SENATOR BORAH IS A VERY POOR GUESSEER.

Senator Borah, who looks upon himself as the very soundest Presidential timber in the whole woods, objects to the peace league in its present form as "committing the United States to an entirely new policy in world affairs." We were committed to this new policy the Senator complains of when we entered the late war to make the world safe for democracy, and America must now stand hithered or confess that the sacrifice was ill-timed and worse than useless.—Nebraska State Journal.

It has kept doing so. It will keep on doing so. It will hold the torch high. It will fling the torch to the future continually with the assurance that it will be carried still further and higher in the service of leading a world into more glorious light and freedom and equality.

Some one suggests that with the German army reduced to 100,000 many of the small nations, at the same ratio of reduction, ought to be able to get along with two or three men and a dog and a couple of pocket pistols.—Boston Transcript.

In the meantime, the writing of the treaty of peace goes on; and it will stand as written, with or without the signature of Italy—and Germany.

Without any more speeches than necessary is becoming so evident that we are very glad, after all, that President Wilson concluded not to put any senators on our commission.—Ohio State Journal.

With everything about settled, why would it not make an ideal match for the suffragette pickets to marry the professional prohibitionists? Both are about out of a job.—Exchange.

A New Jersey woman has been indicted on the charge of being a common scold. Anybody who wishes to be a common scold should first take the precaution to be elected to the United States senate, where that sort of thing is privileged.—New York World.

If Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee keeps on it will soon be the fashion for all of the parties to elect chairmen of that kind. He seems to combine good political sense with executive ability and finds both not incompatible with some notions of what the voters seem to want and expect.

THE BLUSTER OF BERLIN

Judging from the cablegrams, some of which must be accepted with more than a grain of salt, the Germans are going to descend on Versailles with a peace delegation 200 strong and every one of 'em with a chip on his shoulder.

Berlin, which no more than the rest of the world outside the council of four knows the terms to be presented, is already blustering about what it is going to do, or rather what it is not going to do. It's not going to sign away "an inch of German territory," it's not going to allow any "deviation from the fourteen points" and it's not going to pay any indemnities except those "fixed by her acceptance of the note of November 5, 1918."

Perhaps they have forgotten the existence of a man whose fame is as great and will prove as lasting as that of Napoleon, viz., Marshal Foch. Their military representatives had some experience of his firmness at the time of the signing of the armistice; let's hope the peace plenipotentiaries won't compel him to show them that side of his character. The marshal is very much of a gentleman. He likes to be pleasant.

HOME RULE

See Mike O'Rourke: "I come from Cork, an' I am for Home Rule." "Ain't it a shame," sez Hennessy, "that you are such a fool!"

"Tis easy knowin' Michael sez, "why Home Rule makes you mad; "You have so much home rule at home, it gets your goat, bedad!"

"Don't scandalize my Mary Ann, she is a perfect saint!" "If what the neighbors say is true, be Jabbers! then, she ain't!"

"Blackguard!" yells Pat Hennessy. "Her virtue is her Jew!" "Then may I ask," sez Michael, "why she smiles on young O'Toole?"

"Tis common gossip all around that she is sweet on Tim. An' every time your back is turned she's makin' eyes at him!"

"Faith! what about your Bridget, an' that double-faced O'Shea? She has him up to dinner every noon when you're away!"

Now when the wreckage was removed, Och! it was an awful sight! It was a frightful battle and, of course, each man was right.

"Six months fer both!" decides the Court. "Six months within the can!" An' now the argument will end, just where it first began.

—MABEL RAINS

JURIES AND WOMEN

Juries have always been gracious to women and it is matter of common proof that it is hard to find one to convict her of wrongdoing. In a Missouri court the other day a jury went on a strike on being instructed by the court to bring in a verdict for the defendant in a case wherein a pretty widow was suing an insurance company. Under the terms of the policy the company was plainly not liable.

able, but the jury wanted to give the woman the money anyhow, and so they refused to sign the verdict ordered by the court. The judge threatened to lock them up until they did so and said he would set the verdict aside if they found for the fair plaintiff. It is understood that the jurors finally yielded to the inevitable, but it was not until they had registered objection to the imperious mandate of the court.

