

FOR GRADUATION WEAR

Simple and dainty as the little lady who will wear them are these low white shoes for Commencement Day.

Lovely White Kid Oxfords ..... $11.00
Dainty White Reinskin Pumps with high Cuban or Military heels ..... $5.75

White Canvas in Pumps or Oxfords,
French, Cuban or Military heels,
$2.95 to $5.25

The Bootery
WHERE CASH IS KING

EDITORIALS OF THE PEOPLE

(The Statesman is pleased to print communications upon topics of general interest at any time. There is scarcely any limit to the topics of "general interest." It is asked only that correspondents refrain from personalities and use care that nothing be written of a libelous nature. Letters must have writer's name and address, though not necessarily for publication.—Ed.)

Internationalism Denounced
To the Editor: In 1916 a bitter political campaign was waged in this country. In the west, particularly, where the women voted, the great campaign slogan of the Democratic party was: "He kept us out of war." At that time we were assured that the only way to keep out of war was to re-elect Mr. Wilson. Those who were courageous enough to predict that we could not keep out of war, and still maintain our national self-respect, honor and integrity, no matter who was elected, were met with sons to strike a death blow to German militarism; to keep the Hun barbarian from over-running and ruling the world. Was not that a beautiful ideal: a most wonderful conception of what was right? And to think that we actually swallowed this truth—TRASH, because subsequent events have demonstrated to all that it was nothing more nor less. Then came a time when after Germany had kicked us around to suit herself, murdered our citizens with impunity, insulted and bluffed us until even no semi-decent, half-civilized, third-rate nation would have longer stood it, we awoke to a sense of false leadership, a new spirit was born, latent Americanism stood to the fore, and the people demanded a new order of things, and as result Germany's fate was sealed. The Pacificist crawled into his hole and remained there during the war, because intelligent and patriotic Americanism had bound and gagged him. Then came the armistice, and immediately from his lair, emerged the Pacificist, garbed in a new robe—the robe of internationalism—but again up to his same old tricks. And so we began to hear ideals again; high sounding phrases; beautiful promises of eternal "Peace on earth, good will toward men." War was to be no more, a great league of nations was to be the panacea for all the ills of mankind. Our former pacifist was in the saddle again. Scarcely one of this specie can be found who is not lined up on the side of internationalism in this great effort to sacrifice America and all that America has stood and now stands for, upon the altar of this experiment.

America was fooled once by these saviors of the world. Are we going to be fooled again? Is the millennium here? Will America blindly follow these false prophets: these so-called Americans whose cries before the war were in every sense such as to favor Germany? Germany, the worst criminal against humanity and civilization in the history of the world. "He kept us out of war!" Out of war with whom? With Germany! "Too proud to fight!" Too proud to fight whom? Germany! "Peace at any price!" Peace with whom? Why taken from the Mexican situation and applied to the German situation. "Peace without victory!" What nation would the carrying out of such a plan favor? Germany! She had scarcely touched the horrors of war except in man power; she was the aggressor; she was the criminal. All this was to be forgotten, and she was to sit with equal voice with others.

As Senator Hiram Johnson said: "The issue is clarified; it is now a question of internationalism against Americanism." Are we going to follow these internationalists whom we so blindly followed once to our regret? Or like Senator Johnson, Senator Poindexter, Senator Borah, and others, are we going to say: "We are Americans; for America, first, last and all the time. Despite the soothing lotion served to us when we entered the war, and ever since then, that we fought to make the world safe for democracy, we did not nothing of the kind. One of our chief blood of millions of their favorite sons to strike a death blow to German militarism; to keep the Hun barbarian from over-running and ruling the world. Was not that a beautiful ideal: a most wonderful conception of what was right? And to think that we actually swallowed this truth—TRASH, because subsequent events have demonstrated to all that it was nothing more nor less. Then came a time when after Germany had kicked us around to suit herself, murdered our citizens with impunity, insulted and bluffed us until even no semi-decent, half-civilized, third-rate nation would have longer stood it, we awoke to a sense of false leadership, a new spirit was born, latent Americanism stood to the fore, and the people demanded a new order of things, and as result Germany's fate was sealed. The Pacificist crawled into his hole and remained there during the war, because intelligent and patriotic Americanism had bound and gagged him. Then came the armistice, and immediately from his lair, emerged the Pacificist, garbed in a new robe—the robe of internationalism—but again up to his same old tricks. And so we began to hear ideals again; high sounding phrases; beautiful promises of eternal "Peace on earth, good will toward men." War was to be no more, a great league of nations was to be the panacea for all the ills of mankind. Our former pacifist was in the saddle again. Scarcely one of this specie can be found who is not lined up on the side of internationalism in this great effort to sacrifice America and all that America has stood and now stands for, upon the altar of this experiment.

America was fooled once by these saviors of the world. Are we going to be fooled again? Is the millennium here? Will America blindly follow these false prophets: these so-called Americans whose cries before the war were in every sense such as to favor Germany? Germany, the worst criminal against humanity and civilization in the history of the world. "He kept us out of war!" Out of war with whom? With Germany! "Too proud to fight!" Too proud to fight whom? Germany! "Peace at any price!" Peace with whom? Why taken from the Mexican situation and applied to the German situation. "Peace without victory!" What nation would the carrying out of such a plan favor? Germany! She had scarcely touched the horrors of war except in man power; she was the aggressor; she was the criminal. All this was to be forgotten, and she was to sit with equal voice with others.

As Senator Hiram Johnson said: "The issue is clarified; it is now a question of internationalism against Americanism." Are we going to follow these internationalists whom we so blindly followed once to our regret? Or like Senator Johnson, Senator Poindexter, Senator Borah, and others, are we going to say: "We are Americans; for America, first, last and all the time. Despite the soothing lotion served to us when we entered the war, and ever since then, that we fought to make the world safe for democracy, we did not nothing of the kind. One of our chief

As Senator Hiram Johnson said: "The issue is clarified; it is now a question of internationalism against Americanism." Are we going to follow these internationalists whom we so blindly followed once to our regret? Or like Senator Johnson, Senator Poindexter, Senator Borah, and others, are we going to say: "We are Americans; for America, first, last and all the time. Despite the soothing lotion served to us when we entered the war, and ever since then, that we fought to make the world safe for democracy, we did not nothing of the kind. One of our chief

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Binzer, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

battle cries was: "America for Americans." And we fought to make America safe for Americans. We won the fight; may we not now enjoy the fruits of victory?
—AN AMERICAN.

GROWERS OF STATE FORM ASSOCIATION

(Continued from page 1)

ize markets for the growers reducing prices for the growers with consequent decline in value of the orchards lower revenue.

"This enormous incoming acreage is the result of heavy plantings of fruit four to eight years ago during the boom time in the fruit business. Apparently no one has seemed to realize the magnitude of this acreage but a great many growers with new acreage are beginning to wonder how they are going to be taken care of and letters are coming into the Salem Fruit union daily asking them to attempt a solution of this problem. Numerous small unit fruit growers associations are springing up in various localities bent on preventing the market oversupply which is sure to come of the condition is not remedied and individual competition remains unregulated. It is said that the farmers are the last men in the world to get together to solve their problems by mutual aid and expert selling assistance but from the meeting held in Portland Monday it is evident that the producer is going to handle his own affairs the same as any set of business men would do.

Association Originates Here
The matter of a statewide fruit growers association was brought up by me, but the idea was not entirely my own, it having been broached to me some six months ago by Stanley Armstrong, manager of the Milton and Freewater growers association at Milton, Oregon. At that time I told Mr. Armstrong that the idea from a marketing and economic standpoint was a good one but that on account of petty district jealousies I doubted the possibility of the growers getting together. During the past three months, however, very disastrous district competition and low prices received by unorganized growers has crystallized the desire for cooperation in every fruit producing district in the state. Local cooperative associations as single units however, have in all but three or four instances proven painful failures and a state wide centralized organization is a necessity. Growers in Roseburg and The Dalles and other sections realize that through ignorance of true values of their products their fruit is being used to compete with and reduce prices on the fruit of other growers in organized districts who were trying to get a price consistent with actual market conditions and the organized growers were beginning to feel the weight of the competition of the steadily increasing unorganized, uncontrolled tonnage.

California Takes Profits
The domination of California packing and canning concerns in the fruit business of the state was also a potent factor in the desire for cooperation. These firms annually take millions of dollars of profit out of the northwest states to be divided among California stockholders and growers figure on retaining these profits for their own use for circulation in the communities where this wealth is produced. They are also desirous of seeing Oregon products go out under labels which are synonymous with Oregon instead of California so that the state may get the credit for its superior products, a credit which is now going to another state.

"These conditions became so strong that I talked the matter over with the board of directors of the Salem Fruit union and they decided to send me to California to study the strong points and also any weaknesses possessed by the large California associations. After conversing with various associations and talking with them I was invariably advised Aaron Sapiro, a young attorney in San Francisco which I did. Mr. Sapiro has a wide field knowledge being attorney for the following state-wide growers associations: California Pear Growers association, California Apple Growers, Inc., Central California Berry Growers, Fruit Growers of California Incorporated, California Prune and Apricot Growers Incorporated, California Bean Growers association, Poultry Producers of Central California and the California Associated Olive Growers.

