Growers association, who operate their own cannery.

"Apples: Apple prices received last year were the highest in the history of this institution. The union has developed its apple markets and is proud of its record last year, as it compares favorably with prices received by old established and heavily advertised communities. We have a difficulty, however, to overcome in the apple business, and that is to get the apples picked and shipped on time. Without any cold storage here and under ordinary temperatures, our apples deteriorate rapidly after picking, if shipped south, which, last year, was our best market, and although we tried hard to get our growers to get them in earlier, for various reasons, the picking and delivering was delayed to the extent that two or three of our cars arrived in slightly damaged condition, making it necessary for us to make allowances, which brought down the returns somewhat.

"In order to make it fair and equitable we were obliged to pool the fruit of the growers whose picking was delayed by themselves, so as not to penalize the grower who got his fruit in on time, and whose fruit arrived in good condition. The statement, which will be read following these preliminary remarks will be a statement of the condition of the union, and outside of a few minor items the growers are all paid off with the exception of the interest which we are figuring on paying prune growers on their accounts.

"We have prepared claims against the government for interest, due to the delay in giving us shipping instructions, of extra storage, and charges caused by the delay and up to the present time have collected about $2000 out of the $6000, total amount of claims, leaving still about $4000 to be paid. That this amount or practically all of it will be allowed we have been advised by an officer connected with the United States Quartermasters department. We had anticipated paying our members 8 per cent on their accounts, but the government will not stand for more than 6 per cent, so it will be necessary for us to reduce the amount of interest on delayed payments to 6 per cent.

"We are having difficulty at the present time in getting interest from October 1, as the government states that we would not have made settlements before December 1 under any circumstances anyway.

"It is the union's intention to turn over all the interest collected on these claims to the growers and on whatever basis we receive interest we will make return to the growers. In closing we wish to thank the growers very much for their support to the board of directors and the management during the past year, and their untiring patience and co-operation during the trying conditions under which we worked. We also take this opportunity to wish you another prosperous year."

approval which is necessary for its adoption."

The preamble of the covenant of the league of nations, in which the Japanese sought the inclusion of their amendment reads as follows:

"In order to promote international co-operation and to secure international peace and security by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of the understanding of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of a just and scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized people with one another, the powers signatory to this covenant, adopt this constitution of the league of nations."

New Methods vs. Old

The Brunswick Method of reproduction has established new standards of tone projection, due to two outstanding features—Two departures from old methods.

As no one record maker has all the desirable singers and entertainers, the advantages of the Ultona are easily appreciated.

The Brunswick horn brings out tones hitherto lost and eliminates the usual metallic sounds, for it is built entirely of molded wood like a fine violin.

Let us explain all the features of the Brunswick to you. We shall gladly put it to any test you wish. But you shall be the judge of its superiorities.

The Ultona reproducer enables you to play all records at their best. Just a turn of the hand presents to each type the proper point and diaphragm, its exact position on the record, and the precise degree of pressure.

views. Generally they talked in Russian, their speeches being translated by interpreters in the American ranks. Occasionally they sent to Petrograd and got some ex-American immigrant to give a lecture in English on the reason for Bolshevism to a more or less interested audience of doughboys on the other side of no-man's land.

For a long time when our lines on the Kadish sector were separated from the Bolsheviki by a 75 yard stream, over which there was a wooden bridge which neither side wished to destroy, both figuring on using it some day, almost nightly there occurred a strange entertainment. Sometimes it was only a monologue, in which a Bolsheviki orator on one side of the stream would harangue loudly the Americans. Sometimes it was a sort of a duet, in which the Americans would reply "can that stuff!" "what's eating you?" and other similar American expressions. Once, when the Bolsheviki were feeling particularly lively, they gave a propaganda vaudeville show, following their English speaking orator's plea to come over and join them with an accordion solo, the tune of which was "Yankee Doodle."

The Americans have seen some of the brutality. There were five mutilated bodies of Americans down Ust Vaga way in the Shenshurk sector, that out-argued all the Bolsheviki propaganda, but on the whole, one day, down the Kadish line, the Bolsheviki sought an excuse to trot out and show our soldiers how well they treated their prisoners. They brought out one American who had been missing a long time and also a Scot in view of a party of officers and men.

The two appeared well fed. Then away into the woods and invited all the Yanks to "come over and get fattened up."

Perhaps the truth of it all may be that the Bolsheviki sometimes kill prisoners and sometimes try to make Bolsheviki out of them, all depending on the caprice of the officer commanding, or the sector in which the prisoner is taken.

FRUIT UNION HAS MILLION DOLLAR YEAR

Wenatchee and Yakima last year brought considerable more than local cherries of the same varieties, but, on the other hand they were not able to ship them orchard run the way they were delivered to canneries, which offsets to a degree part of the extra price they received.

"Bartlett pears: When it came to marketing Bartlett pears, of which there was an extremely good crop, on account of the union's superior knowledge of market conditions over the unorganized growers, the union was able to net the grower $48 on their No. 1s and $24 on their No. 2s, which is $8 more per ton on the No. 1s and $4 more on the No. 2s than was received anywhere else in the Willamette valley, except the price paid by the Eugene Fruit

"Opinions in the matter are conflicting in the extreme. To generally clarify the atmosphere and to give myself a clear, first-hand idea of the charges as well as the usefulness that may be made, I have decided to call a special meeting for next Friday to give to every one that may have an interest the fullest possibility of presenting any data which may prove enlightening.

"A great amount of money is expended by the citizens of the state each year for the propagation and conservation of fish and game. The commission has a great and important function to perform. I desire a full and free airing of the situation that I, as well as the people of the state, may be as fully advised as possible of conditions just as they exist.

"What the future of the fish and game situation will be probably will depend a great deal upon the facts that develop at the proposed meeting."

POST-BELLUM SUITINGS

Are Superior in Quality.

The new woolsens we are receiving at the present time have been made since the armistice was signed. Their superior quality is in marked contrast to the materials we were able to get during the war. We have them in various weaves and patterns and of proper weights and shades for the summer season.

Let us show you these materials from which we can fashion you a suit you'll be proud to wear—a suit of the most popular style and of a quality unexcelled at the price.
