ARCHANGEL, March 12.—(By The Associated Press)—The Bolshevik forces adopted new tactics last night, carrying out a night bombardment of the allied positions on the railway front. The enemy shelled those positions from 11 o'clock until 1 this morning, without doing any damage.

ARCHANGEL, Tuesday, March 11.—(By The Associated Press)—The allied Vaga column yesterday withdrew from Vistavka to a new position. Since the evacuation of Vistavka there has been another lull in the bolshevik offensive of the Vaga front.

Detailed reports of Sunday's infantry engagement in which the British, Americans and Russians repulsed the enemy, indicate that the bolshevik losses were about 400 killed. The allied losses were very small.

FOOD RELIEF GOING WELL

Distressed Population of Poland Receiving Sustenance, Says Hoover

PARIS, March 12.—The food relief of Poland is proceeding smoothly, according to Herbert Hoover, in view of the fact that the risk is too great to send trans-Atlantic steamers all the way to Danzig, owing to the Baltic not being free of mines. A large proportion of the food is being discharged at Rotterdam and Copenhagen and is then transhipped in smaller craft to Danzig, where the Germans, who are in control from Danzig to the Polish frontier are carrying on the transportation efficiently. Wood is being supplied to the German workmen and to the people of Danzig as an inducement to maintain their effort.

Thirty-eight thousand tons of foodstuffs supplied by the American government were shipped to Danzig in February and 28,000 tons went to Warsaw. The shipments are increasing daily and there are already signs of great improvement in the situation.

FLYING FIELDS TO NUMBER 16

Decision of War Department Announced by Acting Secretary Crowell

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Decision of the war department to maintain 16 flying fields and three balloon fields as a part of the permanent military establishment, was announced today by Acting Secretary Crowell. The department also has practically decided, Mr. Crowell said, to store for possible future use the hundreds of elementary and advanced training planes used during the war.

Secretary Crowell said department experts do not believe the training machines will deteriorate, if carefully stored, even after a period of years, nor do they believe that any decided improvement will be made in these types which would necessitate their being discarded.

The lying and balloon fields to be retained have not yet been selected, but it was explained that the actual training of aviators for the army would be held at only two fields, the other plants being held intact as a reserve. Sites now leased by the government will be purchased and equipment on hand retained.

Names of Home Boys in War Hospital Are Wanted

Writing to a friend in Salem, from her address at 1732 P street, N. W., Washington, D. C., Mrs. Ella Royal Williams, formerly of Salem, and well known to all old residents here, says:

"If you know of any Oregon boys who are in the Walter Reed hospital here, I should be glad to have their names, so that I can go and see them. Mrs. A. W. Prescott, formerly of Salem, also wishes to do the same, and probably many others; but it is impossible for us to learn anything about them here, although we know that some Oregon boys are in that hospital.

"If we have a name, then we can find the boy, and perhaps help to make it pleasanter for him here. There are many thousands in this hospital—and many who may never leave it.

"Basket cases—without arms or legs; and every form of dastardly Hun torture, are to be found right here. Two nurses were recently brought over who will never speak again—and their hands are also gone—and then, in the face of all this, the president wants us to 'feed those beasts.'"

"It is not for me to say things that I know—but what I should do would not look well in print, I am afraid, if I had my choice in this regard."

CLTVELAND, March 12.—In what may be his farewell public address before he begins serving a 10-year sentence imposed by the federal court here on a charge of violating the espionage act, Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, tonight upheld the bolshevik rule in Russia and referred to Lenin and Trotsky as the "foremost statesmen of the age."

Debs said the judges of the United States supreme court were "bewhiskered, bewhiskered, bepowdered old fossils, who have never decided anything."
