abolish the trade in cigarettes in this state. "Resolved; First, that we urge our people to support this measure until it becomes a law;

"Resolved; Second, that we call upon the newspapers to cease publication of news items and editorials dictated or inspired by the Tobacco trust and contrary to the moral sentiments of this question."

In the treasurer's report, the question of the general benevolent funds brought out a warm talk from the bishop. The figures for 1918 showed a sum of $22,448 for this fund but for this year the sum had shrunk to $2,796, and it led him to remark that apparently the big centenary success was merely a shifting about of the funds. He said it was a question for grave thought and study. One cause assigned for this low showing for general benevolence was given as contributions to the Red Cross, to the Armenian relief, and other war activities, which were not shown on the church reports.

A resolution by Rev. M. B. Paroungian, Oregon conference superintendent of Methodist Sunday schools, asking the United States to send troops to Armenia to take charge there and protect the Armenians from being exterminated within three months was passed in a modified form. The bishop called attention to the fact that by the present arrangement the United States is held to act under the provisions of the treaty until it is definitely adopted or rejected and that all the conference could do was to ask the United States to assume the mandatory for Armenia in the conference, under the treaty of peace and the league of nations, would give Armenia the same status as the Philippines. Rev. Mr. Paroungian made a strong plea for the passage of a resolution and as a resolution asking the United States to take the mandatory of that persecuted country it was passed.

Superintendent A. I. W. W. The report of Rev. Mr. Paroungian for the past year was read and accepted. He said that during the year he had traveled more than 11,000 miles, 250 of which were on foot, and that he had organized 25 Sunday schools in the territory to which he is assigned. He urged more attention to the lumber camps and saw mills in order to combat the I. W. W. and bolshevism.

A memorial to the general conference in Des Moines, Iowa, next May asking that the Oregon conference include the entire state of Oregon was presented and carried. At present the Oregon conference does not include the entire state, the eastern part of which is included in the Idaho conference.

In order to save time and energy and duplication of effort, a resolution consolidating missionary boards into one board of benevolence was presented and passed. This board will take care of the work done heretofore by all missionary boards and will make one big campaign for funds and have one source of distribution.

The constitutional amendment to the church laws granting admission of laymen to the conference came up for consideration and was defeated by the ministers. It was passed a few days ago by the laymen in session in the Willamette university chapel. It was the opinion of the ministers that they should have at least one general meeting where they could be by themselves.

A resolution fathered by Superintendent T. B. Ford expressing the thanks and appreciation of the conference to the citizens of the city, and the representatives of the press for their full reports, and the people of the Salem pastorate for their kindness and entertainment was passed. Also a resolution asking the general conference to return Bishop Hughes for another four years, and instructing the bishop to convey the appreciation of the conference to his living mother for her work in giving two bishops to the church. The resolution was passed.

On motion of D. H. Leech, D. Lester Fields, C. L. Hamilton and M. T. Wire, were re-elected members of the conference board of stewards, their terms to expire in 1922. On motion of T. B. Ford, the trustees of Leslie church, Salem, were authorized to sell church property known as Hope chapel, the proceeds of which sale are to be placed in the hands of the conference trustees. The conference confirmed the action of the advisory conference in authorizing the sale of its church property with a view of reinvesting the proceeds in a new church property.

A. H. Clarke of the California conference, was transferred to the Oregon conference and placed in the studies of the fourth year. Fair Play Demanded. In regard to the matter of a protest to the state department regarding the granting of passports to visit foreign countries by people representing the liquor interests and the denying of passports to representatives of the anti-saloon leagues to visit foreign countries at the invitation of people interested in putting the liquor traffic out of business, the following was passed by the conference and will be sent to Hon. Robert Lansing, secretary of state, at Washington, D. C.

"The Oregon Annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in session at Salem, Ore., representing a membership of approximately 20,000, and a constituency of approximately 85,000, requests that passports be denied to citizens of the United States to go into China, Japan, Mexico and other foreign lands to manufacture or sell intoxicating liquors, the manufacture and sale of which under the laws of our country have been made a criminal offense. Inasmuch as passports have been denied by your department to representatives of the Anti-Saloon league who have been invited by temperance organizations of other countries to come and assist them in making it a crime under their law to manufacture and sell intoxicating liquors as it is under the laws of our own land, we therefore in justice ask that your department do not issue passports to our citizens to debauch and make criminal the citizens of other countries."

large holdings of base line real estate on the facade of his anatomy and Schalk claimed that he touched the runner before the latter had ployed his way to the plate. In his excitement he jumped up at Umpire Rigler's protector and with his fists joined the judicial air there impounded. Rigler pointed to the coop and Schalk, mumbling things that the late Noah Webster never encountered in his researches, made way for Lynn, who caught the remainder of the game for the Sox.

