

Hawker Congratulating NC-4 Commander on Having Made First Flight Across Ocean

Harry G. Hawker Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read

This photograph, taken at a flying field at Hendon, just outside London, shows Harry G. Hawker congratulating Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read, U. S. N., on having made the first flight across the Atlantic with the NC-4.

that his seconds persuaded him to relinquish the fight to Dempsey.

Comeback Flashed

It was demonstrated by the fact that he received in nine minutes of fighting for more punishment than did Jeffries at the hands of Jack Johnson at the hands of Jack Johnson in their 15-round bout at Reno and yet was unable to respond to the bell had his seconds been calloused enough to send him again to the slaughter. Even after this disastrous ending of the first round Willard flashed a momentary comeback in the second, which for a few seconds led to the belief among his supporters that he would weather the storm and carry the battle along on even terms for a few sessions at least. It was the last flicker of a spirit which was stronger than the flesh. Another sweeping right arm smash that flew over Willard's shoulder and landed flush on his swollen, bleeding jaw, took the last ounce of resistance of the giant and made his downfall a matter of but minutes.

Speed and Muscle Secret

An analysis of the new champion shows nothing new in his fighting methods. He tore into his opponent at top speed as has always been his fighting custom and simply battered his way to the pinnacle of pugilism by the speed of his blows and the overwhelming power that traveled through the huge shoulder muscles into the clinched fists armored with five-ounce gloves. He made little or no attempt at defensive work and not more than five or six times during the nine minutes of battling did he resort to footwork to avoid Willard.

Dempsey appeared in the ring at 3:55 o'clock and Willard a minute later. They were stripped ready for action, Willard wearing short, light-fitting, blue worsted trunks with an American flag belt while Dempsey wore short loose trunks like those of a sprinter. During the few preliminary details both were covered with huge umbrellas to keep the sun from their uncovered heads.

Round One

Willard loomed up like a Goliath against his five inch shorter David, and opened the engagement by pumping his long left twice into Dempsey's face with force enough to make the latter blink. The challenger missed a swing and slipping into a clinch landed three body blows with his left hand carrying but little force. Willard held him easily in a clinch and partly turning him around used his rapier-like left again, once to the head and once to the body after the break.

Round Two

Dempsey started where he left off and Willard with a big cut under his eye appeared in a bad way. He managed to snap a left to Dempsey's face and a puny right uppercut to the chin. Dempsey replied with several body drives and Willard fell partly through the ropes. When he regained his feet he stumbled into a clinch but Dempsey easily tore loose and proceeded to batter him almost at will, the champion retaliating with but three feeble stabs to the face during the melee. When Willard went to his corner he fell heavily into his chair and it was seen that his right eye was completely closed and that side of his face was swollen entirely out of shape while Dempsey was unmarked.

Round Three

The final session was simply a series of rapid fire swings which fell on Willard's face and body with pile driver power which left Willard completely helpless as he staggered about the ring and wobbled along the ropes utterly unable to defend himself. Blood bubbled from his mouth with every gasp for breath while the crowd about the ringside began to yell to Referee Percord to stop it. Just as the bell rang and Willard collapsed in his chair he spat out a tooth and it was seen that he was in bad condition. As he sat loling from side to side his chief second, Walter Monahan, talked earnestly to him and when Willard nodded his head Monahan walked over and spoke to Percord. The referee threw up his hands and hurried to Dempsey's corner. He gesticulated in the uproar and finally pulled Dempsey toward the center of the ring before the new champion realized that Willard's seconds had thrown up the sponge. As soon as he grasped the situation, he started for Willard's corner and the late title holder arose and stepped weakly to meet him. They shook hands and Willard muttered something in reply to Dempsey's remarks and the fight had passed into history.

MRS. WILLARD GLAD JESS NO LONGER HOLDER OF BELT

TOLEDO, July 4.—There is one woman in Toledo tonight happy because Jess Willard is no longer the world's heavyweight champion. She is the wife of the vanquished title holder and mother of his five children. She left them at their home in Lawrence, Kas., came to Toledo unannounced last night and with Willard's attorney, occupied a seat in the $50 section this afternoon while her husband was being battered to defeat. No one in the huge crowd, except the champion himself, knew she was there.

