

231,130 Miles; Repairs but $76; another amazing record for Maxwell Trucks

HERE are the third returns on the nation-wide inquiry to determine the reliability of Maxwell trucks. Group No. 1 showed 16 trucks, $830.59 for repairs, for 90,010 miles. Group No. 2 showed 15 trucks, $313.07 for repairs, for 109,700 miles.

The group just examined follows:

Total Mileage	Actual Repair Cost	Total Mileage	Actual Repair Cost
15,500	$2.50	18,000	.00
13,950	.00	27,900	25.00
14,880	.00	20,000	.00
21,700	.00	15,500	10.00
15,500	.50	24,800	25.00
27,900	3.00	15,500	10.00

This is at the rate of $7 per Maxwell truck against an average mileage of almost 20,000. This is, so far as we know, the most remarkable figure ever recorded on a motor truck, regardless of price.

Paralleling this repair cost record is the obvious and well-known gas, tire, and oil mileage economy of the Maxwell truck—so accepted in the trade and by the public that it no longer is a subject of comment.

Like a horse, a truck must be sound to be useful. A truck often seeking the aid of mechanics is like a sick horse. Maxwell, as these repair figures show, is a well nigh perfect piece of machinery. And when you consider the cost—chassis price $1185 f.o.b. Detroit—you can easily figure what a great money earner it is. Many Maxwells pay back their cost in a year's time.

John Barleycorn Being Laid Away With Due Honors by New York Saloon Keeper

John Barleycorn may be only in a trance and awaken for a short time before his end comes the first of next year, but a lot of New York saloon keepers consider him the "late lamented" John. This photograph shows one "retired" saloon proprietor burying him with all due honors. Attached to the mourning crape on the door is a bottle of private stock. Beneath is a demijohn filled with "hard stuff."

The 80 guaranties who had expected that the sales would be a little slow this season on account of the busy time for the farmers. To Ward Off Summer Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercerized wax. Discolored or freckled skin, so common at this season, is gently, gradually absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, which is applied at bedtime and washed off morning. Greatly cream powders, and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercerized wax at any drugstore and use it like cold cream. This will help any skin at once and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably clear, young and healthy.

He died in France shortly after the first of the year with a complication of diseases after being ill but a few days. Johnson, pastor of the church.

NEW COURSES ARE PROBLEM

Part Time Schools Are Discussed at Meeting of National Association

Several problems will come up for the state department of education to solve when the part time schools provided for by the 1919 legislature are established at the beginning of the next school year in September. One will be the care necessary in the selection of teachers and another will be the outlining of the courses of study to meet the needs of part time students.

State Superintendent Churchill made extended inquiry into the subject while attending the convention of the National Education association at Milwaukee and was led to believe that the ideas of the Oregon department were as far advanced as those of any other state. The law provides that part time schools, affording an hour weekly for each student, must be established in all districts where there are at least 15 persons under 18 years old who are employed and not attending school and who have not been through the eighth grade. Vocational courses are to be offered.

Better pay for teachers and better preparation for teachers were emphasized strongly in the convention, says Mr. Churchill, and much attention was given to the subjects of Americanization, removal of illiteracy and vocational education.
