

Buy Your Fordson Tractor Now We Say So

Fair week when you visit the Tractor Show you will see the Fordson put through the paces with your own eyes, under your own conditions of soil and topography—under identically the same conditions you will use it yourself.

The Fordson will exceed your fondest expectations. But what's the use of telling you all these facts when you will readily see them in its demonstration at the fair and more, that it does in its demonstration it will do for you every day on your own farm for years.

The Fordson is simple to operate, compact, strong, light weight (only 2700 pounds), powerful, economical (operating on the cheapest fuel—kerosene), long lived and it has upheld its good name among over 55,000 owners.

You can depend on it to handle two 14-inch bottoms in any soil, and on the belt you won't find a better power outfit, delivering between 20 and 22 horsepower at the pulley, it will run your grain separator, hay baler, ensilage cutters—will, in short, handle all the belt jobs you have to do within its rating.

The price of the Fordson is the price you want to pay. That is because it is now manufactured at the rate of 500 a day, and will be increased by October to 1000 a day. Quantity production has reduced your cost.

And remember that behind the Fordson is Fordson service, the expert help and advice, the stocks, parts and repairs that we keep ready for immediate delivery. There is just one final step between you and the ownership of a Fordson Tractor. Take it and do that now.

Now is the logical and safe time to buy your Fordson Tractor. Farm Tractor Manufacturers know that more machines will be wanted during this year than can be supplied—hence the practical farmer will get his Fordson while it's on the market and not wait for a shortage. Bust right in on the first Fordson salesman you see and tell him you want one of those little steel horses out there to do your farm work.

N. Y. GRANGERS PUT BLAME ON LABOR FOR H. C. L.

Statement of 125,000 Farmers Sets Forth Reasons for Conditions

FOOD KEY TO HAPPINESS

Conditions of Workers on Farms Must Improve Is Declaration

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Officials of the New York State Grange, representing 125,000 farmers, in a statement issued here today placing responsibility for the high cost of living upon labor, declared that "an economic adjustment must be made if the world is to be fed and agriculture preserve." The indictment of all workers except those engaged in agricultural pursuits is made by Sherman J. Powell and W. N. Giles, master and secretary, respectively, of the grange, who allege that strikes have been an important factor in raising the price of food, clothing and shelter.

Happiness Factors Given.
"The first factor in a happy life is three meals every day," says the statement. "The next is adequate clothing and housing to keep the body warm. The war has only hastened what every thinking agriculturist has seen for years was surely coming. Rural workers have not received the support and encouragement which the urban workers so easily obtained in the form of better schools, roads, churches, houses, shorter hours and higher wages for work under more favorable conditions. This has had the result of steadily drawing from the country its population to an alarming degree. Now, instead of going into a study of our situation and developing a remedy, our laboring brothers of the city purpose to remedy our trouble by arbitrary measures without any real knowledge of the cost of producing the necessities of life.

Farmers Learn.
"No class of Americans with red blood in their veins will stand being told they must labor long hours at inadequate pay in order that another class may have shorter hours and higher wages. Even the faithful farmer who has always produced sufficient food for all, feels he has about reached the limit, and that no laboring man of the city should find fault if he applies the same rule that his city brother has taught him?"

"Why is it that over half our farms have mortgages on them, and that two-thirds are worked by renters? When a class of men demand a higher wage although their labor does not earn it, some one else must pay, and they become dishonest profiteers."

"We here challenge the city laborer to a cost accounting that all the world may see who earns his wage. Let there be an authoritative cost accounting of farm products and a wage scale for labor the base of which shall be its earning power."

Comparison Drawn.
"When wheat was $1 a bushel, one bushel paid for a day's work. Wheat by government fiat, is now $2.25 a bushel, and it now requires from two to three bushels to pay labor for one day's work. Again, when wool was 30 cents a pound, allowing four pounds for a suit of clothes, the farmer received for the product $1.20. Figuring the cost of a suit of clothes at $20, thirteen days labor at $1.50 per day paid for a suit. Today wool is 65 cents a pound, four pounds bringing $2.60, the amount received by the farmer. The same suit of clothing is now $40 and the laborer can obtain a suit by eight days of labor at $5 per day. These comparisons will hold good with every farm product."

YOUTH SHINES IN THEO KARLE

Vital Force Predominates in Singer's Appearances Before Public

To describe a personality in one word is to reveal its individuality. Thus Leonardo da Vinci might be summed up by the single attribute—versatility. Lincoln is a synonym for honesty, and Shaw a paraphrase of brilliancy. There is an American singer who stands the test of the one word characterization. That singer is Theo Karle. He is youth. In his surprising seasons before the public, Theo Karle has brought to the art of the concert stage nothing that does not reveal the vital force of being young. His voice, a splendid natural instrument and used by him with a happy distinction his manner, earnest and gracious, his pleasing appearance—all these characteristics are somehow shaded and controlled by a pervading spirit of abundant and youthful enthusiasm. To hear him is to know the joy of song, to feel the irresistible spirit of youth knocking at the doors of toiling age. His is the music of new, unquar-

STRENGTH FOR YOUNG MOTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restores Health and Strength.

Lansing, Mich.—"After the birth of my child I was not able to stand on my feet. I was so weak I could not get up. I suffered such pains in my back I could not work or hardly take care of my baby. One of my neighbors recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash, and herb remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. Women who are in Mrs. Bowers' condition should not continue to suffer from weakness and pain—but profit from her experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. worlds, his—the laughter of the young gods.

When the glittering star of Theo Karle first flashed across the horizon of the musical firmament a few years ago, its appearance was hailed and heard him, and the incredulous surprise of the entire concert world. Who was this happy young giant whose voice was greeted with applause and wonder? Whence came he, and where had he learned to present the great natural beauty of his musical gift with the studied understanding of a mature-artist? These questions and many others were soon asked and answered. It was discovered that, like Lockhart, the young tenor came out of the west and received his early musical education on the Pacific coast. The vagaries of learning to sing brought him eventually to New York. His history from this point on is merely a record of appearances throughout the country, appearances which have only been separated by the necessary time consumed in traveling from one astonished city to another. His professional career has been the enviable experience of engagement and immediate reengagement. If Theo Karle were a foreign eccentric and not a healthy young American he might have peeped the walls of his apartments with parapsychics of the inevitable telegram which follows his appearance—"It goes without saying that we want Karle again."

It is small wonder then that he is always popular—this frank American with the voice that thrills you. Theo Karle is a natural favorite of the concert stage. He is youth.

JURY COMPLETE FOR LAND CASE

W. L. Murray, Portland, Fails to Appear, Forfeiting $2000 Bail

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 19.—A jury which will hear the evidence in the so-called Oregon land fraud cases, was completed late today in United States Judge Maurice T. Dooling's court. The men on trial are F. P. Bull of San Francisco; H. D. Putter of Berkeley; J. L. Van Wormer of Fresno; Alan McEwen of San Francisco and W. L. Murray of Portland, Oregon.

Although it had been announced that Murray, who failed to appear when the cases were called for trial, was expected to arrive later in the day from Portland, he had not appeared when Judge Dooling adjourned court until Monday. His bail of $2,000 was ordered forfeited.

We presume that the ex-kaiser would apply for a change of venue if there was any place to go to.
