

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it, I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."—Miss CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

his record in office and on pleas for Republican party support on the basis of national party lines. His principal opponents, Sweitzer and Hoynes, the Independent, both severely criticized the mayor and referred to "Thompsonism" and his war record. The mayor's reference to Chicago as the "sixth German city," his refusal to issue an invitation as mayor to Marshall Joffre of France and his promise of police protection to the gathering of members of the People's council for Democracy and terms of Peace, all were urged against the mayor by his opponents.

Labor Party in Field

A labor party was in the field for the first time with John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, as mayoralty candidate, who finished in fourth place, trailing Hoynes, the Independent. Hoynes polled more than 100,000 votes. Fitzpatrick polled more than 50,000 out of a labor union membership of 240,000 and issued a statement that the labor party has established itself.

The other mayoralty candidates were John M. Collins, socialist, who polled nearly as many votes as the Socialist candidate received four years ago. Last in the list was Adolph Carnus, Socialist-Labor, who received fewer than 2000 votes.

Late tonight after no concession of victory from the Sweitzer headquarters had been issued, it was said Sweitzer adherents were investigating the action of the mayor in ordering policemen to take the police returns to his office in the city hall before the result should be made known.

The action, it was said by the mayor's advisors, was to prevent any manipulating of the figures. The mayor attributes his success to the confidence of the voters in the Republican party.

the duty of holding their bonds in aid of the government's credit; by the desire to realize losses before the end of the year and thus reduce taxes; by the changed financial position of many bondholders growing out of the termination of hostilities; and worst of all, by the wicked devices of bond sharps and swindlers.

"I believe that all these adverse influences have spent their force. I am sanguine to believe that the market for liberty bonds has seen its worst and that the market position of the bonds will improve as true understanding of the immense strength of the financial position of the United States becomes disseminated and as the victory loan proceeds."

LARGE PACIFIC FLEET FAVORED

Congressmen Would Charge Up Ships as War Loss and Sell Them Cheap

SEATTLE, Wash., April 1.—Seven members of the house naval affairs committee inspecting harbor and naval facilities on the Pacific coast, who arrived here today, expressed themselves unanimously in favor of a large fleet for the Pacific, greatly enlarged facilities for the Puget sound navy yard at Bremerton and the Mare Island yard, San Francisco. As individual congressmen, the visitors told Seattle business men they heartily favored charging of the wooden ships built during the war as war loss, selling some at once at pre-war prices, others later, and so continuing until the wooden fleet had been disposed of to private hands.

At a chamber of commerce luncheon the congressmen made it plain that Secretary Daniels had determined on a division of the Atlantic fleet half of which would be sent to the Pacific. Representative Carl Vinson, of Georgia, and others expressed gratification that sentiment for a large Pacific fleet was sought on the Pacific coast. The only question, it was pointed out, was a matter of adequate facilities.

"Both the Puget Sound and Mare Island yards must be enlarged," Representative Frederick C. Hicks, New York, declared, "and it may be necessary to establish one or more additional yards."

The committeemen were driven about the city this afternoon, guests at dinner of the army and navy club tonight, and tomorrow will visit the navy yard at Bremerton. Women members of the party will be entertained in Seattle during the day.

At the home of Dr. Ephraim Northcott, were being examined by the police here tonight following the arrest of the physician on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Inez Elizabeth Reed, a my nurse. Miss Reed's body was found in a ravine near San Mateo on March 8, following an illegal operation.

Dr. Northcott's offices here were examined by the police today, but no records of patients' visits found, the police said. All of his instruments were taken to headquarters. Miss Frances Cronin, Dr. Northcott's office nurse, who was questioned by the police last night, was not arrested, as was erroneously reported, but was allowed her full liberty, and no charge is contemplated against her, the police said today. Miss Cronin will be asked to testify in the hearing of Dr. Northcott.

Dr. Northcott was to be taken to San Mateo tonight by a representative of the San Mateo county sheriff's office. As the crime was committed in that county, according to the police, his trial will take place there. He steadily refused today to make any admissions, although confronted with the remains of Miss Reed's mesh bag and other of the dead girl's belongings said to have been found in the grate of the San Mateo house.

STUDENTS HAVE BATTLE ROYAL

Willamette Freshmen and Sophomore Stage Free for All Over Numerals

Blood and tattered shirts and Willamette freshmen and Willamette sophomores and dust and grime and heated words were mixed in wild confusion yesterday when the freshmen and sophomores mixed over a numeral painting episode. The battle occurred at noon while chapel was being held and was staged on the athletic field in front of the grand stand.

According to stories the combat had its instigation, when the freshmen shattered all traditions of the university and daubed the numerals of the sophomores. The sophomores resented the affront and the combat resulted. Most of the girls of the two classes left hurriedly to uphold and cheer their champions. The affray was stopped by upper classmen who censured the belligerents and enforced peace.