When the bruised and battered giant of the ring was brought to the home he had occupied in Toledo's exclusive residential district Mrs. Willard was there, eager to care for his wounds. She put him on a davenport and sat at his side, applying ice cloths to his closed eye.

Mrs. Willard left the sun-baked arena after the towel was cast into the ring at the start of the fourth round while the beaten champion was taken to the casino, his training camp for a month, where he was bathed and first aid given his injuries.

Private Citizen Again

"I am sorry that Jess was beaten, but I can truthfully say I am happy that he's no longer champion," Mrs. Willard said. "It means now that we shall be able to live in peace. Jess will become a private citizen again. It was the second boxing contest I had ever witnessed and I do not want to witness any more. I shall be happy when I can take Jess back home to our children."

Although the fight was over before 4:30 o'clock, Willard did not motor to his home until an hour and a half later. He said he did not recover from the effects of a left hook that Dempsey landed early in the first round until perhaps an hour after he left the ring.

"That was the blow that started me on defeat," Willard said. "I felt physically able to continue, but my head wasn't clear and my eye was closed and I realized it would have been useless for me to attempt to box while half blinded."

Willard Good Loser

"Dempsey is a remarkable hitter. It was the first time that I had ever been knocked off my feet. I have sent many birds home in the same bruised condition that I am in and now I know how they felt. I sincerely wish Dempsey all of the luck conceivable and hope that he garners all of the riches that go with the cham-

TRUBB ENGLISH STYLE BISCUIT The Dainty Tea-time Cakes There's unusual charm about the cup of tea that's served with delicious "English-Style" Wellington Creole Creams or Assorted Lemora Sold by the better stores who struck again twice with his right, Willard falling to his hands and his knees. When he arose Dempsey crowded him into a corner and with a right and left to the face sent him to the floor again. As he arose a fusillade of body blows dropped him in a corner where he sat when the bell terminated the round and led Dempsey to believe that Willard had been counted out.

Dempsey started where he left off and Willard with a big cut under his eye appeared in a bad way. He managed to snap a left to Dempsey's face and a puny right uppercut to the chin. Dempsey replied with several body drives and Willard fell partly through the ropes. When he regained his feet he stumbled into a clinch but Dempsey easily tore loose and proceeded to batter him almost at will, the champion retaliating with but three feeble stabs to the face during the melee. When Willard went to his corner he fell heavily into his chair and it was seen that his right eye was completely closed and that side of his face was swollen entirely out of shape while Dempsey was unmarked.

