

SNOW FLAKES

That School Appetite

Children, when they are growing, need a bite just home from school, and at other odd times. Always keep a box of crisp Snow Flakes in your pantry, handy for them. Don't ask for crackers, say Snow Flakes.

SOCIETY

By RUTH LENORE FISHER

PERFECT in its appointment was the dinner Tuesday night for which Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Davidson were hosts at their home. Carline Testout roses were used in profusion throughout the rooms. Those who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Davidson's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Schnapman, Miss Agnes Schultzy, Miss Lesto Noud of Klamath Falls, Father Buck and Father Ben Roule.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer and daughter, Josephine, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Neill and two children, Jean Rolfe and Billy formed a motor party to Portland over Tuesday.

After the business meeting of the Eastern Star Tuesday night the members gave an informal social greeting to the new members. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Friends of Mrs. William H. Lytle will be glad to know that she is being extensively entertained during her visit in Pendleton where she is the guest of her sisters-in-law, Mrs. David Hill, and Mrs. James Hill. The following clipping was taken from the Pendleton East Oregonian giving in detail the reception given for her on Monday:

"Dorothy Perkins was branches yesterday combined their article for lake and clusters of pink blossoms with sprays of fragrant syringa blooms to deck the rooms of the J. B. Perry home on South Main street where Mrs. Perry, Mrs. David B. Hill and Mrs. Roscoe I. Keator were "at home" in compliment to Mrs. William H. Lytle of Salem. Scores of matrons and maids called between the hours of 2:30 and 5, welcoming Mrs. Lytle, greeting friends and sharing a gracious bit of hospitality. In a vine enclosed alcove on the porch Mrs. James Johns, Mrs. Harold Barnett, Miss Mary Clarke, Miss Ruth Snow, Miss Blanche Furlish, and Miss Gerrianna Fletcher shared the hours in dispensing punch to the callers, and at the door Freddie Hill assisted in welcoming them. In line were Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Lytle, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Keator and during the earlier hours of the affair the hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Frank Hays, Mrs. Mark Moorhouse, Mrs. G. I. LaDow and Mrs. E. B. Aldrich, they being followed by Mrs. Leman G. Rice, Mrs. James Hill, Mrs. Charles F. Colsworthy and Mrs. Henry Dixon Jones, while during the final hours Mrs. Willard Bond, Mrs. Richard Mayberry, Mrs. H. J. Kavanaugh, Mrs. James W. Maloney and Mrs. A. J. Owen assisted in welcoming the guests.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

abundant charm, the table was presided over by Mrs. H. H. Hattery and Mrs. Colsworthy, Mrs. W. D. McNary, and Mrs. George A. Hartman and then Mrs. Norbome Kerkeley and Mrs. G. W. Phelps. Assisting them in serving were Mrs. J. B. McCook, Mrs. Harold Warner, Mrs. Guy Royden, Miss Lillian Boylen, Miss Mary Johns and Miss Helen Nelson.

"A charming little maid who assisted in making the affair delightful was Margaret Jean Cronin who was waiting to receive the guests' cards.

"Mrs. Lytle is being made welcome during her visit in Pendleton. She is the house guest of her sisters-in-law, Mrs. David Hill and Mrs. James Hill and friends, too, are anticipating a visit of a fortnight or more."

Mrs. Frank Purvine and son, Paul, returned Tuesday night from a week's visit in McMinnville, Newberg and Portland. In McMinnville they were the guests of Prof. and Mrs. E. Northrup going from there to Newberg where they were with Mrs. R. M. Thurston and with her they motored to Portland.

Mrs. J. L. Stockton, Mrs. Anna Culbertson, Mrs. Samuel Tracey of Portland, Miss Zoe Stockton, Leon Culbertson, and I. W. Copelin of Toledo, Ohio composed a motor party visiting the Rose show in Portland, then going up the Columbia River highway to Hood River and then to Mt. Hood lodge.

The following story taken from a recent issue of the Oregonian will be of great interest to Salem people from the fact that both Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Meyers and the Rodgers family are so well known here.

