CLUB MANUAL IS PUBLISHED

Oregon Boys and Girls Given Credit for Important Industrial Work

Illustrated with pictures and containing sketches of numerous boys and girls of Oregon who have been successful in industrial club work. A 48-page booklet, the 1914 edition on club work has been issued by the state department of education.

In a foreword of congratulation for patriotic and industrial services rendered State Superintendent Churchill dedicates the volume to the club workers. The work of the club and their camp at the Oregon state fair are described in letters by several boys and girls under the caption "My Trip to the State Fair."

Pictures and personal experiences and sketches about different industrial projects are shown of the following boys and girls, all of whom are entitled to the summer course at O. A. C. in June:

Maud Spain, Union county, canning; Vern Owens, Jackson county, corn; Helen Leeper, Douglas county, poultry; Otto Blume, Linn county, handwork; Constance Brodwell, Jackson county, rabbits; Elmer J. Roth, Marion county, swine; Gertrude Hardt, Polk county, garden; Grant McMillan, Multnomah county, sheep; Ruth Renne, Multnomah county, sewing; and canning; Russell Jones, Polk county, livestock; Eva Benjamin, Marion county, sheep; Helen Gaffney, Clackamas county, cooking; Nichols Brinkley, swine; Ralph Clark, Union county, gardening; Dora Johnson, Wasco county, sewing and canning; Evelyn Glad, Tillamook county, gardening and floral culture; Dillow Smith, Tillamook county, dairying; Frances Johnson, Wasco county, baking; Ella L. Yirby, Wasco county, sewing; Celena Tremayne, Clackamas county, turkey; Donald C. Bauer, Clackamas county, ducks; Oliver Feustman, Marion county, sheep; Theodore Resch, Clackamas county, swine.

Marie and Pauline Giesinger and Gladys Olinnahan are in a group picture as the winning canning team at the 1913 Oregon state fair and the book has cuts of Harold Reynolds of Independence, president, and Margaret Bonney of The Dalles, secretary, of the capital prize winners' organization. The members of this organization for 1917 and all of whom attended the summer course at O. A. C. in June, are shown in a group cut. They are Louise Morgensen, William Blake, Jr., Margaret Bahnsen, Harold Reynolds, Alice Jaquet, Madison Nichols, Margaret Bonney, Raleigh Middleton, Beatrice Angus, Monroe R. Cooley, Eva Blackwell, Exie Morgan, Burton Hutton, Hazel Bursell, Frank Egger, Christina Olson, Leo Thompson, Andrew Stevens. Another cut shows seven boys who are members of the Portland Milk Goat club and their principal. A page is devoted to the late Theodore B. Wilcox and the late Henry L. Pittock who supported the club work.

L. P. Harrington has resigned after devoting five years to industrial club work with the educational department and the manual gives a detailed review of his service together with his picture.

the condition of the Southern Pacific crossings at Union and Commercial streets, on South Twenty-first street, at Twelfth and Ferry, Seventeenth and D, Trade and Commercial, Twelfth and D and at Twelfth and Center. The question was referred to City Attorney Macy with instructions to notify the company to repair the crossings forthwith.

A resolution was read from the Commercial club favoring acceptance from the promoters of the paper mill project of a proposal to give the city a steamboat dock site in exchange for the vacation of trade street from Front street to the river. The communication was placed on file.

OLCOTT NAMES BOARD OF FIVE

Land Settlement Commission, Created by Last Legislature, Appointed

Governor Olcott Saturday announced the appointment of the Oregon Land Settlement commission created by the last legislature. The act providing for the commission carried an emergency clause, so the commission as now appointed may proceed with its work. Contrary to expectation no members of the recent legislature were named on the board. The members of the commission are: Emory Olmsted, Portland, president of the Northwestern National bank.

Robert N. Stanfield, Stanfield, prominent farmer, stockman and capitalist of Eastern Oregon; Whitney L. Boise, Portland, virtually father of the land settlement act, and prominent in the affairs of Portland and the Willamette valley; G. H. Baker, Bend, secretary of the central labor council of that city, and endorsed by leaders of the State Federation of Labor.

Charles Hall, Marshfield, president of the Bank of Southwestern Oregon and of the Coos and Curry Telephone company, and prominently identified with various activities in Southern Oregon.

The tenure of office of the appointees will be as follows: Emory Olmsted to January 1, 1923, four years; Whitney L. Boise, to January 1, 1920, one year; Robert N. Stanfield, to January 1, 1920, one year; G. H. Baker, to January 1, 1921, two years; Charles Hall, to January 1, 1922, three years.

An act appropriating $50,000 is made by the act creating the commission, which further provides that after five members have been appointed and have organized, they may incorporate under the laws of the state. The corporation may issue bonds when it deems necessary, but not in excess of the net assets of the corporation, the bonds to be binding upon the corporation, but not an obligation against the state.

Although the act itself provides for an appropriation of only $50,000, an additional $647,500 will be available for the commission if the electorate passes favorably upon the $5,000,000 reconstruction measure at the special election on June 3, the reconstruction bill specifically providing that this sum may be devoted to the land settlement work, and the money will be used in cooperation with the federal government.

Power is granted to the new commission to acquire real property by purchase or gift, and to improve, lease, sell, or otherwise dispose of land. Further, it is empowered to acquire real property through exercise of the right of eminent domain.

Soldiers and sailors are to have preference under the act, and it is contemplated that the commission cooperate fully with the federal government for land settlement purposes. One of the commission's functions is agricultural training of prospective settlers.

