

CITY NEWS

Dance at Brooks Tonight—Salem's jazziest orchestra.

Macy Not in Portland—City Attorney B. W. Macy did not go to Portland yesterday to attend the hearing of the telephone rate case despite reports that he was in attendance. The council at the last meeting rejected the proposal that the city attorney and E. T. Buselle attend the hearing.

The Big White Auto—Leaves Masonic Temple at 7:30 Friday evening for the Stayton dance.

A Salem Product—"Thelma" Individual Chocolates is everywhere.

Athletic Demonstration Yesterday—A number of Salem citizens witnessed the physical training exhibition which Lieutenant Sam Weldon gave in the interests of army work here yesterday. To go three miles, three styles in 15 minutes may seem to be an easy accomplishment; but the Lieutenant rode a bicycle a mile, walked a mile and ran the same distance in that time, and challenged anyone to duplicate the performance. Lieutenant Weldon holds the army championship title for this event, his official time being 12 minutes. He was handicapped yesterday by inability to secure other than a coaster brake bicycle.

Jazz—What is it? Come to the Stayton dance Friday night and see for yourself.

Marines Wanted for Fleet—Corporal High of the local marine corps recruiting station is in receipt of an order that honorably discharged marines may re-enlist for special assignment with the Pacific fleet.

Returns to Portland—Carl W. Roberts, a department manager with the Meir & Frank company in Portland, has returned to that city after a week in Salem with relatives and friends.

"Thelma" Individual Chocolates—Made in Salem, 5c everywhere.

All Business Houses Will Close—All day Monday, Sept. 1st, Labor day.

Card of Thanks—The family of Mrs. P. A. Caspell, deceased, wishes to express their gratitude and appreciation to the many friends who so kindly assisted them in their late bereavement. —The Caspell Children.

Condon Gets Hotel—Articles of incorporation filed yesterday by the Condon Hotel company indicate that a modern hotel building is to be constructed in that city. The incorporators are William Crawford, J. E. Crowe, O. B. Robertson, C. W. Harts and Lester Wade. The capitalization is $45,000. Other new firms filed articles yesterday were: Nursery Furniture Manufacturing company, Portland; incorporators, Melvin A. Peterson, Dale C. Mulholland and John Manning; capitalization, $8000. Hub Cleaning works.

Claim is Denied—The claim of Frank Lee Allen, a Portland shipyard worker who claims he lost the vision of one eye because of an accident in the yards, has been rejected by the Industrial accident commission. Allen claimed about $550. After investigation it is held by the commission that the eye was rendered useless prior to the shipyard injury. Statement of a former employer and of a nurse who attended him at the time of his latest injury are cited by the commission.

Evergreen Blackberries—We are in the market. Bring them to our big plant opposite Southern Pacific company passenger station or phone 304. Crates furnished. Phez company.

Pork Raisers to Meet—Members of the United States National Bank Pig club are receiving notices that a meeting will be held in the Salem Commercial club rooms at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, August 30. The office of County School Superintendent W. M. Smith was busy mailing the circulars yesterday.

Crawford Canning Peaches—Now ready at Louis Lachmund's ranch in Kaiser bottom, 5 miles north of Salem. Bring your boxes. H. W. Bowden, foreman. Phone farm 293.

How Does Your Motorcycle Behave?—Local motorcycle drivers and dealers are inaugurating a campaign to discourage the use of the open cut-out while traveling through populated districts. It is claimed that much of the sentiment against the one track machine is caused by the careless driver who goes roaring along city streets and boulevards with muffler wide open and emitting smoke and back fire explosions. The motorcycle is being recognized as a general utility machine and was widely used in the war. Lieut. R. L. Knos, transport corps, United States Army and with the American forces in England is in favor of the nation-wide

Dance at Brooks Tonight—Salem's jazziest orchestra.

