Charles Ray in the "Girl Dodger" at the Oregon today. He's afraid of chorus girls! But he has to entertain them and makes them think he's a devil of a fellow. That's the contract. Then comes Anita Graham, beautiful and charming. "Another chorus girl," says the girl dodger. "Watch me show her that I am a man about town." And he does. Such complications! Such laughs! Charles Ray in the funniest picture he ever made.

Motion Picture Classic says: "Really the most interesting movies of our month weren't dramatic at all—but Martin Johnson's fascinating tour of the Cannibal Isles of the South Pacific. We guarantee them to have ten times the grip of an average photoplay."

New York Tribune says: Martin Johnson's "Cannibals of the South

Seas" is quite as thrilling as a Robert Louis Stevenson story, and you know too that is all real. Three exceptionally good acts at the Bligh today.

The story of "You Never Saw Such a Girl" is one of the most charming and appealing in which Vivian Martin has been cast. It will be shown at the Oregon on Wednesday and Thursday.

Extraordinary vaudeville at the Bligh today.

Billie Burke in "Good Gracious, Anabelle" at the Oregon next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. She married a man who wore whiskers.

Owen Johnson's story of married life in New York society, published serially in the Cosmopolitan magazine, and later in book form under the famous title of "Virtuous Wives", will be shown at the Liberty theatre, beginning today, with Miss Anita Stewart in the role of Amy Forester. This is Miss Stewart's first production after an absence of several months from local screens.

The cast that has assisted Ethel Clayton in "Maggie Pepper" includes Elliott Dexter, Tully Marshall, Fay Holderness and a bunch of other good ones. Friday and Saturday at the Oregon.

"Maggie Pepper" with Ethel Clayton starring is one of the best pictures of this season. The play by Charles Klein. It was one of Rose Stahl's greatest successes.

Marlan Gibney, a strikingly handsome girl with a beaming smile always on tap to which can be added a most pleasing personality offers a comedy singing and talking specialty which she calls "The Sassy Single" in "Clean Clowning." Miss Gibney is a comedienne of rare variety. At the Hippodrome show at the Bligh today.

"Rip and Stitch" tailors is a Mack-Sennett comedy which means a whole lot when Mack Sennett says its funniest he ever made. Well that means it's a go-getter.

Vitagraph's famous author policy again comes to the front in "All man," the Blue Ribbon feature, which will be seen in the Bligh theatre today. The scenario is adapted from "Fiddler's Green," by Don Byrne, which enjoyed such wide popularity when it was run in the Saturday Evening Post.

Specially selected vaudeville at the Bligh today.

Martin Johnson, explorer, adventurer, and pal of Jack London, has converted his motion pictures of his sensational journeys among savage races, into a five-reel feature, "Cannibals of the South Seas."

To be shown at Ye Liberty four days starting Wednesday, April 16.

Vivian Martin's avocation is farming. At her little farm in California she raises everything from squash to apples. "You Never Saw Such a Girl."

Smash-up show at the Bligh today—get in early.

Here today, Miss Anita Stewart in "Virtuous Wives", from the year's greatest novel, by Owen Johnson. A story of society, New York's famous Four Hundred, marriage, moral social conduct, love-a-begging, with gowns galore, palatial settings and a big all-star cast. At Ye Liberty with orchestra music.

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Friday and Saturday you can always find a pleasing comedy at the Oregon in addition to the feature picture.

"Virtuous Wives," from the book by Owen Johnson, will be presented at the Liberty theatre, beginning today with Miss Anita Stewart making her return to the screen as a star in the role of Amy Forester. Special orchestra music too.

Down with the Weimerwurst is the slogan in "Impropaganda", the comedy at the Oregon today.

Sessue Hayakawa, in his latest big feature production "The Temple of Dusk" which surpasses anything that he has yet done, will be shown at Ye Liberty for three days starting tomorrow.

Dorothy Gish's next picture "Pep-py Polly" is a different story, a new story and an unusual story.

Realizing that the people of Salem appreciate the best, The Oregon is booking only high class pictures. It's difficult to get good comedies but we get them when it's possible.

Herbert Rawlinson plays the leading male role with "Billie Burke" in "Good Gracious Anabelle" at the Oregon next Sunday.

"MUTT AND JEFF IN THE WOOLLY WEST."

Simon-pure comedy of the kind that insinuates itself into our very marrow and makes life one long blissful song, is promised in the latest Mutt and Jeff series which is underlined as the next attraction at the Grand Opera House, with the customary matinees. tainment and modern producing. It is in three rollicking acts and is entitled, "Mutt and Jeff in the Woolly West." The plot naurally permits those two wonderfully humorous cartoon personages ample opportunity to display their talents for arousing mirth, which has been their quota ever since their gifted creator, Bud Fisher, first brought them into the light of fame and happiness.

