J. P. Davis home this week.

Mrs. Fred Pierson and small daughter of Lyons were in Stayton the first of the week for a brief stay. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thomas motored over from Salem Wednesday for a few hours' visit with friends here.

Mrs. Stacey Star is spending a week's vacation in Portland and Forest Grove visiting relatives. Frank Deunbacher of Portland came up the first of the week and is visiting friends in Stayton.

Mrs. Frank Munkers returned home the first of the week after a several weeks' visit in San Francisco with her daughter.

B. L. Klecker who has been in Wisconsin for the past several months, returned to his home in Stayton recently.

Mrs. M. J. Crabtree left Tuesday morning for Salem where she joins her parents for an automobile trip over the Columbia River highway.

Miss Gladys Rice of Corvallis is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. Lilly, during her vacation.

Mrs. Chester Coates came over from Vancouver, Wash., the first of the week for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Nott.

On their way home from Newport Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCulloch and small daughter of Ontario, Oregon, stopped over in Stayton for a few days' visit with relatives.

Peter Freres and Mrs. I. C. Titus, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Van Ehrman and Cora Cooper motored to Cascade Springs Sunday, for a day's outing at that mountain resort.

Doctors Must Present Bills Direct to Commissioners

Because physicians in some parts of the state have been making exorbitant charges in bills presented to workmen who are injured and who are under the workmen's compensation act, the industrial accident commission has ruled that bills must be presented directly to the commission. The policy of the commission is to pay the doctor bills in cases of this character, regardless of whether bills are presented to the workman or to the commission. The new ruling will serve as a protection against unduly high charges which necessarily would have to be offset in compensation allowed the workmen.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ford and daughters arrived home Saturday after an absence of several weeks spent in Pullman, Wash., where Mr. Ford was engaged in summer school work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Davis and son, Fred, of Astoria are visiting at the they can run over our personal property. We live 20 miles from Tillamook on the Wilson river. We have no access to notify officers of the misconduct of the so-called sports. "This is some of the things they do: Break into your house and if you are away, steal your garden fruit or anything they can pick up, run their autos up in front of your gate or your barn doors so you can not pass, camp in our barn, or on our place, tear down the fences if the gates are locked, turn their horses into the hay fields and numerous other depredations.

"Mr. Ryan ordered an auto camped in the barn out. They said he had no right to order them out, that he had no notice on his barn and they wouldn't go. He went to the district attorney to have them arrested. He wouldn't arrest them. He said it would do no good, if they outnumbered you they would outwear you in court.

"We have had a patent to this land from the United States government and have paid taxes on it for 30 years and if you have any prior rights for the so-called sports, the sum of the state of Oregon, we want you to show it to us through the courts of the state. I am putting this matter up to you and giving you due notice to look after your sports or they will come to grief."

"I wish to know just what right, if any, the state has to issue fishing and hunting licenses to people so be any longer. I am putting this matter up to you and giving you due notice to look after your sports or they will come to grief. We have stood this thing just as long as we are going to, and will do some thing else besides ordering the sports off our premises. They say they have a right to 15 feet on both sides of the river, and a right to go across our premises whenever and wherever they wish to. I want to know where they get their rights and I think I can show you they have no right there.

"If the state is so blind that they think a few little fish of more importance than the timber of the state I feel sorry for them. There is no greater menace to the timber of the state than the so-called sport."

"If it is necessary to have money to figureheads such as state and deputy game wardens, why not raise the money in some other way? The state and deputy game wardens know that there is illicit fishing of salmon above the dead line on Wilson river, nets stretched clear across the river, and the fish are sold to the cannery. This has been going on for three years and they know it and have not stopped it. There has been no baby salmon in Wilson river for three years. We notified the state game warden of Mr. Rumbly's head fire warden running deer with dogs last summer. It could be proven by other men there. He wrote us that a man had a right to take his hounds in the woods and he could not stop him. I want to know what the game wardens are for.

"I am giving you due notice to see that your fishermen and hunters stay in the public road running through our property hereafter. If there is any reason why they should cross our place, they can call at the house and get permission."

Dallas Men Are Injured When Cars Come Together

DALLAS, Or., July 30.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Motor Car Expert J. T. Minnich and Engineer Ed Bosler of this city, both employees of the Southern Pacific railway, were seriously injured in a train wreck near Hillsboro early Sunday morning while returning from Tillamook with a motor car for the Southern Pacific shops in this city to overhaul. The men took a motor car into Tillamook Friday morning and were on their homeward trip when they ran into a freight at the Hillsboro yards which had been left unprotected on the main line.

Minnich received a broken leg in the crash and Bosler a broken leg and an arm besides internal injuries. Pilot McNary, who was in the car at the time, escaped injury. Mr. Minnich was brought to his home here Sunday morning while Bosler was left at Hillsboro, being too badly injured to be moved to his home here.

Minnich says that they knew nothing of the presence of the freight until their car ran into the caboose. The gas pipe on the motor car was broken in the collision and set fire to the caboose which was practically destroyed.

Both injured men are well known in railway circles.

Wild Blackberries Lure Stayton Auto Parties

STAYTON, Or., July 31.—Several motoring parties have gone into the mountains near Mad creek the past 10 days where luscious wild blackberries are found in great quantities. One party of six pickers brought out 60 balloons.

The Portland Southeastern Railway company gave a dinner at the Stayton hotel last night to the bus-

HUNTERS CAMP IN HER BARN

Mrs. Myrtle Ryan of Tillamook Tells Governor to Watch His Sports

Complaining that fishermen and hunters are running over her property, camping in the barn, blocking the door-yard with their automobiles and committing other depredations, Mrs. Myrtle Ryan, who lives on Wilson River, 20 miles from Tillamook, has written a letter of protest to Governor Olcott.

"We have a patent to this land from the United States government and have paid taxes on it for 30 years," writes Mrs. Ryan, "and if you have any prior rights for the so-called sports, the sum of the state of Oregon, we want you to show it to us through the courts of the state. I am putting this matter up to you and giving you due notice to look after your sports or they will come to grief."

Is It Vulgar To Tell What Is So?

By DR. PARKER
Founder and Executive Head of the E. R. Parker System

SOME people think it is vulgar to advertise dentistry, and it IS vulgar if the advertising is not true. But it is never vulgar to advertise the truth about dentistry—it is never improper to advertise any good thing or any good service in the world.

A thing that can not stand the open light of public print is either mighty unworthy or mighty bad.

The E. R. Parker System is advertised because it is something worthy and something that confers a distinct benefit upon everybody who partakes of it.

The E. R. Parker System is widely used by Registered Dentists, whose combined knowledge and skill result in fine dentistry at lower prices than fine dentistry can be had in any other possible way.

You are invited to call at the Parker System offices, out of curiosity or for any other reason, just as you visit a clothing or dry goods store, and see what the System is.

When you call, you can have your teeth examined without charge, and learn in advance the price for having any dental work done that your teeth may require.

But you ought to know what the Parker System is, and the best way to know is to come and see.