Need is Held Imperative
"I put the conditions up to Mr. Sapiro and asked his advice and assistance. Mr. Sapiro stated that he would likely be in Portland at the time of the Rose festival and would give the matter considerable thought until that time. In the meantime upon my return to Oregon, I learned that some of the districts were already organizing and wanted help badly. I immediately made a trip to other districts and found the strongest sentiment for a statewide market association. Being convinced of the necessity, and also the possibility of a state association, along the idea of an enlargement of the present marketing systems now being used by the present growers associations and asked continually for assistance by various districts was decided to call a meeting of fruit growers from all sections of the state. The meeting took place Monday and it being of unanimous opinion, an organization committee of nine was appointed and an advisory and consulting committee of 25 additional growers representing all districts and varieties of fruit was appointed. At the joint meeting of these committees it was decided to cooperate a non-capital, non-profit selling association under the Oregon cooperative law and also a non-profit packing company with a capital stock of $1,000,000, half of which is to be common stock and the remainder preferred. Only growers can own common stock. The preferred stock can be held by growers or anyone else and is to be in five classes, one class of which is to be retired at the end of each year for five years at which time only common stock will be in existence and owned entirely by growers. The stock will be used to buy packing houses and equipment and when the preferred is retired, the common stock will be worth just twice its face value. It is arranged also that there never can be more preferred stock issued than common so that the control will always rest entirely in the growers hands.

"Articles of incorporation and by-laws are now being prepared as well as contracts, stock subscription forms, and membership blanks, details of which are being carefully worked out.

"The association will not attempt to do any business this year but if there are good crops next year should handle nearly $5,000,000 worth of products, and in 10 years has a possibility of $25,000,000 worth of business. The value of orchards which will be controlled by the members of the association will run close to $25,000,000 next year. It is anticipated at present that it will become the major industry of Oregon."

Salem Headquarters
On account of its favorable location and the fact that it is anticipated that Paulus will take an active part in its management Salem has been chosen the headquarters of the association. This will add another enormous industry to this city with its millions of dollars to go through local channels.

"More details of the organization will be given at the organization committee which is now in session in Portland and can complete them. Paulus returned to Salem overnight to attend to important Fruit Union business but expects to be back again on the job this morning.

The work is progressing rapidly and is being watched with keen interest by growers all over the state. Interest is being manifested also in business circles in the move of Oregon growers to advertise their state with their products under an Oregon brand.

A Salem Product—
"Thelma" Individual Chocolates, 5c everywhere.

MANY GRADS TO STAY IN SCHOOL

Approximately 90 Per Cent of Salem High Seniors Going to College

Friday night just 100 students from Salem high school will receive diplomas at the annual Commencement exercises, programs for which were received yesterday.

Ninety per cent of the graduates have expressed their intention of continuing their education in higher institutions of learning. Only six have completed the teachers training course, an unusually small number. From the college preparatory department 46 will receive diplomas from the commercial, 16 and from industrial arts, nine. The remainder have finished the general course.

In the class are two Filipino boys, one Indian boy and one Indian girl. The percentage of boys is relatively small this year. The commencement program for Friday is as follows: Selection... High School Orchestra Invocation... Rev. Thomas Acheson Star Spangled Banner—Audience Class Representatives
"American Women in the War"..... Maud McCoy
(First Honor in Scholarship)
"Leadership"..... Donald Ryan
(Elected by Class)
"Our Heritage"..... Adlai Esteb
(Elected by Faculty)
A May Morning..... Denza
Selected Chorus
Address to the Class.... "Al Sirat"
Hon. Henry L. Benson
Judge of the Supreme Court of Oregon
Violin Solo—Meditation from Thais..... Massenet
Presentation of Diplomas.....
Chairman H. L. Clark
Blow Soft Winds..... Vincent
Pakobke, The Rose..... Lieurance
The Rustic Dance..... Resch
Girls' Chorus
Benediction..... Rev. G. L. Love
Selection.... High School Orchestra

American Legion Given Money from Commission

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10.—A fund of $5000 was turned over to the Oregon section of the American Legion today by F. W. Mulkey, chairman of the soldiers and sailors' commission.

"We feel confident that the state could not make a better investment," said Mr. Mulkey. "With the funds in the hands of the American Legion, we know it is possible to reach the boys more directly than through civilian channels. The legion is more able to use the funds for the direct benefit of the returned soldiers than is any other agency."

