Alex Keeps Count—
A score of the trips made from the first to the second and third floors of the state house and to the dome was kept by Alex Conroy, elevator operator at the capitol on Thursday of this week. The record showed a total of 430 trips during the day, 20 of which carried passengers to the dome. The score was kept at the request of George Dunsford, superintendent of the building, who will use the figures in the installation of new apparatus for operation of the elevator. Alex avers that if the state will furnish him the power his "wagon" will carry more passengers in a day than any other elevator in the state.

County Will Build Three Bridges—
Bids were received yesterday by the Marion county court for the construction of three bridges on Jefferson

Way near Jefferson. The total cost of the three bridges will be approximately $10,000. They are to be from 15 to 20 feet wide and will be of the square concrete form instead of round. Five bids have been submitted and the county court has taken them under consideration, reserving the right to reject any or all of them.

HE THREW AWAY HIS CRUTCHES
"Six years ago I had rheumatism so bad I was going on crutches," writes August Crandell, Sister Bay, Wis. "I tried several medicines and doctors and got no relief. Three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me. I threw away my crutches." Have no equal for weak, sore, aching back, muscles or joints. J. C. Perry.

MAKE BOYS FEEL AT HOME IS THE PLEA

What It Means
Salem was the first city in the state, as far as can be learned that planned on a celebration. A movement was started several months ago to provide a home coming for the boys who went to war. Money was raised and all arrangements made to hold a grand event. Someone suggested that we postpone the home coming until the Fourth of July. Thinking that more people could get away on the Fourth than any other date it was decided to wait. The word was sent broadcast that Salem would hold a homecoming on the Fourth. So far no other town or city in this part of Oregon had planned on celebrating. A number of little celebrations have come to life since that time, but Salem was the first. Whatever inspired these other celebrations is of small consequence and Salem has already forgotten that there are other celebrations and will do all in her power to make this celebration and homecoming the biggest event in the history of the capital of the state. The city has opened its doors to every man who wore a uniform and made everything possible free to them. We want them here where we honestly feel that you will get the most entertainment and where you will be provided with everything you can possibly wish for or expect. The Salem Commercial club, the War Mothers and the War Community service are all working for the entertainment of your friends.

Attitude of the People
Every person in Marion and Polk counties is invited to come to this homecoming. To my mind the first Fourth of July was up to this time, the most memorable event in the history of the United States. This Fourth of July comes next and we should deem it our duty and pleasure to help. The people of Salem are working hard and have everything planned to make this a red letter day. Every person in the two counties and any one in the state who desires to come is welcome and invited to be here and assist in entertaining the boys. Special written invitations have been sent to all the boys whose names could be secured. If you know of a soldier, sailor or marine who did not receive a written invitation please tell him that this article is his invitation. He is invited and you can invite him. Don't fail to see that he is notified that he is to be here and that he will be well cared for with room and board and entertainment for the three days.

The One Thought
If you had a son or brother or father or uncle or nephew or friend who wore the uniform and that person was attending this home coming where he can be shown that his people appreciate him and what he did, you would make an extra effort to help. You have just that reason for being present in Salem. Some soldier or someone who wore a uniform will be here and your presence is necessary at this time to make the home coming what it should be. You can't welcome the boys by selfishly staying at home. Arrange to come and celebrate with them. You owe it to them and you owe it to yourself. If your son was returning from the front, you would drop everything and meet him at the train. He would feel hurt if you were not there to greet him. Come one—come all and let us welcome home the boys and make them proud that they wore the uniform.

Grain Rate Complaint to Have Early Hearing
The public service commission received a telegram from Clyde B. Aitchison, chairman of the interstate commerce commission yesterday with information that the service commission's grain rate complaint against Walker D. Hines, federal railroad administrator, affecting points in the Columbia River basin will be given a hearing in Portland July 21. The hearing will be at the same time and place as the hearing of the complaint against Hines by the inland Empire Shippers' league and the Portland Chamber of Commerce. In its complaint the Oregon commission seeks a differential in rates between Columbia basin points and Portland because of the low cost of haul as compared with the haul over the mountains to Seattle.

Coast Scientists Hear Mrs. Roberts, Astronomer
PASADENA, Cal., June 20.—Mrs. Dorothy Klumpke Roberts, noted astronomer of San Francisco, delivered the special address today before the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which opened a three-day convention here today. Mrs. Roberts detailed the work of women in the advancement of astronomy from the time of Hypatia to the present day and laid stress on the persistence of women in past centuries for their engaging in this science.
