CHIROPRACTIC NECESSARY

So long as people live they will get sick. Health Agencies are essential to health conservation. No one can know it all. It is not safe to risk so important a matter to the application of but one type of thought in the treatment of diversified human disorders. Chiropractors fit well in an existing condition of human inefficiency due to disease. Their work provides those of weak bodily resistance with the maximum of nerve force—an element of human metabolism that cannot be neglected in handling disease.

DIAMONDS

Assuredly there will never be a better time for buying diamonds than right now. Values are still steadily on the rise. The stone you can buy today will cost you a great deal more a year from now.

We are especially fortunate in having an assortment of fine stones. Paying cash prices, purchasing good qualities, and the making of careful personal selection, gave us a marked advantage, and we pass it on to you with unusual values.

You know our record for high class methods—the kind of record worth while—and we believe you will especially appreciate it when you have diamonds to buy.

Questionnaires for Red Cross Women Received

Questionnaires to be filled out by Red Cross workers who desire service pins have been received by Willamette chapter and will be given out to all women desiring them. At a rough estimate it is stated that 100 women in this city are entitled to wear the button, which is for persons who have given since April 6, 1917, a minimum of 800 hours service. For each additional 800 hours women workers will be entitled to have a stripe interwoven in the ribbon of the badge. Buttons for men remain unchanged even though the period of service has exceeded the minimum of 800 hours.

The question blanks cover in detail the number of hours put in at surgical dressings, sewing in auxiliaries, chapter work at headquarters, motor corps, speakers bureaus, educational department, kitting, home garment work, canning and miscellaneous activities.

THIN, IRRITABLE CHILD Gained Flesh, Strength and Good Nature by Taking Vinol.

Middletown, Conn.—"I used Vinol for my little girl 5 years old for a run-down, nervous condition. She was thin, irritable all the time and had no appetite. In a week I noticed an improvement and now she has a good appetite, has gained in flesh and strength and is much pleasanter to live with."—Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body-building tonics known. Emil A. Schaefer, and druggists everywhere.

P. S.—For Eczema of scalp try our Saxol Salve. Money back if it fails.

QUAKER FAMILY SOON UNITED

Three of Smiths Are in War and Two Are Yet to Return Home

This reporter thinks three sons in the war is pretty good for a Quaker family.

Don't you? The Quakers don't believe in war; but a good many thousands of them decided that the thing Billy Hohenzollern was trying to put across the world was not war, but just plain butchery and arson and murder in the first degree of women and children. So they enlisted and hoped to it; if the reader will excuse the slang.

This reporter told, the other day, of the homecoming of "Pogey" Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Smith, who live out on Hazel avenue in Highland addition to Salem.

"Pogey" had served his hitch during the war in the navy, mostly in French waters. Now the Smiths have a night letter from another son, who has just arrived at Newport News, and says he hopes to be home by the 10th. He is Clifton Smith, who served in hospital No. 58, which was the base hospital nearest to the fighting front in France. Clifton was in the chemical department, and he had special training and service in gas cure; getting the men who had been gassed by the Germans into shape for the resumption of their duties. Clifton graduated from the Salem high school, and he was captain of the football team of the home school. Then he attended the state agricultural college at Corvallis, and graduated as a mining engineer. He was working as a mining engineer in Arizona when the call came to put an eternal quietus on Hun "schreckliche" or frightfulness.

There is still another member of the Smith family to be accounted for. He is "Klon" Smith, christened Seymour L. Smith, and better known in Salem high school circles as "Butch" Smith. He used to drive the Highland jitney. Well, "Klon" is still in the canal zone, where he has been flying and acting as mechanic to keep Uncle Sam's air fighting machines fit for service. Some sweet day, he too, will report at the parental home in Highland addition, and there will be a reunion of that unit of the widespread Smith family that will warm the cockles of the Quaker heart, that beats for brotherhood and peace, but will not stand for the unholy works of kultur.

By the way, the Smith paternal home in Highland is just around the corner from the old Dr. Minthorn home, where that other greatest fighting and feeding quaker of them all, Herbert Soover, premier world citizen, spent his studious boyhood days.

A QUESTION OF SERVICE

THIS is something one should ask himself when contemplating the opening of a bank account. Just how capable and how willing the banker is to serve his customers co-operatively is quite as important as the number and kinds of facilities he will afford. You might call here at the United States National and talk over the possibilities.
