OTTO WILSON NAMED MAYOR BY COUNCIL

Alderman Moore, while Alderman Vandervort nominated Mr. Weist.

The arraignment of the Public Service Commission started immediately after Recorder Race had concluded the reading of the commission's order denying the city of Salem's appeal for some suitable protective signal at the Southern Pacific tracks on North Capitol street.

"This is the most violent distortion of facts I have ever read," hotly declared Alderman Weist as he jumped to his feet to protest against what he termed to be "rank injustice."

Commission Is Scored. In endorsing the sentiments expressed by Weist, Alderman Vandervort caused a roar of laughter when he said the public service body should rightly be termed the "fair-road protective association."

The council passed the ordinance increasing the salary of the city treasurer from $1200 to $1500 on third reading. As originally introduced the ordinance increased the salary to $1800, but on recommendation of the ordinance committee, the council last night lapsed $300 a year off the proposed increase and approved the ordinance without opposition.

The Elks lodge was granted the privilege of having free use of the armory for two dances to be given during the Salvation Army drive. The entire proceeds are to be given to the Salvation Army.

Resignation Accepted. The resignation of Alderman Roberts was read and accepted but the election of his successor, as well as the resignation of Alderman Thompson, was deferred until the next meeting.

Mrs. Josie Miller, who was injured in a fall on the sidewalk along Miller street on March 20, presented a claim against the city for $1100. The matter was referred to the street committee for investigation.

Mayor Albin, who terminated his regime as mayor last night, leaves Salem today for his farm at Philomath, which he recently purchased. Several members of the council took occasion to express their appreciation of his uniform fairness at all times as well as his keen interest in all civic affairs.

TROOPS BACK AFTER BRUSH WITH REBELS

The cavalry column, supported by a battalion of the 82nd artillery, advanced, and at daybreak started scouting over the low marshy fields in the elbow of the Rio Grande, south of Ysleta, Tex.

Cavalry Routes Rebels. In the meantime Colonel Tompkins' seventh cavalry, in temporary command of Colonel Howard R. Hixcock, deployed to the southeast and pursued another band of the Villa men. During this pursuit troops A and C of the seventh cavalry executed a pistol charge and killed a number of the rebels.

Spanish War Veterans Plan for Encampment. QUAYLE FAVORS SMALL FRUITS

Future of Salem Held to Be in Development of Present Industries

The future of Salem and vicinity lies in small fruits according to George Quayle, secretary of the state chamber of commerce who was one of the speakers of the Commercial club lunch at the Marion hotel yesterday. He declared that the promotion of new industries is frequently a fallacy, that wisdom lies in the development of those already established.

He spoke in high terms of the spirit which is being shown in Salem and mentioned the improvement in conditions.

Charles Hall, president of the state chamber of Commerce spoke briefly on the value of organization and declared that when Oregon is organized and is working in the spirit of progressive conservatism the state will have arrived.

Thomas B. Kay presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers. It was decided that in the future lunches will be held once each month instead of every week as has been the custom.

GOODRICH TIRES
"BEST IN THE LONG RUN"

The City of GOODRICH Akron, Ohio

The Goodrich More Mileage Message

Goodrich is making the burliest, sturdiest, most lasting tires the rubber industry has ever seen; and Goodrich knows it.

In every test of road-roughing to which tires can be put, Goodrich Tires have unfolded an endurance, an ability to take punishment, which has run into phenomenal mileage.

Confident in this knowledge and belief, Goodrich desires that all tire users share in the confidence of Goodrich, and the big mileage Goodrich Tires assure.

Therefore, Goodrich announces to present and future owners of its pneumatic tires—an adjustment basis of 6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS, and 8,000 miles for SILVERTOWN CORDS, instead of the 3,500 and 5,000 miles respectively, heretofore in force.

Remember that a Goodrich adjustment is a fair one. Goodrich knows the mileage is in its tires, and more; and to make you realize you lose money in being without Goodrich Tires, the new Goodrich adjustment is proclaimed broadcast.
