CONFERENCE REVIEWED BY SECRETARY LANSING

ple have thought that the mere signing of the treaty with Germany marks the ending of the world peril. Public opinion seems to have breathed a sigh of relief and lapsed back into apathy. Concentration of thought on world problems is weakening now when it is most essential, and the forces of disintegration and reactions have been given a freedom of action far greater than when the world was on its guard.

Situation Serious.—The situation today is serious. Western civilization is still dazed by the shock of four and a half years of destruction. Industry and commerce are not yet restored. All of Europe is impoverished; parts of it are starving. Its whole political fibre has been shot through. Russia and Hungary are gripped by subversive political doctrines; Austria, Hungary and Turkey as empires have ceased to be; Poland and Czechoslovakia are struggling to their feet as members of the family of nations. All that complicated machinery of society which took decades to elaborate and a world war to tear down cannot be replaced over night by a wholly different machinery.

Card of Thanks—We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors and members of the L. L. L. for the many kindnesses and beautiful flowers during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father.
—Mrs. Sarah Sutton,
—Mrs. G. H. Derbyshire,
—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brown,
—Mrs. Ruth Flake,
—Miss Blanche Sutton.

Statesmanship to be Tried.—"World statesmanship will be sorely tried in the next few years. Two things are essential, first, an alert intelligent interested public opinion, and second, cooperation of the nations. The former is needed both as a check on any sinister purposes that may crop up and as the great support for common action. The second is essential, unless the nations are to return to a selfish particularism which can only breed the most dangerous disputes. "The peace conference has been history's greatest instance of a unified world statesmanship directing the moral and material resources of the world's family of nations. To allow the spirit behind it to dissipate at this moment of emergency, when united action is imperative, would be fatal to all the hopes of permanent peace with which we entered the war.

Hopeful for Future.—"If it is true that one nation can destroy the equilibrium of all, it is all the more true that each nation is bound by its own law of self-preservation to cooperate with the others to check troubles before they get their headway. "So I leave for home tonight, peased but not over-complacent with the outcome of the past six months, and hopeful, but not in the least un-mindful of the problems of the next few years."
