GENERAL MANAGER IS APPOINTED FOR NEW PAPER MILL IN CIT

Joseph Kaster Comes from Floriston, Calif., as Superintendent of Great Enterprise Launched by Leadbetter and Spaulding Interests --- Promoters and Officials Scan Location---Work to Begin on Sulphide Mill as Soon as Vacation of Trade Street Is Completed by City Council.

The general manager and superintendent of Salem's proposed new paper mill has been appointed, and he has assumed his duties. He is Joseph Kaster who comes from Floriston, Calif.

Mr. Kaster was in Salem looking over the ground yesterday, and he will go immediately to the east, to investigate the latest and most up to date methods and machinery used in paper making. He will be absent for 30 days.

But there will be no delay in commencing the work of construction on this account in case the vacation of the streets by the city shall have been consummated during his absence.

First will be the sulphide mill, to be located at the foot of Trade street-and the work can go ahead on this building immediately after the vacation shall have been completed.

Mr. Kaster was formerly superintendent for F. W. Leadbetter. leader in the Salem enterprise, at his paper mill at Camas, Wash., and for the last few years superintendent of the Floriston Pulp & Paper company of the Crown-Willamette combination, at Floriston, Calif.

Major Leadbetter arrived in Salem yesterday morning, coming with Mr. Kaster and the representatives of the manufacturers of paper mill machinery who are figuring upon the construction of the equipment for the proposed new mill.

Major Leadbetter will return to San Francisco, but he will soon be back in Salem, and he expects to spend a great deal of time here, as this is his pet project-the putting up of the finest and most up to date paper mill in the world.

The great paper machine of the new mill will be 200 feet long. It will be the only paper machine on this coast equipped throughout with ball bearings; and the second one of its kind ever built.

It is to be presumed that there w-----nore than the neces

More real estate business has been done in Salem in the past two or three months than was done in the same number of years previous and there is every indication of an even brighter outlook according to the general opinion of real estate dealers of the city. Many of them were interviewed yesterday and without exception they are most optimistic as to prospects for a steady substantial business growth.

Attorneys and abstracters are experiencing an unprecedented run in abstracts.

Dealers were unanimous in their assertions that the number of transfers recently as compared with those of the past two or three years has been nothing short of remarkable and yet, they say, there is, in the situation, nothing of the nature of a boom, that the buyers are careful, know what they want and have a good idea of values.

The prospects for the business and for this section of the state as a whole, indicate the brightest era in its history, say the real estate men, and they base their opinions on careful investigation and a study of crop indications and other evidences of prosperity.

It was frequently said that the only danger in the present good times is in a tendency to inflate values to an unreasonable figure. One dealer maintains that if owners insist upon putting up their prices beyond a reasonable valuation the business will be killed and that it will be a blow from which it will be very difficult to recover. He says that if sellers will be content with a fair margin on their property, they will be benefitted far more in the long run than if they "kill the goose that lays the golden egg."
