NO PLACE FOR 42,000 SOCIALISTS

The Socialist party has been meeting in Chicago. Several branches of it.

One does not get from the dispatches a clear idea as to which is

But one bunch of the Bolshevist outfit met yesterday and resoluted and made reports and formed some sort of an organization. Purporting to have recently counted noses, they claim there are 42,000 left in this country of their way of thinking; the total awhile back having been 117,000. That is 42,000 too many.

It is 42,000 more than ought to be allowed to remain in the United States-

For they declared yesterday that there is a "crying need for an immediate change in the social system; the ultimate aim being class was upon "Sincerity" which she the overthrow of the present system of production and the creation of an industrial republic."

Also, that they must aid the "communist labor party, in its struggle for the conquest of the state and the powers of government and the establishment of a co-operative commonwealth," and other such rot.

The whole thing leads to Bolshevism.

To murder and rapine and rape.

To a return to the brute force of the cave man.

To idleness and slothfulness and bestiality.

To the chaos that is Russia.

To gaunt, wolfish starvation.

There is no proper corner or cave or rat-hole in the United States for these 42,000 silurians who would hark back to the conditions of the ancestors of the Digger Indians. They do not belong here at all.

This is America, whose ideals admit of no classes; no public dishonor; no private license to the low and debased and debauched and debauching.

In seasons and in spots we fall short of our high ideals; but we are slowly working upward, and, while we are tolerant, and ought to be tolerant, and ought to give liberty of speech and of the press, this does not mean license.

There is an ocean-wide difference between liberty and license. Probably there are not as anmy as 42,000 Bolshevists in the United States; perhaps they have counted the coyote yell of each one a thousand times.

But, however many there are, not one of these Bolshevists should be allowed to remain to breathe the free and untainted air of the Unitd States of America, where they are more alien than any Hun harking back to the black days of their ancient leader, Attila.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful
