Nurse in Far North Is Honored for Her Work

CORDOVA, Alaska, Dec. 1.—(By Mail)—For her work in St. Stephens hospital, of far away Fort Yukon, Alaska, said to be the most northerly hospital in North America, Miss Margaret Nunvialli, the one remaining graduate nurse of the institution, has been awarded a "special service chevron" by the American Red Cross. The hospital, an English church institution, located ten miles inside the Arctic circle on the Yukon flats, is the only place where medical assistance can be obtained in some 50,000 square miles said Archdeacon Hudson Stuck in writing to the Red Cross requesting that the chevron be sent to Miss Nunvialli. "The nearest physician up the Yukon is at Dawson, 350 miles away, and the nearest down the river is at the army post at Fort Gibbon, 350 miles distant," Archdeacon Stuck said. "And in all this wide winterland there is no physician."

For a time last summer Miss Nunvialli thought of going outside to join the Red Cross workers behind the American battle lines. She was prevailed upon by the hospital and church authorities to remain at her northern post and continue her missionary and nurse work among the great number of Alaskan Indians cared for by the hospital. "If it were necessary," Archdeacon Stuck said, "to close this hospital in order to win the war or that our wounded should have proper care, I would unhesitatingly go. But if it is possible that this battle needed and costly work shall continue I ask that the chevron be granted so that Miss Nunvialli may be fortified by slacks and absentees by the award. "This past spring there was an interesting illustration of the wide usefulness of St. Stephens, when the Arctic explorer Vilhjamur Stefansson, who had been lying ill at Herschel Island with typhoid and himself hauled 400 miles on a dog sled to reach the hospital."

COMPANIES ARE MIXED

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 8.—Telegrams from the Chase National Bank of New York and Senator Overman, chairman of the senate committee investigating German propaganda designed to correct the erroneous connection of the Southern Products company, a Japanese importing firm of Dallas, with the Chase National bank in a loan of $3,000,000 to the German government were made public here tonight by F. Fukushima, president of the company. The company's name was connected with the loan in the report of the senate committee proceedings yesterday. The company referred to before the committee, according to the telegram from Senator Overman, was the Southern Products Trading company, with which the Southern Products company is in no way connected, Mr. Fukushima said.

"ROOSEVELT CANAL" PROPOSED

BOSTON, Mass. Jan. 8.—Lieutenant-Governor Channing H. Cox sent a telegram to Senator Lodge today, asking him to introduce in congress a resolution providing for the changing of the name of the Panama canal to "Roosevelt Canal." "In this manner," said the lieutenant governor, "there would be linked together for all time the name of this great American leader and the great American contribution to the world."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have
Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician
Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

RECONSTRUCTION POLICES WILL BE CONSIDERED

Greatest Meeting in History of State Promised at Portland Soon

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

All Phases of Immense Topic Will Be Discussed by Varied Orators

PORTLAND, Jan. 8.—Oregon represented by delegates, from every section of the state, will make definite plans to provide employment for its men who have served their nation and will work out a general development program which will also insure the state against unemployment at the state reconstruction convention at Portland, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The status of war industries in Oregon will be outlined by leaders in the various industries, the position that labor is taking in connection with the reconstruction period will be told by labor leaders and when these two factors are known the delegates will be called upon to work out a feasible and comprehensive program which will provide employment for all and also place Oregon in the forefront in the handling of its post war problems.

Able men representing various governmental departments have been assigned to attend the convention and tell Oregon's delegates what the nation is planning to do in the way of caring for returned soldiers. Employers of labor will outline what they are prepared to do during the reconstruction period and state, county and city officials will be on hand to enlighten the delegates on what these bodies can do in the way of aiding in the solution of the problem.

No meeting has ever been called which is of the tremendous importance of Oregon's Reconstruction convention in Portland this week.

Every problem which is included in Oregon's reconstruction problems will be handled by speakers well versed in the subjects assigned them at the reconstruction convention to be held at the Portland auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Because of the importance attached to the convention, all speakers have been limited to 20 minutes each, and discussion of the various subjects will be limited to five minutes for each speaker.

The program for the three days' session is as follows:

- Tuesday, a. m., Jan. 9—Mayor George L. Baker, chairman. Dr. John B. Boyde, invocation. Governor Withycombe, "Purposes of Convention."
- Harry Corbett, "Welcome of Business Interests to Portland."
- "The Unemployment Problem in Oregon." Wilfred Smith, state director of United States employment service.
- "The Returning Soldier," Edgar B. Piper, editor Oregonian.
- "The Attitude of the Soldier," Fred Lockley, The Journal.
- "The Lumber Industry," L. J. Simpson, H. S. Van Duser, E. D. Kingsley, and a representative of the Local Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen.
- "Wooden Shipbuilding," F. C. Knapp.
- "Substitute Industries," Joseph A. Bowles.

Friday, Jan. 10—
"Labor's Attitude," Otto R. Hartwig, State Federation of Labor and Harry Anderson, President Central Labor Council.
"Should Married Women Whose Husbands Are Capable of Making a Living, Retain Positions Secured as War Emergencies?" Mrs. Sylvia Thompson of The Dalles.
"Are Unmarried Women Who Accepted Positions as Substitutes for Men During the Period of War Emergencies Eligible and Adequately Trained to Continue in Such Positions?" Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull.
"Financing State Enterprises," A. L. Mills.
"Port Development," W. D. B. Dodson, B. F. Stone, R. H. Strong and G. B. Hegardt.
"Municipal Works," W. P. LaRoche.
"County Works," Rufus Holman.
"Highway Development," W. T. Vinton.