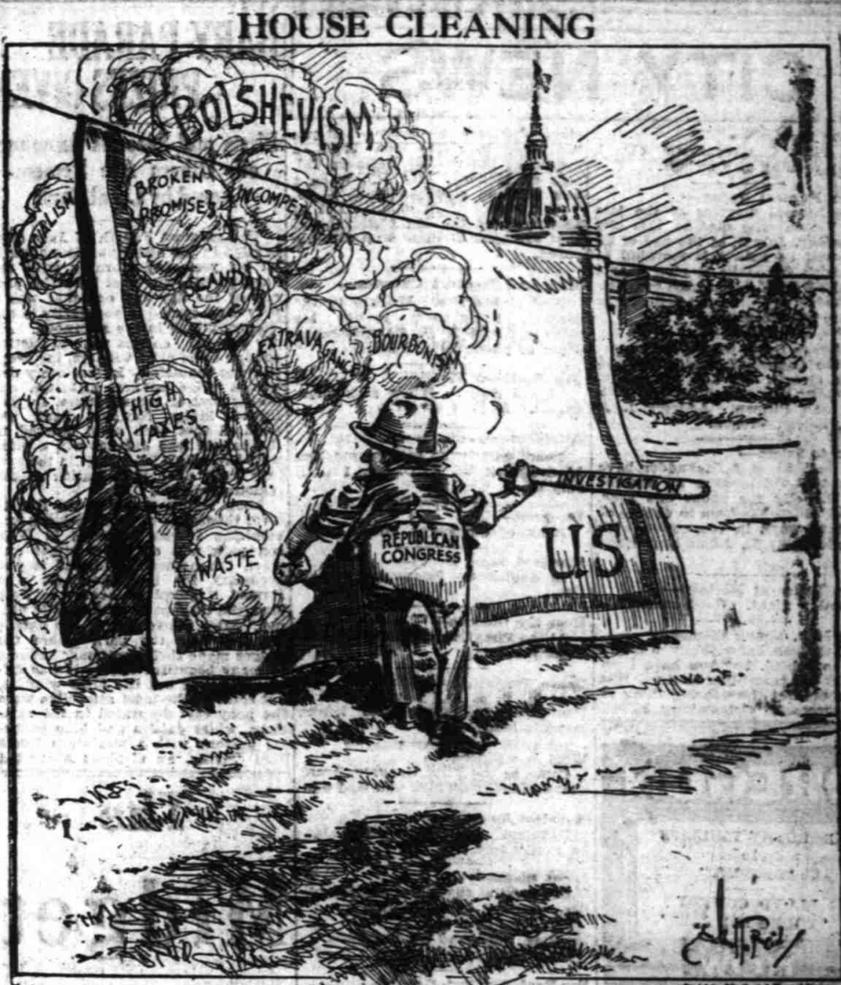

The final session was simply a series of rapid fire swings which fell on Willard's face and body with pile driver power which left Willard completely helpless as he staggered about the ring and wobbled along the ropes utterly unable to defend himself. Blood bubbled from his mouth with every gasp for breath while the crowd about the ringside began to yell to Referee Percord to stop it. Just as the bell rang and Willard collapsed in his chair he spat out a tooth and it was seen that he was in bad condition. As he sat loling from side to side his chief second, Walter Monahan, talked earnestly to him and when Willard nodded his head Monahan walked over and spoke to Percord. The referee threw up his hands and hurried to Dempsey's corner. He gesticulated in the uproar and finally pulled Dempsey toward the center of the ring before the new champion realized that Willard's seconds had thrown up the sponge. As soon as he grasped the situation, he started for Willard's corner and the late title holder arose and stepped weakly to meet him. They shook hands and Willard muttered something in reply to Dempsey's remarks and the fight had passed into history.

MRS. WILLARD GLAD JESS NO LONGER HOLDER OF BELT TOLEDO, July 4.—There is one woman in Toledo tonight happy because Jess Willard is no longer the world's heavyweight champion. She is the wife of the vanquished title holder and mother of his five children. She left them at their home in Lawrence, Kas., came to Toledo unannounced last night and with Willard's attorney, occupied a seat in the $50 section this afternoon while her husband was being battered to defeat. No one in the huge crowd, except the champion himself, knew she was there.

When the bruised and battered giant of the ring was brought to the home he had occupied in Toledo's exclusive residential district Mrs. Willard was there, eager to care for his wounds. She put him on a davenport and sat at his side, applying ice cloths to his closed eye. Mrs. Willard left the sun-baked arena after the towel was cast into the ring at the start of the fourth round while the beaten champion was taken to the casino, his training camp for a month, where he was bathed and first aid given his injuries.

"I am sorry that Jess was beaten, but I can truthfully say I am happy that he's no longer champion," Mrs. Willard said. "It means now that we shall be able to live in peace. Jess will become a private citizen again. It was the second boxing contest I had ever witnessed and I do not want to witness any more. I shall be happy when I can take Jess back home to our children."

Although the fight was over before 4:30 o'clock, Willard did not motor to his home until an hour and a half later. He said he did not recover from the effects of a left hook that Dempsey landed early in the first round until perhaps an hour after he left the ring. "That was the blow that started me on defeat," Willard said. "I felt physically able to continue, but my head wasn't clear and my eye was closed and I realized it would have been useless for me to attempt to box while half blinded."

"I may not be able to beat all the dirt out of this, but I'll mend the furniture all right."

AMERICAN LEAGUE At Cleveland Morning game R H E St. Louis 4 10 2 Cleveland 9 12 1 Gallia, Davenport and Severoid; Bagby and O'Neill. Afternoon game R H E St. Louis 1 10 1 Cleveland 11 15 0 Wright, Knob, Leitfeld, Davenport and Mayr; Covelakie and O'Neill.

