factors in making farm and large garden work attractive is the substitution of the tractor for the horse. This does away with the necessity of stables, stable yards, storage of hay and grain, manure, etc., so that small farms may be all farms and not given over to the old-fashioned stable area in such large part. The "iron horse" may be quartered even in or under the rear of one's house without anything objectionable emanating therefrom except a little warm language when the steely brute will not "do so." The writer never did like to see horses work under a heavy strain, and, though very fond of horses, never liked to handle them as compared with machines that answer to every move of helm or lever.—T. AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT OPENS.

VITNA, Friday, Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Preparatory to the public session of parliament tomorrow the front door and windows of the parliament building have been repaired and the last vestige of the glass broken by shots of the red guard, November 12, have been removed. A plot has been discovered by which the red guard intended to break up the republic and declare the rule of Bolshevism today, beginning with a general shooting up of the city. It is felt that danger is still imminent here.

MAY HAVE UNIVERSAL TRAINING

Chicago, Nov. 26.—A step towards universal training has been taken by the government, according to Wharton Clay, executive secretary of the Military Training Camps association with the authorization today of Camp Zachary Taylor, near Louisville, Ky., as a training camp for civilians. Mr. Clay announced tonight he received a dispatch from Charles B. Pike, chairman of the Chicago branch of the association, who is in Washington, declaring the government had authorized the use of Camp Zachary Taylor as a training camp for civilians.

CHURCHILL FAVORS LEAGUE.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of munitions, speaking at Dundee, said he would do everything in his power to make a league of nations a practical and powerful reality. But a league of nations, he contended, was no substitute for the supremacy of the British fleet. The minister declared none of the German colonies would ever be restored to Germany and none of the conquered part of Turkey would ever be restored Turkey.

SHIP TRANSFER FROWNED UPON

United States Government Refuses to Allow British to Take Vessels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The United States government has refused to approve the proposed transfer to a British syndicate of the vessels now under British registry owned by the International Mercantile Marine corporation. Bainbridge Colby of the shipping board, in making his announcement tonight, said the government had offered to take over the ownership of these vessels upon the terms of the British offer.

The vessels concerned in the syndicate's offer number approximately 85 of an aggregate tonnage of 739,000 gross tons. They include some of the most important now engaged in the trans-Atlantic service, such as the Olympic and many others of familiar names.

This formal statement was issued at the office of the shipping board: "Announcement was made at the shipping board that the International Mercantile Marine corporation had today been advised of the government's disinclination to give its approval to the proposed transfer to a British syndicate of the American ownership which for years has been vested in the International Mercantile Marine corporation of the latter's vessels now under British registry."

Bainbridge Colby of the shipping board, stated that an offer by a British syndicate to acquire from the International Mercantile Marine corporation the tonnage in question had been under consideration for some time. The offer was expressly conditioned upon its approval by both the United States and British governments. The negotiations, he further stated, had been carried on by the International corporation with entire frankness, so far as the government is concerned and the decision now reached is due to the reluctance felt that an ownership which has so long been held in this country, covering so important a tonnage, should at this time, and under the conditions now prevailing in shipping throughout the world, be suffered to pass out of American hands.

"The vessels immediately concerned in the syndicate's offer are approximately 85 in number and aggregate 739,000 gross tons, or, in their deadweight equivalent, about 1,700,000 tons. They include some of the most important vessels now engaged in trans-Atlantic service, such as the Olympic, and many other vessels of large type and familiar names."

"The government has announced its willingness to take over the ownership of these vessels upon the terms of the British offer, which is considered a fair price for tonnage of this exceptional character."

"Notification has been sent to the International Mercantile Marine corporation of the government's decision."

Negotiation for the sale of the ships has been underway for some weeks and a few days ago the shipping board requested the International Mercantile Marine corporation to take no further steps looking to the consummation of the deal until the government could reach a decision.

FASHION NOTES.

The long Egyptian blouse is charming over a skirt made largely of fur.

Black velvet and yellow Venetian lace are used for an effective evening gown.

The odd new Persian turbans are trimmed with puffs of unclipped ostrich.

Beaded bags are not usually carried when one is walking and simply dressed.

Neckwear of cream satin, broadcloth or linen is embroidered with colored silk.

Henna brown, that new and charming shade, should be worn only by brunettes.

A pretty dress buttons from collars to hem in the back with large covered buttons.

Silk stockings and thin slippers should be worn with only silk and velvet dresses.

A GOOD RULE.

"Leave everything in order at night, in case you should not come back in the morning," was the frequently repeated admonition of a business man to the many clerks in his employ. It is a good rule for every life to adopt for itself, not only in regard to material things, but also in regard to every relationship of love or duty.