LEST WE FORGET!

The tumult and the shouting dies—The captains and the kings depart—Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart, Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Peace is closer. The draft is being made. Italy would feel better if she said she liked it. Everybody will celebrate buy in Salem week; next week. Work will soon be pushed on Salem's new paper mill. Still they come. Great shiphoads of soldier boys arrived in New York from France yesterday. If Burselon could get into court with a clear record with his deft, he might get by. But his record is patchy and full of holes. Again, the sure way to get building of homes to going good in Salem is to boost the local building and loan association; and make the sky the limit. That will turn the trick. The way new buildings and the repairing of old ones goes ahead in the Salem downtown district begins to look like the good old days.

Editors of Scarlet Sheet Will Be Allowed Credits

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, April 25.—

The status of the four men who were recently expelled from the university because of their connection with the Scarlet Sheet was defined by President P. L. Campbell in a statement issued Thursday. His statement reads as follows: "The inquiry has been made as to whether or not the four young men recently dismissed from the university for their connection with the publication of the Scarlet Sheet will be permitted to transfer their grades to another university. No formal transfer can be made. It is a rule in educational institutions to give an exact transcript of a student's record in the institution which he has been attending on the request of either the student himself or of the institution which he desires to enter. This record will of course, show the fact of dismissal in the case of these four students. The question of admission and of giving credit for the grades already made, rests with the institution which the student desires to enter. The disposition of all universities is to be lenient, unless serious objections are imposed by the institution furnishing the transcript. The case was one which called for drastic action, but there is no vindictive feeling on the part of the faculty nor anything but a sincere desire for the future welfare of the young men involved, and undoubtedly no such objection would be made.

ROLL OF HONOR

In response to The Statesman's published appeal to parents of soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the service to notify the paper of such casualties the honor roll is gradually growing. An accurate list of these names and information concerning them will be invaluable and information concerning gold service stars in both Marion and Polk counties should be sent in as soon as possible. The following are the names of those from Polk and Marion counties who have made the supreme sacrifice. It includes killed in action, as well

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit. Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

Night Raiders Puzzle Polk County Officers

DALLAS, Or., April 25.—(Special to The Statesman)—During the past few days two stores in Polk county, one located at Monmouth and the other in Dallas have been entered by burglars and goods to the amount of several hundred dollars have been carted away. So far no clue to either of the robberies has been obtained by the county officers. The first robbery was in Dallas early Monday morning when the W. R. Ellis confectionery store was entered, the robbers gaining entrance from the back way and about $65 in cash and near-$100 worth of tobaccos and other goods taken.

Tuesday night the store of the Miller Mercantile company of Monmouth was entered and merchandise to the amount of $300 was taken away. The indications at the latter place are that the robbers drove up to the place in an automobile, loaded their plunder into the machine and drove away.

Independence Odd Fellows Celebrate Anniversary

The 100th anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellows lodge was celebrated by Valley lodge No. 42 at Independence last night and the session was attended by the following from Salem: Mr. and Mrs. George Wilk, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simeral, J. B. Chenoweth, F. Tyrrell, Martin Holmes, H. B. Churchill and

C. O. Engstrom. The regular meeting of the lodge was dispensed with and a program of music, recitations and speaking was given. The principal speaker of the evening was Attorney B. F. Swope of Independence who told of the growth of the Odd Fellows movement in the last 100 years. The order was founded April 26, 1818.

LET THE CHILDREN GROW

Coughs, colds, "snuffles," that hang on tend to weaken the system and a suffering, neglected child spends so much strength combating a cold that the little one cannot grow as fast and sound in body as when free from affliction. Foley's Honey and Tar is splendid for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough.—J. C. Perry.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE!

SIXTY THOUSAND boys gave their true-blue American lives over there to the cause which you are asked to support by buying Victory Liberty Bonds. Why, if the rest of us were to go on GIVING MONEY the rest of our lives we'd never be able to equal THEIR sacrifice, and this is probably the last call to ONLY LEND—instead of give.