COAST LEAGUE At San Francisco Afternoon game R H E Sacramento 8 9 2 Oakland 4 7 6 Percy and Cook; Kromer, Weaver and Elliott. Lojus Win Yesterday and Another Game Is on Today The Salem Lojus and Portland Colored Giants will play the second game of the two big game series arranged for July 4 and 5, today at 3 o'clock. The Lojus won yesterday. Today's game will be a fast affair as the Giants have a dark horse pitcher whom they did not trot out yesterday. Craig will toil on the mound for the Lojus and Grosvenor will stop his slants behind the bat. Clay will do the receiving for the Giants in today's battle, but the pitching choice of the Portland lads will not be announced until the start of the game. All soldiers, sailors and marines will be admitted free to today's game.

At Boston Morning game R H E Philadelphia 2 9 2 Boston 9 12 1 Kinney and McAvoy; Penack and Walters, Schang. Afternoon game R H E Philadelphia 6 12 4 Boston 9 12 2 Perry and Perkins; Bush, James, Caldwell and Schang.

At New York Morning game R H E Washington 2 5 1 New York 8 15 2 Erickson, Whitehouse and Pichnich, Agnew; Shawkey and Hannah. Afternoon game R H E Washington 5 10 2 New York 6 13 2 Harper and Garrity; Quinn and Hannah.

Send a copy of the Peace edition to the boys in the service. Only a limited number of copies left, so order early. 25 cents per copy.

DEMPSEY PUT WILLARD OUT IN THIRD ROUND (Continued from page 1) a few years ago will always be a mooted question. It cannot be denied, however, that Willard was in good physical condition and displayed gameness up to the moment

Camel Cigarettes. CAMELS expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos answers every cigarette desire you ever had! Camels give such universal delight, such unusual enjoyment and satisfaction you'll call them a cigarette revelation! If you'd like a cigarette that does not leave any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor, smoke Camels! If you hunger for a rich, mellow-mild cigarette that has all that desirable cigarette "body"—well, you get some Camels as quickly as you can! Camels expert blend makes all this delightful quality possible. Your personal test will prove that Camel Cigarettes are the only cigarettes you ever smoked that just seem made to meet your taste! You will prefer them to either kind of tobacco smoked straight! Compare Camels for quality and satisfaction with any cigarette in the world at any price! Cigarettes planship. I have had my fling at the title. I was champion for four years. And I want to assure you that they'll never have to give a benefit for me. I have invested the money I have made."

When the beaten champion motored to his home with Ray O. Archer, his business manager and his sparring partner, the porches adjoining the Willard house were alive with women bathing their eyes with handkerchiefs. "It seems as there has been a death in the neighborhood," one of them said. "Well, I tried it once too often," was the greeting Willard gave them. The champion had a turkish towel draped over his head to obscure his bruised face. He does not expect to leave Toledo for three or four days.

DEMPSEY'S MOTHER PROUDEST WOMAN IN ALL UTAH SALT LAKE CITY, July 4.—Mrs. Cella Dempsey, mother of the new world's heavyweight champion, is the proudest woman in Utah, if not the entire country tonight. "I have felt all along that Jack would win," she said. "I am just filled with joy and pride. I guess if he hadn't won I would have been ready for my coffin. At now I am a mighty proud mother."

DEMPSEY TO REMAIN IN TOLEDO UNTIL SUNDAY TOLEDO, O., July 4.—Jack Dempsey, the new champion, will remain in Toledo until at least Sunday night, his manager, Jack Kearns, announced tonight. "We have a dozen theatrical offers," Kearns said, "and Jack will probably open in vaudeville next week."

Dempsey's first request after winning the title, was that a message be sent to his mother, Mrs. Cecilia Dempsey, in Salt Lake City. "Your boy made good. Knocked the big fellow out in three rounds," the telegram read. "Willard is a game fellow," Dempsey declared. "I never handed out more punishment to anyone and have him come right back for more as Willard did today."

Dempsey made a hurried change to his civilian clothes after his victory and was taken in an automobile to his headquarters in a downtown hotel. Hundreds of admirers greeted him at the hotel and the lobby rang with Dempsey cheers for more than 15 minutes.

The crowd was so great the new champion was forced to make an exit through a back door in order to reach the Union station where he went to greet a number of friends from Philadelphia. Dempsey received another ovation at the railway station and had to again make an escape in order to keep the crowd from tying up traffic.

