

SUMMARY OF INTERNATIONAL SITUATION

The peace conference barometer, which for some time has been vacillating between pessimism and optimism as to the probability of an early agreement by the council of four on the answer to the German counter proposals to the peace treaty, again registers optimism.

From Paris comes the almost definite statement that the reply of the allied and associated governments to the Germans is complete and all that is now required to end the tense situation is to draft the answer, present it to the Germans and await five days for their final reply whether they accept or reject it.

According to a statement made in a "responsible quarter" in Paris, agreements in principle on all the disputed points have been reached by the council, even on the question whether Germany is to become a member of the league of nations and as regards the holding of a plebiscite in upper Silesia.

Saturday has been set unofficially as the date for presentation of the reply to the Germans.

In Austria-Hungary the political situation is considered serious. Reports are that a communist government is to be set up in Austria Sunday, and that the Austrian communists will ally themselves with the communist faction in Hungary.

In Germany Gustav Noske, minister of defense, has thrown down the gauntlet to the radical majority socialists who have been attempting to force his resignation and that of Premier Scheidemann from the executive committee of the majority party.

The supreme council has informed Admiral Kolchak, anti-Bolshevik leader in Russia, that his reply to its offer of allied support in the campaign against the Bolsheviks is satisfactory. This is regarded as meaning de facto recognition by the allied and associated powers of the Omsk government headed by Kolchak and the furnishing of munition and supplies for Kolchak's campaign.

The British government has denied a report that British troops are operating against Petrograd.

Serious anti-Japanese agitation in China which may develop into a general anti-foreign movement is reported from Tokio.

Willard Boxes Six Rounds
In Training Exhibition
TOLEDO, O., June 12.—Working under the burning rays of a sun that seemed to affect everybody except the champion himself, Jess Willard boxed six rounds today after reeling off five miles on the road early in the morning. The champion went through his exhibition before a crowd that packed the tented walls of the Maumee Bay camp. There were nearly as many women in the crowd as men.

There were no new developments in the referee situation except that it is considered certain that Ollie Pecord, the official referee of the Toledo Athletic club, will officiate in some capacity, either as alternate referee or one of the judges of the contest, if the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control decides to appoint two judges in addition to a referee.

Division of World Series Money Is Not Made Public

CINCINNATI, June 12.—After a brief session today the national baseball commission adjourned without making an announcement relative to the division of money of the world's championship series next fall.

The questions considered by the supreme court of baseball whether the old rule, dividing a share of the world's series money between clubs finishing third and fourth in both major leagues should be continued or whether only the clubs finishing second should be allowed a share of the receipts.