As on previous occasions little Jeff becomes the buffer for a number of side-splitting pranks at the hands of that champion practical joker and trouble maker, A. Mutt—though in the end Jeff sufficiently outwits his chum and tormentor by becoming the proud possessor of a valuable gold mine which has been willed to him by his deceased brother.

Their adventures carry them through many periods of stress and high jinks, but throughout all there is an irresistible tumult of hearty laughter and infectious mirth. As on former occasions, Manager Gus Hill, who again pilots the destinies of the inseparable twain of gloom dispellers, has mustered a capable cast which includes twenty dashing, fascinating and captivatingly pretty girls who will assist in dispensing and sporting themselves in a galaxy of tuneful songs and dances; unique features, inimitable surprises, novelties and gorgeous display of gowns and scenic investiture are also promised. This superb and triumphant attraction will be seen at the Grand Opera house one night, Wednesday, April 9.

AMERICANS PRAISED IN SIBERIA

Press Correspondent Chronicles His Experiences While Trying to Travel Out of Harbin—Customs Are Peculiar

The following is one of a series of articles written by an Associated Press correspondent who travelled from Vladivostok to Omsk, Russia on a train carrying British troops and who has forwarded by mail descriptions of some of the incidents he observed at the chief centers en route.

En Route to Omsk, Aboard British Military Train, Jan. 3.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Harbin was crowded to the bursting point when our train carrying British troops to Omsk arrived there. It was quite impossible to obtain a room anywhere in the town. Prices constantly are rising. The temperature was 10 degrees below zero and the atmosphere dry and bracing.

Hundreds of tiny drokies, drawn by two shaggy-coated Mongolian horses driven by bunched-up Manchus, took passengers only at exorbitant rates. The railroad station was swarming with people of a score of nationalities, all hurrying and jostling, incarnating the fear and uncertainties of Russian life of today.

The correspondent visited the largest grocery store and laid in an extra supply of canned goods. The place was jammed with people. It was well-stocked with goods, and many people were buying wines, including champagne. An American housewife would have found the store-system unbearable. A single cashier received the payments from hundreds of purchasers who were forced to stand in line for an hour before they could pay their checks and receive their packages. Harbin is Chinese territory but Russia has always considered herself as possessing primary rights.

The great topic of discussion was the future of Russia and everybody seemed to have a different view. All were unanimous, however, that the railroads must be put into better working shape. One heard pleasant things about America and Americans and the conviction was freely voiced that America had no territorial designs on Russia.

Russian journalists, including Z. Klorin, the editor of The New Life, said the principles of Bolshevism probably were more deeply rooted in the hearts of the Russian people than was believed by Americans. They said that allied intervention should be solely to restore order and not interfere with internal politics. Russia, they said, should be left to work out her own political destiny. Interference from abroad would only postpone a logical evolution of Russia's revolution.

An American railroad engineer, R. S. Ashby, of Pocatello, Idaho, one of the 200 experts in Siberia under the direction of John F. Stevens to help operate the Trans-Siberian and other railways came aboard our train at Tsitkhar, Manchuria. The place was a wild, uncultivated prairie with hillocks extending far away into the horizon.

"This place, said Mr. Ashby, 'is called 'No Man's Land', and one might well believe it. He said the American engineers were now assisting the Russian staff officers who controlled different sections of the railway line as far as Manchuria. He lived in a barracks with six other American engineers. They had some baseball in the summer and skating in the winter. The temperature was generally about the same as that of Canada.

One could hardly help feeling that the Americans should know and realize something of what these American engineers are doing, often under obstacles in fulfillment of the American spirit of humanity and helpfulness.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Salem Farmer Cured of Cancer

Salem, Oregon, December 6, 1918.

To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that I had a cancer of my lower lip of three years standing which worried me greatly. I went to Dr. S. C. Stone for treatment. He applied a liquid for six days, and then an ointment, and in a few days the cancer came out and the place healed up nicely. This was last August. I can conscientiously recommend Dr. Stone and his treatment of cancer.

W. J. BROWN, Salem, Oregon.

The above certificate was tendered by Mr. Brown unsolicited in appreciation of Dr. Stone's services.

turned and was cordially received by his patron.

"So you have succeeded in tracing back my ancestors? What is your fee?"

"Two hundred dollars."

"Isn't that high?" objected the patron. "What's it for?" "Principally," responded the genealogist "for keeping quiet about them."

But it must be admitted that not all of the men who think they are capable of solving the peace problem get their mail in Paris. There's not a corner drug store where a plentitude of information is not to be had on that subject.