The selection of the personnel of this board was made only after days of consideration and after conferences with friends of the measure," said Governor Olcott, in making public the names of members. "It became apparent to me, early in my consideration of the act, that with but five members on the board it would be impossible to see that all interests were directly represented and obviously it became necessary to exert every effort in covering the field as broadly as the limited size of the commission would allow.

Aside from the numerous interests involved, the geographical considerations had to be given careful attention as a matter of justice to all the state.

"Land settlement legislation is in an experimental stage, particularly in this state, and as a result the success or failure of it will depend largely upon the personnel of the commission."

HURRICANE DELAYS SHIP

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—After encountering a hurricane three days, the steamer Galesburg, an army cargo carrier bringing 21 casualties of the forty-second sanitary squad, twenty-ninth division, in charge of Major Ralph E. Balch, Kalamazoo City, Mich., of the medical corps, docked here today.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself. What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is not sufficient for whitening, and should be mixed with orchard white, then shake well and orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of you have a whole quart pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smooth and beautify the skin.

Any drugist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

What Ails Salem?

Editor Statesman: While not agreeing with all he says, Gideon Stolz has given us some breakfast food for thought. We are all looking forward to great outburst of enthusiasm when Company M returns, and have raised a large sum of money to fetter the heroes of the army navy and marine corps some time in June, or after their return from offering their lives for humanity and the honor of the flag. That day will be declared a holiday and will be given over to public welcome to our boys that will be remembered in local history. I notice that in all other cities the program includes a great parade, receptions, free dinners and dancing. In Aberdeen four bands have donated their services and all dance pavilions will be operated free to the public day and night.

We have raised a large fund for this entertainment of the returning veterans, mostly young men who have seen the largest part of the world. But when it comes to the celebration, we are asked to treat

TROPHY TRAIN HERE WEDNESDAY

Exhibition of War Material to Be in Salem for Three Hours

The Victory loan trophy train will arrive in Salem Wednesday at 1:45 p. m. and will remain until 4:45 p. m., according to announcement made yesterday by F. G. Deckebach, county chairman of the Victory Loan committee.

While the location of the train has not been fixed, it probably will be at Trade and South Commercial streets as that is considered the most convenient location. Cherrians, in charge of Fred Mangis, drill master, high school cadets, members of Company M, in charge of Captain Hewlett, and police officers will serve as a guard for the train and to handle the crowds which are expected to view the trophies which will be exhibited.

Efforts will be made to have the Cherrians, high school Rosebud, and Chemawa bands to furnish music for the occasion. The plan is to make the stay of the train in Salem as much of a holiday as possible and stores and schools will be asked to close in order that all may see the exhibits.

The train will be accompanied by Bert E. Heney, United States district attorney, Walter H. Evans, Judge J. P. Kavanaugh, and Arthur H. Spencer, all of Portland. There will be soldiers who have had actual experience with the various field pieces and tanks to demonstrate their operation. Some of the machine guns will be fired, blank cartridges being used.

Evangelical Meetings Commenced by Baptists

An evangelistic campaign under the leadership of Rev. A. Sterling Barner, was commenced by the First Baptist church with the service Sunday night. Rev. Barner's text was "Come, for all things are now ready" and he gave a forceful interpretation of his theme. His topic last night was "Prayer" and tonight he will speak on "One times one."

ELEVATOR EATS UP MUCH GRAIN

Investigators Find Loss in Terminal Is Due to Defective Building

PORTLAND, Ore., March 31.—A preliminary report submitted today to the dock commissioner here by the board of five engineers recently employed to investigate the cause of the subsidence of the 1,000,000 bushel grain elevator at the St. Johns terminal, gave the opinion that the subsidence was due to defective design, that it may be repaired and that work on the repair may proceed with the completion of the structure. Measures to remedy the defects were recommended.

Robert Diem's Automobile Stolen Early on Sunday

A Ford automobile, bearing the license number 28614 and belonging to Robert Diem of rural route No. 8, Salem, was stolen from the street near the Catholic church Sunday morning and there is no clue to the thief. The car is of the 1917 model and bears the initials "RD" on each side of the hooding to V. B. Kirchner. The car was stolen from the same place and never recovered, and at that time two mackinaws were taken by the thieves from the Diem car.

Four Players Win Places in National Tournament

NEW YORK, March 31.—Four players today won places in the third round of the national indoor tennis championship singles when play was resumed at the Seventh Regiment armory. S. Howard Voshell, while not in his best form, had an easy time defeating Cory M. American in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0.

Submarines in Movies Shown on K. C. Screens

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Uncle Sam's submarines released from their arduous duties of chasing the Kaiser's "tin fish" out of the deeps, have come into the movies. Emulating the example of the army flyers at Rockwell field, who recently put on a "flying circus" before a battery of movie sharpshooters, the divers have been put through a series of practice dives and aquatic stunts for the benefit of the screen fame.

Portland Pitcher Claimed by Buffalo Baseball Club

PORTLAND, Ore., March 31.—The Buffalo Club of the International League has laid claim to the services of Guy E. Cooper, a pitcher now with the Portland baseball team at Crockett, Calif., and according to W. W. McCredie, president of the Portland club, the eastern claim is valid and Cooper must go to Buffalo. Cooper reported himself a free agent when he was signed by the Portland team. It now develops, according to Judge McCredie, that Buffalo's release giving the player was signed by the team manager only, instead of by the president of the club, as would have been necessary to make it valid.

MISSIONS LOCKED IN

PARIS, March 31.—The French, British and Serbian missions which were in Budapest when the Hungarian revolution broke out have arrived at Belgrade. They were imprisoned in their living quarters, but not sent to jail.