DEMONSTRATION OF FIGHT CAUSED DEATH OF NEW YORKER NEW YORK, July 4.—Demonstrating to his friend, Thomas Black, how Dempsey knocked out Willard, Anthony Wasielewski of Brooklyn, tonight "tapped" Black on the jaw. Black dropped to the pavement dead. Wasielewski was arrested on a technical of homicide.

DANGERS OF HOT WEATHER Anyone is doubly liable to ill effects from the hot sun when stomach and bowels are clogged with a mass of undigested food. If you suffer from sick headache, biliousness, bloating, "heaviness" or any ill cause by indigestion take a Foley Cathartic Tablet and you will feel better in the morning. J. C. Ferry. "Thelma" Individual Chocolates—Made in Salem, 5c everywhere.

Newsy Notes of State Industrial Growth

July 5.—Oregon City.—After a year idle, Grice joint sawmill starts operation. Plans made to spend $407,000 improving the Tualatin river. Astoria—Clatsop mills start up with crew of 210 men. State Chamber of Commerce making state oil survey. North end sawmills raise wages 10 per cent.

North Portland, Oregon, is becoming one of the greatest industrial districts on the Pacific coast and already numbers among its industries some of the largest in the west. This is due largely to its transportation, power and housing facilities. St. Johns—Contractors let to build large vegetable oil tanks here. Lebanon and Lacomb unite to sink a test oil well. Portland—Plans ordered made for large county hospital. Canneries at Newberg, Lebanon, Falls City and Gresham consolidated. President Shaw, West Coast Lumbermen's association says sawmills never so prosperous.

Albion Engine and Machine works to build 2500-ton steel ships. Marshfield—Upper Coos Bay to have shoals removed by dredge. Klamath Falls—Fifty million dollars appropriated for irrigation includes two million to finish projects in Klamath county. Sutherlin—Roach Timber Co. to resume work. Large mills to be erected. Will give employment to hundreds and means large payroll here. Lumber outlook reported to be bright.

Cottage Grove cannery starts big season. New equipment increases production and lessens cost of operating. Bend—Boston mills buy 374 pounds of wool here at 54 1-8 cents, setting new Oregon price record for this season. Portland livestock building will cover seven acres.

Oregon has 4,083,000 head of livestock, worth $109,585,000. The canning industry of fish, fruit and vegetables will be one of greatest on coast. It will build up box factories, can factories and like industries and be one of our greatest employers of labor. Roseburg to get higher hydrant rate to meet cost of labor and material. State will receive 73 army trucks for road work. State highway board will let contracts July 8th for 156 miles highway. Portland, Oregon, is second largest wool center in United States. This means that with better flocks, which are being raised, great wool manufacturing plants should be developed on the coast in the near future. Benton county has 2000 acre bean industry. The Dalles will build a new school house on east hill. Reedport Building Supply Co. incorporates for $25,000. Albany—Reconstruction commenced on Nebergall packing plant. Stafield to have $50,000 hotel. La Grande possible site for fish hatchery. Roseburg—Fish cannery will build fertilizer plant. Portland—Plans being made for construction of 3-story, fire proof automobile house. Dayton—Oil drilling will be under way soon. Gold Hill—Construction on Rock Point bridge now on. Cost $17,000. Cottage Grove—Two school districts to have modern school houses. Dufur—Improvements on Masonic temple progressing. Road improvements in Oregon total $11,129,562. Season of building activity in Klamath Falls. Eugene may get the state pheasant farm.

A Salem Product—"Thelma" Individual Chocolates, 5c everywhere.

Route your freight via Willamette Valley Transfer Co. Express service at freight rates. Long distance hauling only. Phone 1400

REPAIR FACTORY This Repair Directory gives the principal places where an article can be repaired, and should be preserved in every home as a ready guide. STOVE REPAIRING Satisfaction guaranteed. 45 years experience. James and Sons, Salem Fence and Stove Works, 259 Court St., Phone 124. GEORGE C. WILLIAMS Repairs all Makes of Sewing Machines. Supplies, Needles, and Oil. Phone 159. 432 State Street, Salem, Oregon