HALF HUNDRED ARE AT NEVERS

Salem Boys Who Should Be in School Are Still Retained in France

Located in the French barracks, Caserne Pitti, in Guard Company No. 1, A. S. C., at A. P. O. No. 708, U. S. A., Nevers, France, are still some 50 Salem boys, members of Salem's old Company M; or they were so located up to April 18. Most of these Salem boys enlisted around March 26, 1917. Most of them were high school and university students, and a number of them were 15 and 16 years old when they entered the service. Their average age is perhaps 20 now. They went with the first call into a fighting unit, and nearly all of them arrived on the other side on Christmas, 1917.

These boys have taken things as they have come, or as they have been handed to them; and they are still "staying by the stuff," or guarding prisoners, or doing whatever duties they are given to perform.

They are not complaining now, but some of their parents, relatives and friends at home would like to see them back in time, at least, to enter school next September.

These are not all the Salem boys "over there," who ought to be in school in September. The 41st division, to which they belonged, is supposed to be home; but "Sunsets" may yet be seen all over France, on active duty—men transferred to various other parts of the service—according to a letter from one of the Salem boys "over there," just received here.

Following are the Salem boys at Nevers:

- First Sergeant—Paul C. Maurer. Sergeants—Paul Hendricks, Victor R. Taylor, Martin F. Van Laanen, Malcolm L. Gilbert, Claud W. Beck, Rein E. Jackson, Frank N. Zinn, Frank J. Miller. Corporals—Maurice Lawson, Warren Welborn, Eugene Eckerle, Elmer L. Ross, Sim Phillips Jr., Bryan H. Conley, John L. Clark, Oral H. Shaw.

Cook—Carl Martin. Mechanics—Roy W. Remington, Archie B. Holt.

Bugler—George V. Beck. Privates, first class—Archie Bailey, Jay I. Brown, Victor H. Collins, Louis Goldberg, Clayton Holm, Lawrence W. Hopt, Orly J. Leffingwell, Ray W. Loter, Harold H. McKinney, Charley C. Mussen, Lee W. Notson, Frank L. Prince, Maurice L. Rape, Herbert E. Wendland, Floyd E. White, David Hughes, Wilbur Daily.

Private 3: William L. Floyd, Stephen Kemper, Adolph Kittelson, Ivan Lady, Lyon L. Lawrence, Ed. Lovelace, Arthur S. Minks, Henry Townes, Elijah Ward.

Note—Since the above was written, Louis Goldberg has been transferred to the Headquarters, Army Service Corps, as he is an office man, and they need him. He was a student of Willamette university.

(The reader will understand, of course, that the above is not a full roster of Guard Company No. 1. It is merely a list of the Salem boys in that company.)

Father and Son Have Lengthy Prison Records

PORTLAND, May 12.—Further information received from the state parole officer of California by Chief Deputy Martin Pratt this morning concerning the criminal record of Edwin Primrose, slayer of Police Chief Gibbons of The Dalles, and confessed robber of the bank at Washouk, shows that Nelson Primrose, father of the youth, also is a paroled convict from the San Quentin penitentiary, where he was serving a 15-year sentence for burglary. Both father and son were paroled August 19, 1916, and were allowed to come to Oregon shortly afterward.

Primrose, Sr., was arrested at Fresno, Calif., January 19, 1912, when stolen articles alleged to have been taken by his son were discovered in his possession. It was learned. Both father and son pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in the first degree. Their prison records are without any black marks and they are said to have been model and industrious prisoners. Young Primrose was 23 years old at the time of his commitment.

Praast Twice Wounded While Charging Germans

DALLAS, Or., May 12.—(Special to The Statesman)—Paul Praast, a Dallas boy who went to France with Company L of Dallas, and who was afterwards transferred to another unit and sent to the front, arrived home last week well and happy, but carrying with him two battle scars. He was the first student of the Dallas high school to enlist with the local company at the break-out of the war, his action being immediately followed by a number of other students. In the action near Soissons in a charge on a machine gun nest which had been causing heavy casualties among his fellow companions young Praast received two machine gun bullets through both legs not however until he had accounted for more than one occupant of the nest. He is also said to have continued to use his rifle with good effect after being knocked down by the effect of the shots. He spent several months in hospitals in France and landed in this country but a short time ago.

EARLY RETURN IS PREDICTION

W. L. Whittlesey Succeeds Leiter as Head of Commission in Gotham

Miss Evelyn P. Curtis, secretary and member of the Oregon Welcome commission in New York, writes Governor Olett that if a peace treaty is signed within the next 30 or 40 days, she expects final debarkation of Oregon troops during the month of September. Her letter informs the governor that up to the present time only about 16 per cent of Oregon men who have been in service overseas have returned to New York.

Another interesting bit of information in Miss Curtis' letter is that W. L. Whittlesey, who has been a member of and ardent worker on the commission since Oregon headquarters was organized in New York has been selected as chairman to succeed O. C. Leiter, who has returned to Oregon.

"We are daily serving scores and sometimes several hundred Oregon men in a way which we feel is sending them back with an appreciation of what the state is doing for them and an added loyalty and devotion to their country for having been received in somewhat nearly a home spirit here," Miss Curtis writes.

"You will also be pleased to know that we have been able through our efforts to get the back pay of a number of our sailors and some of our soldiers, who have lost their records, and were considerably embarrassed by such a situation. Senator Chamberlain has taken up the problem of discharges, and throughout our work here has been most effective in handling these problems, which we forward him at Washington.

"The 91st division has left its eastern camps and the 18th engineers will leave here on Thursday morning. A large number of these men will arrive in Oregon very near or actually out of funds, except for the government bonus. They are hopeful of Oregon's fulfilling a promise to give all her old veterans a job when they return."

An attempt at invasion resulted in a complete failure. Costa Rica, he declared, was tranquil and he denied the published statement that the jails held any political prisoners.

Mental Anquish Only Can Accompany Pain

PORTLAND, Or., May 12.—A person cannot recover damages for mental anguish alone without having suffered physical injury, according to a ruling laid down here today by Judge Bean in the federal court in the case of Mrs. Leroy Clark against the Western Union Telegraph company.

Mrs. Clark alleged that the company failed to deliver a telegram to a sister in Eugene advising of the death of relatives and that as a consequence she incurred unnecessary expense in getting the message to her sister and that she was caused to suffer mental anguish. The motion to strike out the part of the complaint alleging mental anguish was allowed. The plaintiff is suing for $25,000 damages.
