FATE OF TURKEY STILL MYSTERY

Impossible to Learn Plans of Allies for Dealing With Ottoman Delegation

TOULON, France, June 11.—The French cruiser Democratic arrived today with the Ottoman peace delegation.

PARIS, June 11.—Turkey's fate is still clouded in mystery. Although a Turkish delegation is expected to arrive in Paris, it seems impossible to learn from any members of the allied delegations exactly what plans, if any, have been outlined for dealing with Turkey.

It has been made clear by the entente delegations that the Turks are coming to Paris on their own suggestion. They come as consultants, or expert advisers, not as plenipotentiaries.

France and Great Britain are now in control in Constantinople. It is reported in Paris that under the British and French censorship the Turkish papers are not permitted to publish news which might create sentiment for transferring Turkish mandates to any other countries.

Turkey in Asia is now thoroughly dominated by Greek, Italian and British troops and the feeling is growing in Paris that the partition of Turkey is an accomplished fact.

Navy's Float in "Panorama of Victory" Sailing New York Streets

New Yorkers and thousands of visitors have lined Fifth Avenue time after time to witness one magnificent military parade after another. All but one of these has been in honor of returning soldiers. The big exception was the "Panorama of Victory" staged recently by the army to help along the victory loan drive. An airplane "taxied" the length of the avenue, the spectators were "gassed," they got a taste of smoke screens, they saw liquid fire—in fact all the paraphernalia of warfare.
