DESPOUDENT WOMEN

A prominent writer claims that "women are naturally despondent," but often mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system, which expresses itself in nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, and consequent despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound goes to the root of this trouble. It gives tone and strength to the system and restores women to a normal, healthy condition.

Mrs. Russell Catlin Urges More Knitting in Salem

A communication from Mrs. Russell Catlin, who is in Seattle at a meeting of the Red Cross workers, urges the need for more knitting for the refugees of the stricken countries of Europe. "Under present arrangements, 75 per cent of all materials, yarns included, are to be shipped abroad," she writes. "Knitting factories here in the United States are helping to their full capacities, but 20,000 children in Siberia alone are orphans without clothing. "If proper response is made to this appeal the required quota can be completed by June and there will probably be no further demand for such work. Salem's knitting headquarters are open Thursdays and Fridays from 1 to 5 at the postoffice building."

STATE'S LOSS IS REGRETTED

Late Governor Withycombe Praised in Resolution of Control Board

Praising Governor Withycombe as "foremost in advocating and promoting practical and sound ideals" and as one "who strove to realize the best in the material and spiritual welfare of the people," the state board of control yesterday adopted resolutions upon the death of the late governor. The resolutions are signed by Secretary of State Olcott and State Treasurer Hoff follow: "Whereas, the final summons has come to our beloved friend and official associate, James Withycombe, governor of the state of Oregon, and "Whereas, Mr. Withycombe as a man and as a citizen, was foremost in advocating and in promoting practical and sound ideals, and strove to realize the best in the material and spiritual welfare of the people; and "Whereas, As governor of the state he gave sympathetic and wise support to all useful and legitimate measures and exerted a powerful influence in the consummation of the plans devised for their execution, always manifesting courage, courtesy, judgment and dignity; therefore, be it Resolved, That in the passing of Governor Withycombe the state has lost a capable, sincere and revered executive and a man whose prudent counsel and cordial fellowship were warmly appreciated by the surviving members of the board of control and by all other associations and friends: be it also "Resolved, That we express our great sorrow at the loss incurred, and convey to the bereaved family our deep sympathy and condolence be it further "Resolved, That an engraved copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. Withycombe, that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the board, and a copy be given to the press."

INSTITUTE of MUSIC

To Open in Salem

The West Coast Institute of Music, with headquarters, 287 Washington street, Portland, and branches in other cities, will further extend their institutes by opening up a thoroughly equipped branch in Salem in the Masonic building, for adult students and children. The people of Salem are to be congratulated on having an institute of such merit come to this city. The same opportunities will be offered to students here as are given in the larger cities. Departments will be installed for voice culture, piano, violin, mandolin, Hawaiian or steel guitar, theory, harmony, technique and all band instruments. Private personal instruction will be given in all branches, with an expert competent teacher in charge of every department.

A special method for beginners will be introduced for the first time in Salem, which has been endorsed by some of the foremost leading musicians in the country and which has proven a complete success. There will be departments for those who wish to take up teaching as a profession, as well as for advanced students and beginners. Recitals "at homes" will be given for the purpose of preparing pupils for concert and platform work. The main institute in Portland has an enrollment of over 300 pupils which makes it the largest of any musical institute on the western coast. The strongest proof of real value of any course of instruction is the personal opinion of those who have given it a thorough test. The reports from the Portland pupils are to the effect that they are making wonderful progress with their studies. These of course are only a few of the many strong endorsements that have been given out.

To organize and get started quickly a special scholarship rate will be offered to a limited number of pupils who enroll. The regular $75 scholarship consisting of seven and one-half months tuition will be given at half price, payable on time paying basis covering a period of half a year.

It will be those who are interested to act quickly and take advantage of an opportunity to receive a musical education at such a nominal cost. The regular cost of tuition will go into effect a little later on. Both beginners and advanced pupils will be accepted, with special departments for children. Representatives of the institute are now in the city, and the enrolling of pupils will begin at once. Teaching in all departments will begin, on or about April 1st. The studios are located at 304-305 Masonic building where applications will be received. Those wishing to take advantage of the special half rate tuition, are kindly requested to make their applications at once.

Six Oregon Attorneys Get Permanent Permits

Six attorneys were yesterday admitted by the state supreme court to permanent practice before the Oregon bar. All have been on nine months probation, temporary certificates having been granted them less than a year ago. They are William H. Hallam, George F. Felts, Henry M. Isaacs and James P. Stapleton, all of Portland, Walter C. Van Emmon of Klamath Falls and R. C. Glanville of Hood River.

Notes in Pendleton Man's Estate Must Be Appraised

The inheritance tax department of State Treasurer Hoff's office, upon the advice of Attorney General Brown, will insist that notes listed in the inventory of the estate of John Franklin Temple, Sr., of Pendleton, but appraised at nothing, shall be appraised, and if the administrator is not willing to enter into stipulation and pay on that basis the department will insist on a re-appraisal as provided by statute. The advice of the attorney general is given in reply to an inquiry by Mr. Hoff who asks whether he would be justified in accepting the appraisal as submitted in settling and collecting the inheritance tax. Several of the notes were given by the child-

Her First Corset

The young girl's first corset is a matter of considerable importance that mothers are beginning to realize. There has been an all too prevalent opinion that any kind of a corset was good enough for the first one, but little girls will grow into big girls, and while they are doing so their figures are greatly influenced by the corset they are wearing.

The foundation of her future figure begins with her first corset. The growing figure has a natural tendency to mold itself to the lines of the corset. The corset, therefore, is responsible for a beautiful figure or a bad one.

MODART CORSETS Front Laced

are recognized the country over for their perfection of design. An ideal MODART model for the growing figure or slender woman is one that is boned lightly and carefully to do away with any undue pressure.

When properly fitted, as it is by our expert corsetiere service, a MODART is support without restraint—a healthful corset.