The trouble resulting in the mix has been brewing for some time, so reports go, but there was no organized campaign back of the battle which was entirely impromptu. There were no casualties except Paul Wise, sophomore, who sustained a broken collar bone. The other participants suffered bruises and scratches but there were no serious injuries.

PAIR FREED IN POLICE COURT

Improper Conduct Charge Against Eddy and Rosetta Farlow Dismissed

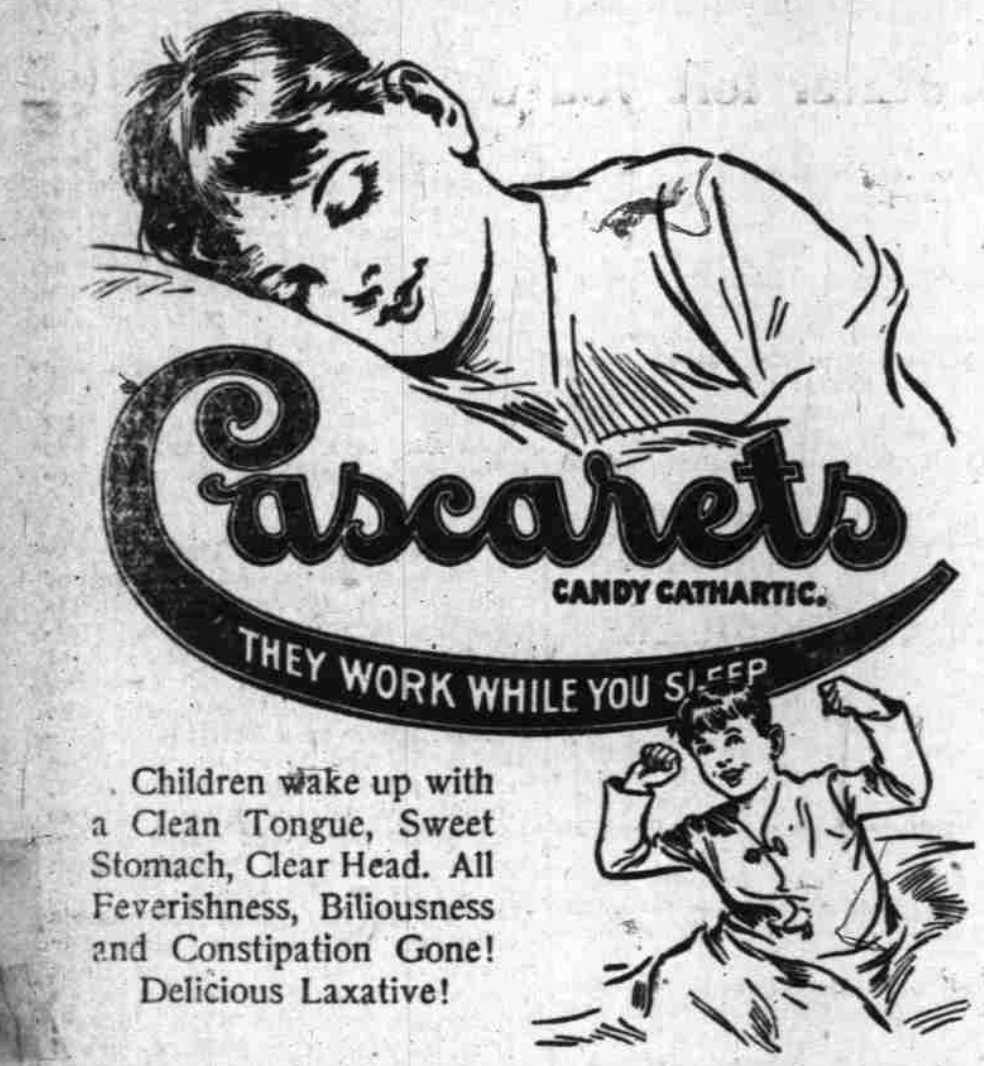

The charge of improper conduct on which Rosetta Farlow and Eddy were arrested Monday night, was dismissed in police court yesterday on motion of City Attorney B. W. Macy. The case came up for hearing at 2 o'clock and the testimony was taken. Attorney Macy then moved for dismissal on the grounds that the testimony did not bear out the statements made to him when the case was under investigation and before the arrests were made.

Judge Race allowed the motion and dismissed Eddy and Mrs. Farlow.

The hearing of Josie Stotler charged with disorderly conduct and accused of calling her husband vile names will be given a hearing at 10 a. m. today. She was arrested Tuesday on a warrant sworn out in justice court by Mrs. Rosetta Farlow charging her with trespassing on the premises of Mrs. Farlow. Her hearing on the later charge has been fixed for Tuesday, April 8.