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles."

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercurized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax, once usually in sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

COLONEL DAVIS MAY VISIT THE ROSE FESTIVAL

Aviation Officer Writes to Governor Olcott of Coming Trip

ONCE LIVED AT McCOY

Expresses Keen Desire to Renew Old Acquaintances
in Marion County

Colonel Milton F. Davis, of the aviation corps, U. S. A., may come to Oregon for the rose festival the latter part of the week and if he does, he will come to Salem to renew acquaintances with local residents. Colonel Davis formerly lived at McCoy and is well known locally.

In response to an invitation sent him by Governor Olcott, Colonel Davis replied as follows:

"My Dear Governor Olcott:
"I have your cordial invitation of May 18 to General Mencher and myself to be present at the coming Rose Festival, for which General Mencher desires me to extend thanks, and for which please accept my own."

"It is practically settled that General Mencher will be unable to get away from Washington in time to reach the Pacific coast for the Portland festival. The secretary of war has issued instructions for the heads of all departments, together with their chief assistants, to hold themselves in readiness to go before the military committees of the house and senate for both day and evening sessions. Mr. Kahn of the military committee of the house expects to finish with the army appropriation bill the 5th. The senate will take another week, by the end of which time it would be too late for the general to hope to see anything of the festival.

"There is a bare possibility that I may get away myself, but not very much hope. As my home is at McCoy and I have many friends in Salem and Portland, it will not be difficult I hope, for me to find some of my old friends in case I get away."

"I hope the flight of airplanes from Sacramento and their exhibitions will be of interest to our friends in Oregon. If he finds it possible, Colonel Watson will give short exhibitions at Grants Pass, Medford, Roseburg, Eugene and Salem either on the way to or from Portland.

Wishing the festival even greater

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit. Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

Try any other brand of
EXTRACTS or SPICES

Then try
WATKINS

and note the difference
in Purity, Strength, Flavor.

Ask your neighbor about them.

M. W. ROWLEY

THE WATKINS MAN

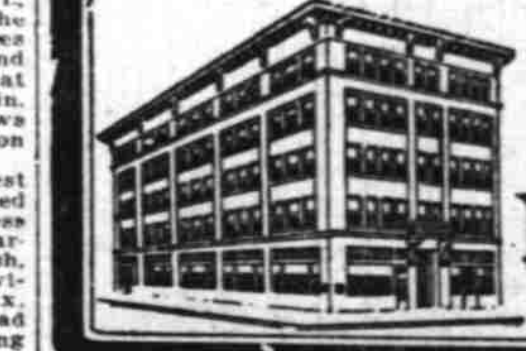

231 North Liberty, Salem
Phone 492

Phone and Mail orders promptly attended to.

TANGIBLE ASSETS

NOTHING forms so tangible asset to a man's credit as the money he has on deposit at the bank. There can be neither fluctuation or uncertainty as to the value of his dollars—and the prosperity of this community generally is evidenced in the bank accounts of individual firms and persons.

Keep your tangible assets here at the United States National Bank.

WOMEN! DRY CLEAN THINGS AT HOME

Try it! For a few cents you can dry clean everything.

Save five to ten dollars quickly by dry cleaning everything in the home with gasoline that would be ruined by soap and water—suits, coats, waists, silks, laces, gloves, shoes, furs, draperies, rugs—everything.

Place a gallon or more of gasoline in a dishpan or washbowl, put in the things to be dry cleaned, then wash them with Solvite soap. Shortly everything comes out looking like new. Nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles. Do not attempt to dry clean without Solvite soap. The gasoline soap is the secret of all dry cleaning.

A package of Solvite soap containing directions for home dry cleaning, costs little at any drug store. Dry clean outdoors or away from flame.

success than in years gone by, I am

Very sincerely yours,

—MILTON F. DAVIS,

"Colonel, A. S. A., executive."

Help put Polk and Marion county on the map. Send a copy of the Peace edition to your friends and relatives. 25 cents per copy.

It is almost impossible to grow a double chin with the present high price of eats.

For Sale by

Lebold & Co.

L. E. Goodman

Loren Morley & Co.

W. B. Gerich

J. D. Gooley

A. W. Schrak

J. L. Busick

W. K. Richardson

Reddaway's Cash Store

Green & Birch, Liberty

M. V. Johnson

Mary & Goode

Donald, Oregon.

J. C. Savage

Waco, Oregon

W. H. Hamp

Brooks, Oregon

M. J. McCormack

West Woodburn