THE OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS IS ENCOURAGING.

"The sooner commerce and industry are allowed to resume their natural channels, the better for the whole world. That is the only cure for Bolshevism, as well as the many other isms that are upsetting nation after nation. Force may be necessary, in some instances to restore order; but the chief needs of humanity are an increased production and a better distribution of food, clothing, shelter and communication, all of which have been largely destroyed or deranged by war.

"General trade is fairly active, and the readjustment to peace conditions goes steadily on. There are still many uncertainties to be faced, particularly adjustments in prices and in the relations with labor. The conflicting forces are very strong. The entire public is interested in a lower cost of living, which can be accomplished only by lower prices. But lower prices cannot be accomplished under rising wages and shorter hours.

"The most conspicuous element of support to the market was the confidence in business circles and the partial revival of the spirit of enterprise. The latter was strikingly illustrated by the output of new charters in March, the total for that month in the principal States amounting to $370,000,000, compared with $197,000,000 a year ago, when the figures were at a low level owing to the war."

The above three paragraphs are taken from the current weekly financial letter of Henry Clews, the Wall Street authority.

Unserable. Get back to first principles. Restore order. Then give business a free field, "a run for its money," and business will take care of itself; and all will be well with all the whole wide world.

The League of Nations committee at Paris yesterday adopted the amendment officially recognizing the Monroe Doctrine and its continuance. This completes the adoption of all the six amendments suggested by Mr. Root, on the request of Mr. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee. This insures the vote for ratification of all the members of the United States Senate, with the exception of Borah, and perhaps of Reed of Missouri. It may be taken for granted now that there will be a League of Nations, and that it will start off full fledged and based upon a constitution as perfect as the minds of the greatest of earth could at the present time conceive; but which may be amended as new world needs may arise in the onward sweep of civilization and progress. It is glorious news. None more glorious was ever flashed under or over the wide seas.

Whatever may be the relative chances of success on the British transatlantic air route from Newfoundland and the American route by way of the Azores, the southern route would be pleasanter for an aviator who was forced to descend and wait for rescue.

As we understand the attitude of China at the peace table, it is only a demand that the nation be allowed to remain on earth.

Peace is near. Thanks to America, it is to be an unselfish peace; or more nearly so than any ever before signed.

However, that League of Nations ought to be able to keep us out of war as successfully as we were kept out in April, 1917.

Herbert Hoover, in charge of the food campaign, did not get a cent of remuneration beyond his expenses from the government. He is one of the few men in positions of authority and power who made good. Those who dropped in to "cuss" him are throwing their hats.—Exchange. (Of course. He was a Salem boy. He got the right start here.)

It is reported that the German government is planning to send Prince Lichnowsky as Ambassador when diplomatic relations are resumed. He is one of the few Germans who would be wholly acceptable to this government. Before the war he was Ambassador to England and was expelled from the Prussian

HEALTH WITHOUT DRUGS

Health depends upon a normal supply of healthy blood. The blood supply depends upon the circulation of the blood. This circulation depends upon the normal functioning of the nervous system. Anything, therefore, that interferes with nerve function will affect the health. Contracted muscles, displaced bones or other lesions, eye strain, and errors of diet are some of the things that interfere with nerve function and consequently with health. It is our business to correct the conditions that interfere with normal nerve function. We are working at our business.

THE PETREL PETROL PATROL

(Los Angeles Times)

Several of the concerns making airplanes are enlisting the interest of city governments in the use of the machines for police work. A proposition has been made for the establishment of an aerial patrol in San Francisco. In our own beach city of Venice a flying cop is already on the municipal payroll and has been assigned his duties. When the planes get to going strong it will be necessary to police the skies. A committee of astronomers will stake out the heavens and map the routes of the bird men. When an officer gets himself disliked he might be transferred to the outlying beat from Saturn to Jupiter, where there isn't a drug store for thirty million miles. Here in this town it is not unusual for an Angel to exceed the speed limit, but they may yet be plucking them for this very thing out of Milwaukee.