The launching of the Wonalabe at the plant of George F. Rodgers &

Company at Astoria, brings out the fact that her sponsor, Mrs. H. W. Meyers of Salem, comes from a prominent American maritime family of the post-revolutionary war period, which helped to build and man some of the famous ships of that historic time. Her great grandfather, Josiah Barker, was a young man, served in the frigate La Hague in the war of the revolution. Later, as United States naval constructor, he built the U. S. sloop of war Frolic, which was captured by the British frigate Orpheus off Matanzas, in the war of 1812. After her memorable and gallant career in the war of 1812 he rebuilt the famous old sea fighter, Constitution, for years the pride of the American navy. In 1843 he planned and constructed the Portsmouth and so well was she built that for more than 60 years she remained in the service of the United States navy. His son, Seth Barker, who could not resist the lure of the sea, followed in his father's footsteps and Mrs. Meyers in breaking the bottle on the modern Wonalabe, can be said to have done her share in keeping up the maritime tradition of the family."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Park and Paul Wallace will motor to Hood River today.

The Loyal Women's class of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. Guy Wilcox Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her home at 441 North Twenty-first street.

A piano recital by the pupils of Frank E. Churchill, assisted by violin pupils of Elizabeth Levy, was given in his studio in the Odd Fellows building Monday afternoon to friends and relatives of those participating. The following program was presented:

- Spring Zephyrs (Freedman) Wilma Coursey.

Mrs. William Knight returned to her home in Portland Wednesday after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Knight.

Miss Florence Elgin has returned home from Portland where she was visiting during the rose show.

HE THREW AWAY HIS CRUTCHES
"Six years ago I had rheumatism so bad I was going on crutches," writes August Crandell, Sister Bay, Wis. "I tried several medicines and doctors and got no relief. Three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me. I threw away my crutches." Have no equal for weak, sore, aching back, muscles or joints. J. C. Perry.

FIRE WARNING AGAIN SOUNDED

State Fire Marshal Wells Pleads for Sane Observance of July 4th

Harvey Wells, state fire marshal, yesterday sounded the annual warning against careless use of explosives in celebrating the Fourth of July, and he calls upon the city officials throughout the state to throw stringent restrictions about the use of fireworks in order that property as well as personal losses might be avoided.

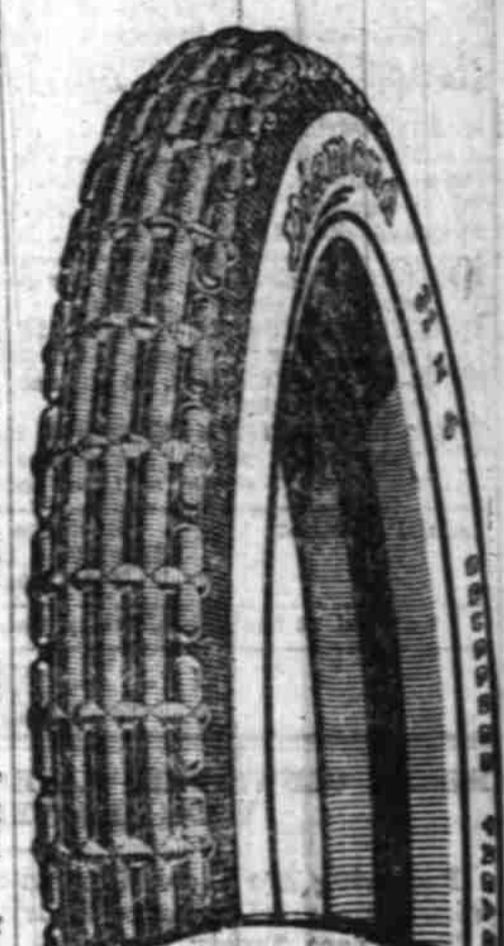

His proclamation reads: "Owing to the tremendous enthusiasm which will mark the observance on the part of the American people of the Fourth of July this year, I feel that it is my duty as fire marshal of this state to call your attention to the danger of the use of fireworks and other forms of explosives that are usually used in celebrating Independence day.

"Realizing the popular enthusiasm, I am giving the warning with no idea of attempting to discourage a proper expression of the great patriotic impulse underlying it. I do, however, most earnestly appeal to the people to keep the enthusiasm within safe and sane channels. "It has come to my attention that in many localities throughout the state plans are being made for the great community observance, with rousing home coming celebrations for the return of fighting men as the big feature. I cannot too strongly express my endorsement of such celebration, but do urge all city officials to take the initiative in protecting and safeguarding lives and property.

"Each city and village officials are empowered by statute to regulate, restrain and prohibit the sale or use of fireworks, Roman candles, sky rockets and other pyrotechnic display. "I will ask all officials to seriously consider the regulation of the use of fireworks in order to protect our lives and property, this is a responsibility incumbent upon every official.

"Let us keep the Fourth of July carelessness under the ban. "Let us not increase the casualty list and needless fires, but be safe and sane."