Levy Recovers Car—Harry Levy has returned from Portland where he went Tuesday on information from the Salem police that his car which was stolen last Friday had been found by Portland officers. Much credit for the early location of the stolen machine is said to be due to the prompt manner in which Chief of Police Varney furnished descriptive matter to the police of neighboring cities. There has been much conjecture as to the identity of the Ford's purloiner, a popular conjecture being that the car was picked up by the escaped convict, Wyater Willis. Willis had made his getaway on the afternoon of August 22. The car was found on the east side in Portland having evidently been abandoned when the gasoline in the tank was exhausted. Otherwise the car was in as good condition as when taken.

SALEM PERSONS WILL BE HEARD
Dr. George F. Holt and Hazel Todhunter Speak at State Convention

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 27.—Baptist young people of Oregon will meet on the Gladstone Chautauque grounds near this city between August 29 and September 1, in their first annual institute or summer assembly. A great three day program has been prepared by State President Harley K. Hallgren, which includes addresses by several prominent Pacific coast Baptists.

Rev. T. H. Hagen of Seattle will speak Saturday night. Rev. George F. Holt of Salem, Sunday morning; Dr. W. B. Hason of Portland, Sunday afternoon; Rev. W. Earle Smith of Los Angeles, Sunday night; Miss Mabel Hines of Los Angeles, Monday morning, and Dr. Alonzo M. Petty of Portland, Monday night.

The following names also appear on the program: George F. Holt Jr., and Miss Hazel Todhunter of Salem; V. A. Vincent, president of the West Willamette association; R. H. Hackett, president of the Rogue River association, and Dr. O. C. Wright, general secretary of the Oregon state convention.

The institute will be the biggest B.Y.P.U. event of the year. It is announced as fourfold in purpose—educational, devotional, recreational and inspirational. Delegates from all over the state have already registered. By Sunday an attendance of 1000 is expected. Camping facilities have been provided. Several ministers and their wives will direct the camp life.

TO KEEP THE CHILDREN WELL
Mrs. Amanda Flint, New Philadelphia, O., writes: "I heartily recommend Foley's Honey and Tar. It relieved my child of the worst tickling cough. She was so badly annoyed at night I tried a great many things, and found nothing to help her until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Contains no opiates. Best for any cold.—J. C. Perry.

RURAL TEACHERS ARE GIVEN HELP
Manual With Course of Study Gives Suggestive Time-Saving Program

Rural school teachers who have all of the eight grades in a single room receive special consideration in the new manual covering the course of study for elementary grades issued by State Superintendent J. A. Churchill. The manual contains a rural school program showing how classes may be combined for the best economy of time of both pupil and teacher. The course of study has just been received from the press by Superintendent Churchill and its distribution among the teachers of the state began yesterday. Concerning the several subjects covered in the course Superintendent Churchill says:

"One of the most important new features is the supplementary work in the course of reading. In addition to the basal text, the teacher is to choose one of four adopted texts to be used for supplementary work. At least one of the supplementary texts be purchased by the school board for the use of the pupil. Those adopted for this purpose are Literature Readers, Young and Field Literary Readers, Merrill Readers, and Riverside Readers.

"For the language in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, the teacher is referred to the course of study in elementary English which accompanies the adopted text. Potter, Jeschke and Gillet's Oral and Written English. This manual is furnished free to all teachers.

"In geography the same text as used last year will be followed until the changes in the boundaries appear in the map of the newly adopted texts of the Tarr and McMurry series. These are expected to be ready for use at the opening of the schools in the fall of 1920.

"In American history the outline for the first four grades follows that given in the report of the committee of eight. The course in the first two grades is planned to give the child an impression of primitive life and an appreciation of the public holidays. The child is taught to enter into the spirit of all public holidays and to respect the historical background that has made these days possible. In the third grade the heroes of other times are introduced, and in the fourth the pupil is present to historical scenes and persons in American history. The work of these first four grades prepares the way for the stories of American history and the American beginning in Europe taught in the fifth and sixth grades, and for the more complete and detailed study of American history of the seventh and eighth grades."

Don't forget the bill for my bathing suit, father dear?
"Yes. The bill was a great improvement on the suit."
"In what way?"
"It was so large."—Washington Star.