FOUR BILLION REVENUE PLAN MADE FOR 1920

Strict Party Vote Is Registered in Senate Finance Committee

LIMIT IS OBJECTED TO

Republicans Wish to Fix It Themselves When They Take Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—By a strict party vote, the senate finance committee tonight decided to recommend that the yield from the 1920 revenue bill be limited to $4,000,000,000. Ten Democratic members, who voted for the amount suggested by Secretary McAdoo, were opposed by seven Republicans.

Before adopting the four billion dollar limit, the committee voted down a proposal by Senator Gore of Oklahoma, Democrat, to leave the $6,000,000,000 bill of 1919 unchanged for 1920 and use the two billion surplus for paying outstanding government obligations. The vote was 9 to 8, Senator Gore joining with the seven Republican members.

Republicans object to fixing any limit for taxation in 1920 because they expect to control both the senate and house in the next congress. Minority members of the finance committee said tonight they would take their fight to the floor of the senate and some Republican leaders have said that if the Democrats insist upon this provision of the measure by this congress may be blocked.

The motion to fix the limit of 1920 taxes at $4,000,000,000 was made by Chairman Simmons. The vote on the roll call follows:

Ayes—Democrats—Simmons, Williams, Smith of Georgia, Thomas, Robinson, Gore, Jones of New Mexico, Gerry, Lewis and Nugent.

Nays—Republicans—Penrose, McCumber, Lodge, Smoot, Dillingham, La Follette and Townsend.

Work on the 1919 tax schedules is nearly completed, Chairman Simmons announcing tonight that the bill now has been reduced to practically six billion dollars. Senator Simmons' amendment exempting all corporations or partnerships engaged in trade or business from the war excess profits tax, was adopted today by the committee, as was an amendment providing that a corporation with a net income of not more than $20,000 a year shall not be taxed more than 20 per cent. In the house bill the minimum levy was fixed at 35 per cent.

SILVERTON PERSONALS

SILVERTON, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special to The Statesman)—Miss Ann Jensen is having the road from the main road to her house gravelled so that it will be possible for her to use the automobile during the winter months.

COAL MEN ARE TARGETS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Charges that corporations which control the anthracite coal fields decline to permit the output to be increased were made before the senate investigating committee today by William Wilhelm, a lawyer of Pottsville, Pa. He also declared no effort has been made by the fuel administration to increase production.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my household and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. FRANK FITZGERALD, 25 N. 41st Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done. For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

"FLU" HAD IN NORTH

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 25.—Nome, which has suffered severely in deaths due to Spanish influenza epidemic, is struggling to give aid to native villages to the north and east in which the toll of death is still alarming. In two days 30 natives died in one of these villages, and reports brought here said that fully 100 more deaths were probable.

COAL PROBLEMS UP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Failure of coal producing agencies to utilize cull banks or waste coal to relieve the fuel shortage, and Fuel Administrator Garfield's objection to Mayor Hylan's inventory last month of New York City's coal supply were subjects of inquiry today by the senate committee investigating the fuel situation. J. B. Neale, director of production for the fuel administration and owner of anthracite properties told the committee he knew of no alleged understanding among mine owners to keep cull off the market as a means of maintaining high prices. He attributed the failure of the owners of cull banks to utilize fully that product to a shortage of labor and a desire to prevent reduction of the output of fresh coal by taking men from the mines for the work of treating the cheaper grades.

WOULD BURN WOOD

HOSEA, Ida., Nov. 26.—Official fuel administrators were asked today by the fuel administration to organize "burn wood" campaigns to further the use of wood for domestic fuel this winter. The plan of the campaign suggested is to have the town or county wood fuel deputies or committees arrange for wood at reasonable prices in villages and the

Delicate Children Vinol is What They Need

More than eight thousand druggists recommend Vinol because it contains in deliciously palatable form the oldest and most famous reconstructive tonics known to medicine. During the last six years it has brought health and happiness to thousands of puny, ailing, anaemic children.

HERE IS PROOF

Middletown, Conn. "I used Vinol for my little girl five years old for a rundown, nervous condition. She was thin, irritable all the time and had no appetite. In a week I noticed an improvement and now she has a good appetite, has gained in flesh and strength and is much pleasanter."—Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson.

Manville, R.I. "The whooping cough, the measles left my little boy 4 years with no appetite, thin delicate and tired all the time. Everything else had failed Vinol him a hearty appetite, fresh strength and he is now as ever."—Mrs. James H. Hall.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.