But it is a sure thing that the government will be using a lot of planes in rescue and relief work as well as in the customs and patrol service. Aerial guards will flutter along the borders to prevent smuggling of hop and other concomitants of vice. When the world goes dry the human hawks will hunt the horizon for trace of the smoke of the illicit still. The official flyers will see that the heavens are made safe against the erratic flights of wobbly ones, and hunting blind pigs with bombing planes will be the favorite sport of the revenue service.

In the big leagues of baseball huge airships are to be used in transporting the clubs from one place to another—at least the press agent has permitted the leakage of a story to that purpose. McGraw of the Giants has already got his flyer and one massive machine has moved fifty-one passengers through the heavens.

Next thing will be aerial baseball with the bases staked out somewhere this side of the Milky Way. The ball might be shot from a cannon on the earth while the players in scout planes developed the game. The fielders would be fly catchers, all right, and when any performer got sore at the soaring empire he might call him buzzard, vulture, coronant or other appropriate name. He would be up in the air most of the time instead of just now and then.

Then will come the winged golfer. No wonder that the importance of an aerial patrol is being urged.

LEST WE FORGET!

The tumult and the shouting dies—The captains and the kings depart—Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart, Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Humors Come to the Surface in the spring as in no other season. They don't run themselves all off than say, however, but mostly remain in the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them, wards off danger, makes good health sure.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

It is a live one. What is a live one? The Salem Commercial club. And this means much in the present progress of Salem. Don't worry. The prune men will get after the new "cootie." They will give it the poison gas treatment. The prune crop is not going to be ruined by any bug. The league of nations is assured. And peace is near. All's well that ends well. Watch the world move ahead as everything is arranged at Paris.

The Monroe Doctrine is safe. That is, it is recognized in the league of nations agreement. Do you know just what the Monroe Doctrine is? No? Well, no one else does. It has never been defined. In a vague way, it means that the United States is the mandatory for all the nations of the New World. But some of these nations would deny it.

Maine has voted down a proposal to put herself in line with other states and hold her elections in November. It is evident that, being the last important September state, that fact gives her a prestige that she does not want to give up. What would we do without the usual lines about "hell-bent" and Gov. Kent?

It is announced that the Bolsheviks have abandoned Dvinsk, where it is and however you pronounce it.

MRS. LEWIS OF BROOKLYN

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"For one year I was miserable from a displacement, which caused a general run-down condition with headaches and pains in my side. My sister induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I found it helped me very much and such a splendid tonic that I am recommending it to any woman who has a similar trouble."—Mrs. ELISE G. LEWIS, 30 Vernon Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Such conditions as Mrs. Lewis suffered from may be caused by a fall or a general weakened run-down condition of the system, and the most successful remedy to restore strength to muscles and tissue and bring about a normal healthy condition—has proved to be this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you have disturbing symptoms you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

IN A SOCIAL WAY

By DORRIS LEAH SIKES

IN the last copy of the Bulletin published by the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Charles H. Castner, president of the state federation, suggests that "Americanization" could profitably be made the topic for club work for this year.

An extract follows: "You are expecting a revival of club interest and enthusiasm. You have loyally permitted patriotic service to overshadow the regular club work, but you, no doubt, want a program that will meet both needs.

"Every department of the government, every educational organization, is considering the great problem of Americanization. Beginning with the immigrant and following him in the process of becoming an American citizen is interesting in itself, but to study the reasons why he chooses to come to America, why he needs help in his new surroundings, how we are to reach him through our own language, how we are to create a right atmosphere around him, how we are to promote confidence and home—all these and various other correlated studies can be made more than profitable as the year's study.

"With true democracy, the goal of Americanization," as a motto, the Oregon clubs, through the combined efforts of their committees on library and literature, music, civics, education, and public health, could put on a state-wide program which would result in permanent good."

Lemons Beautify! Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness, softness, whiteness and beauty.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months.

Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

LANDS IN GOTHAM SILVERTON, Ore., April 10.—(Special to The Statesman)—Mrs. Pearl Miller received a telegram yesterday announcing the fact that her brother, Alwin Hemmingen, has landed in New York. Mr. Hemmingen was drafted into the army at Camp Lewis last year on April 25. Three weeks later he was enroute to France. He is a son of the late Mrs. John Hemmingen who died March 5.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.