Saturday, Jan. 11.—
"Agriculture," C. E. Spence, State Grange, R. P. Teele, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, and J. W. Brewer, Farm Help Specialist, U. S. Department Agriculture.
"Mining Industry," R. N. Lawrie, Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology commission.
"Federal Reclamation," T. C. Heney, U. S. Department Interior; Jay R. Upton, president Oregon Irrigation and Reclamation congress.
"Irrigation and State Projects," Percy A. Cupper, state engineer.
Reports of committees on resolutions.
Speeches will be 30 minutes and discussions after each subject five minutes each.

INFLUENZA BAN LAID ON TOWN

Crowds Must Be Avoided in Silverton; Health Officer Reappointed

SILVERTON, Or., Jan. 7.—(Special to the Statesman)—At the council meeting held Monday night it was decided to close the city for an indefinite period. The quarantine will be enforced more strictly than it was last fall. No gathering, public or private, of any nature will be permitted within the city limits. The owners of business houses have been asked to dispense any crowd or group that might gather in their buildings. It was decided that Dr. P. A. Loard be again asked to resume his work as city health officer. Mr. Loard resigned from this position a short time ago because of a disagreement between him and the council. During the absence of a city health officer it has been impossible to keep a record of the number of influenza cases but it is thought that they have not increased and that with careful enforcement of the quarantine laws the ban may be lifted within a very short time. The quarantine takes effect Wednesday morning.

MAY ABANDON COLLEGE RULE

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Temporary abrogation of the rule requiring approximately six months residence at college before a student is eligible to compete in an inter-collegiate association of amateur athletics of American championship events has been proposed by the executive committee of that organization. Letters have been sent to all colleges and universities of the association calling attention to a meeting of the committee here January 26 at which the proposed amendment will be considered.

Was Restless at Night.

Sufferers from kidney trouble experience backache, rheumatic pains, aches in joints and muscles, shooting pains and other torturous afflictions. E. W. Kitt, R. F. D. 2, Shorters, Ala., writes: "I used Foley Kidney Pills as I was so restless over night with pains in the small of my back and side. They did me good." J. C. Perry.

Well Known Salesman To Be Buried in East

J. B. Hutchins, traveling salesman for James Elliott & Co., 370 Broadway, New York, died Wednesday morning at a local hospital from neuralgia of the heart. Mr. Hutchins, who was stopping at Hotel Marion, was taken to the hospital Monday night.

The body of Mr. Hutchins will be shipped tonight to Wausau, Wis., for burial. He has a sister living at that place. The home of the deceased was in California.

There are all sorts of inventions, but there has been nothing ever contrived that took the place of elbow grease in washing dishes in the home.

FLU AND SANITY

Dr. Chas. H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., says: "The dentist's patients must be warned of the mouth as being the greatest portal of entrance of germ life into the body, the most infected part of the alimentary canal. The next great step in medical progress in the line of preventive medicine should be made by the dentists."—N. W. Dental Journal, Oct. 1913.

Dr. W. G. Ebersole, M. D., of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of National Mouth Hygiene association, says: "In dealing with the great problem of preventable diseases, and the sacrifice and loss of life resulting therefrom, no other organ of the body plays so important a part as the mouth. The mouth is the greatest harbinger and the most extensive breeding place for all pathogenic (disease producing) microorganisms."—Dental Summary, Jan. 1913.

The leading medical authorities of the country are a unit in giving special prominence to personal hygiene (personal cleanliness) in the fight against the flu; special emphasis being placed on cleanliness of the mouth and throat. If other contagious disease germs thrive and multiply in unclean diseased mouths, it certainly is not unreasonable for the medical authorities to expect the flu germ to do likewise—hence the measures to prevent spitting on sidewalks and coughing and sneezing in public places. If there ever was a time when we needed clean, healthy mouths, it is now.

Unfortunately few people understand that really constitutes a clean mouth, else we would not have such a world of unsanitary and diseased mouths. The spaces between the teeth in most cases are rarely, if ever, cleaned. These spaces are usually the nesting places for countless disease producing germs. It is my work to render such places clean and free from disease and to teach the patient how to clean the entire mouth. My office remains open in order that I may do my "bit" in the fight against the ravages of the flu. There is no crowding in my office. If I cannot wait on people when they call, they are given an appointment and sent away. With the facts before us, from the great medical authorities I have quoted, there is no excuse for taking chances on an unclean mouth—a source of grave danger at all times. Fear of pain is no longer an excuse; I fill and extract teeth without pain; prevent and cure diseased gums.

SALEM-AURORA WORK AWARDED

Big Paving Job Will Be Finished Before the Next Rainy Season

Contracts for work on 31.1 miles of road, costing $746,297.31, were awarded by the state highway commission in Portland yesterday. The bids were lower than anticipated, due to a big reduction in estimated costs. On the biggest job the bid of the contractor was $58,000 less than the estimate of the state highway engineering department. On another contract the bid was 6.7 per cent higher than the estimate.

STILL VIOLATE ARMISTICE
PARIS, Jan. 8.—At the last meeting of the armistice commission, Marshal Foch called attention to the actions of the Germans, who, he said, while evacuating Poland and the Baltic provinces, left their arms with the Bolsheviks, thus violating the conditions of the armistice. Marshal Foch added that Germany would be held accountable for the damage done by the Bolsheviks thus armed.