The field was in excellent condition, despite the rain of yesterday, and 34,379 persons paid to witness the exhibition. The sun shone brightly and the temperature was right, liking of players and spectators alike. Reuther Starts Today. With the Reds victorious in four of the five games, Manager Moran of the Cincinnati club intimated tonight that he would start Walter Reuther against the White Sox in the sixth game of the series scheduled for Cincinnati tomorrow.

Portland Floral Society Has Praise for Salemites

(Oregonian) Members of the Portland Floral society upon returning from their visit to the Oregon state fair are loud in their praise of the Salem residents who entertained them. The Cherrians, the Salem Floral society and C. B. Clancy, in charge of the floral department at the state fair, came in for complimentary remarks. The membership of the Portland Floral society is made up from the professional florists and flower growers in and around Portland. A number of Portland florists were successful in the prize awards in the floral section at the state fair.

today and yesterday on various charges. A shout went up for a march on the jail where the men were confined. For a moment the situation looked serious but the cries of the crowd let up when the speaker announced that a meeting of former soldiers would be held tomorrow morning to consider plans for procuring the release of the prisoners.

Scouts Offer Program in Salem Wednesday Night

Part of the program which will entertain Salem's Boy Scouts at their regular quarterly meeting Wednesday night of this week, will be a talk by Walter A. Denton, who will talk about the value of Scouting for the Boy and the Business Man. For the first time in Salem, the headquarters flag will be awarded to the troop having won it during the last quarter. This flag was obtained through the efforts of Scout Execu-

BILLINGSLEY IS SEVERELY HURT

Street Railway Superintendent Injured in Clash of Trolley and Train

By being pinned under a wrecked street car, T. L. Billingsley, superintendent of the Salem street railways, was seriously injured yesterday morning at 5:25 when the street car collided with the locomotive of northbound passenger train No. 54. Besides Superintendent Billingsley, three other men were in the wrecked car. Motorman William Lott, in charge of the car, was dazed; one hand injured and his head and face badly bruised. Motormen Henry Borsman and Arthur Williamson were badly shaken up but otherwise uninjured.

Tributes Are Paid to Late Dr. W. S. Mott

The Rigdon chapel was overflowing yesterday afternoon when friends gathered for the last rites over the late Dr. William S. Mott, who passed away after a brief illness Friday morning at the family home. So many were the bereaved friends that places for all could not be made in the chapel and many had to remain outdoors. Floral tributes were beautiful with several large pieces. Dr. W. C. Kanter of the First Congregational church read the services, speaking of the high ideals to which Dr. Mott had lived in his professional and civil life. During his residence in Salem with number over 30 years Dr. Mott strove to do all for the betterment of the city he could, the speaker said.

Echo of Steamer Disaster

Frederick H. Pinsky, administrator of the estates of Albert Pinsky and Olive K. Pinsky estates filed petition yesterday for the appointment of F. E. McAllister of Silverton as representative of the Oregon holdings of the estate, there being property in Marion county valued at $2000 and real estate in Lake county appraised at $1000. The deceased, Albert K. Pinsky, died in a fall from a boat on the Alaskan steamer "Princess Sophia" on October 25, 1918. Six children of the deceased couple are named as heirs of the estate, the total value of which is not given. All of the heirs are residents of the state of Minnesota.

Many Hunters Out

Many hunters were out after birds on Sunday. Most of the Nimrods report good hunting and fair bags. The demand for hunting licenses declined yesterday indicating that the 500 licenses written out in Salem since October 1 had nearly exhausted the Salem quota of hunters. One fishing license was written out yesterday to C. S. Bell of Salem, Anderson and Brown, while Hauser brothers wrote all of the 17 gunning permits issued. Those getting licenses were: Glenn McCallister, Wolfersiek, Clyde G. Thomas, Scott Miller, H. M. Hawkins, Louis Krepela, Ernest Burch, J. P. Zelinsky, Henry M. Shaveland, H. H. Gralapp, H. J. Ringrose, L. W. Montgomery, George C. Smith, L. G. Bulgin, R. Crossan, C. M. LaFollett, Walter Fandrick, Ercel Kay, all of Salem.

Will Admitted to Probate

The will of the late A. E. Milster was admitted to probate by Judge W. M. Bushey yesterday. Mrs. Milster died in Silverton, October 2, 1919. The extent of the property involved in the estate is not given, but the notation is made that most of the real property had been disposed of by the deceased, prior to her death. The personal property, but the terms of the will is to be divided equally among her eight children: Mary C. Ridings, Ida S. Graces, Fannie A. Drake, Jett L. Dibble, Bertha J. Woodside, Dell T. Smith, Lettie E. Davenport and Bada Helfrich. The will nominated Fannie A. Drake and Bada L. Helfrich as executors of the instrument, but as Mrs. Helfrich is not a resident of Oregon, the court appointed Fannie A. Drake as executrix.

light committee at the time the light was ordered," said Utter, "but after he was appointed on the committee he had the installation of the light held up without bringing the matter before the council, hoping to make the expense payable by the light company instead of by the city when the new contract should be signed." "It was wrong," asserted Vandeventer, "Johnson knew better.—I am opposed to any action until Johnson is here. I want him to face the music." Moore moved that the city order the light installed at once, but the motion lost. Mr. Johnson explains that the morning following the council's order the light company informed him that the installation would be at the city's expense unless action were taken toward renewal of the city's contract. This under provision of the old contract affecting installations within 12 months from the expiring date of the contract. Johnson says he advised with Utter, who was also a member of the light committee, and that Utter gave his approval to holding back the installation until the new contract should be made.

GYPSY TRIBES HAVE NEW MECCA CALIFORNIA SITE HELD SACRED MOVEMENT AFFECTS WHOLE NATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Romany tribes, commonly known as "gypsies," are traveling toward California from all parts of the United States with the avowed purpose of establishing a "sacred site" or permanent sacred encampment at Emeryville, across the bay from San Francisco, officials east of Bay City believe. In possession of tribal leaders, who came west to attend the recent marriage of George Adams, head of one tribe, and "Gypsy" Mary, who said she was an Egyptian princess, were found telegrams from headquarters of six tribes scattered throughout the country. These contained but two words "Amen avasa" or "We come." They were said to be replies to a country-wide call for a gathering of the gypsy clans. Religious Appeals to Not all of the gypsies are included in the movement. The response is confined to the more religious element who still cling to the tradition that one day they would take the road to the land of promise by the "great water," the ultimate home of the wanderers on the Pacific coast. Fifteen thousand men and women and their boys and girls, are estimated to be on their way here. Lesko Amenja, head of a Greek Gypsy band, and others have made inquiries as to state laws on municipal organization and the residents of Emeryville are said to be apprehensive that the gypsies will have sufficient voting power to take over control of the town, now a city of 2,700 population.

Flag Adopted

The bands are reported to have adopted a central tribal flag bearing the legend "Borodiro Sivity"—"A Greater People." Involved in the migration to this coast are gypsies of the Turkish, Rumanian, Hungarian, German, Moravian, Lithuanian, Russian, Greek, Bohemian, Italian and Spanish tribes. Joe McAllister, secretary of the state desert land board, spent Sunday in Portland. Charles and Will Mumbers of Brooks were Salem visitors yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Oscar Bower went to Mill City yesterday on official business. George Ramp of Brooks spent Monday in the city. Dr. E. J. Potts of Falls City passed through town yesterday after a week's stay at the Camby fair. Mrs. M. L. Fulkerson, county school supervisor, has returned from central Oregon where she attended teachers' institutes at Prineville and Madras. F. T. Webb, who is in charge of the school at Liberty was in Salem for a few hours yesterday. Mr. Webb reports good attendance at the Liberty school, 70 being enrolled this year. A. N. Arnold, who is supervisor of the schools of the southern part of the county, is visiting schools beyond Medama. A PILGRIM FROM PICCADILLY. An English writer who has been observing America says that the men here are bright, but the women much brighter. Possibly he found one of them shining and it dazzled him. The men of America, however, are sufficiently courteous not to quarrel with the British critic. The admission that the he Americans are bright is considerable to come from an Englishman—albeit his qualifications as a referee might be questioned. The Americans not only concede the superior brightness of their women, but they gloat over it. Look at the lady stars with which they decorate the heavens! They twinkle not only by night, but by day. This British observer also says that the country people in America are the happiest in the world. They also have the greatest reason to be, according to his reckoning.

PERSONAL MENTION

Attorney General Brown will go to Ashland Thursday where he is scheduled to address a convention of the state Women's Christian Temperance union on the subject of law enforcement. J. M. Devers, assistant attorney general for the highway department, is in Portland where he will attend the meeting of the state highway commission today. A. H. Lea, secretary of the state fair board, has returned from Portland. Miss Bessie Donaldson of Salem has taken the place of Miss Marie Lodge as stenographer in the state treasurer's office. Miss Lodge resigned October 1. C. V. Johnson, manager of the real estate department in the state insurance commissioner's office, has returned for their regular Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night appearances at the Fifth theater, the Harvard Foster Players will present the great political drama, "The Final Settlement," for three performances beginning October 7. "The Final Settlement" is one of the greatest political comedy dramas of modern times. It is the story of how an obscure telephone girl meets and wrestles, figuratively speaking, with the boss of the most powerful political-machine ever formed. She is the greatest stumbling block the machine has encountered, and their efforts to get her out of the way and her determination to hold out for the right, forms the story with one of the most surprising climaxes ever put into a play. The Foster Players have made a great many friends here already by their excellent performances of "The Third Degree" and "The Battle Baby," and the fact that they will appear here each week in an entirely new play is very gratifying to those who have seen them.
