Little Miss Helen Roberts, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, presided over an exceedingly merry party last night when she honored her house guest, Ted Young of Albany. The billiard room and one of the spacious Roberts residences where the little folk frolicked through the evening hours was transformed into the weird abode of ghosts, witches and goblins which with their old black cats and screechy old owls were to be seen on every hand. The little tots made merry over Halloween games and fortune telling until the young hostess served her guests a delicious luncheon. At a late hour when the ghosts and goblins were in their highest glory, the guests hovered around the huge fire in the fireplace and finished the evening with ghost stories.

Guests of the evening were Ted

Young of Albany, Misses Janet Plimpton, Nancy Theissen, Hazel George, Dorothy Livesley, Juanita Jarmen, Gwendolyn Jarmen, Genevieve Campbell, Gilbert, Maxine Meyers, Rovina Eyre, Audrey Tiesbe, Heloise Hogan, Mildred Roberts, and Carl Steiner, Sharman Plimpton, Howard Baker, John Todd Jr., Chandler Brown, Jerome Hauser, Henry Theissen, Jack Harbison, Kenneth Webb, Kenneth Allen, Harold Olinger and Daryl Mayers.

Mrs. Homer Goulet was a charming hostess on Tuesday when she entertained a few friends at dinner at their beautiful country home celebrating their twenty-second wedding anniversary. The living rooms were adorned with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and the table had for a centerpiece a large pumpkin filled with various fruits. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Connelly Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, Albert Egan and Homer Egan.

Miss Florence Cartwright was a charming hostess Friday night when she entertained a few friends at a beautifully appointed dinner. A large basket of Japanese pompons formed an artistic centerpiece. Favors and nut baskets were in the orange and black in keeping with the day. After the dinner the guests spent the evening in dancing and with cards. Her guests were Misses Pauline Remington, Wilda Ingells, Helen McInturff and Harland Allington, Kingston Liston, Leo Jamison and Leo Moore. During the dinner Beatrice and Josephine Evans delighted them with several songs.

Mrs. Thomas A. Roberts entertained Friday afternoon with a line party at the Oregon theatre, Miss Wanda Newman of London who is here for a short time while she is doing some extensive traveling. After the show Mrs. Roberts took her guests to her home for tea.

One of the most beautiful dinner parties of the week was the one given by Mrs. J. L. Van Doren presided at her home on Friday evening to precede the Illahee dance. Halloween effects with autumn blooms finished the brilliant appointments. Mrs. Van Doren's guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Terry of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Theissen, Miss Aline Thompson, Miss Hazel Downing, Lawrence Hofer and James Young.

Mrs. Earl McMechan presided at a beautiful dinner Friday night honoring Miss Wanda Newman of London, England. Mrs. T. S. Mesh of Portland and Mrs. William Braden of Seattle who are guests of her and of her sister, Mrs. T. A. Roberts. The dinner which preceded the Illahee dance and was at the Marion hotel, was charming in its appointments. A huge basket of Japanese pompons formed the centerpiece of the table and favors and place cards were in Orange and Black in keeping with the day. Those who were in the party were Miss Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Mesh, Mrs. Braden, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry Jr., Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Roberts, James Alexander of Portland, O. S. Murphy of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. McMechan.

Mrs. William Hamilton and Mrs. F. E. Zimmerman gave their husbands a delightful little surprise party on Friday night at the Hamilton home. Black cats, jack o' lanterns, yellow shaded candles and Halloween draperies gave the room the true Halloween spirit. Several clever Halloween stunts were enjoyed at the beginning of the evening one of which was the cobweb dance which began the dancing for the evening. The remainder of the evening was passed with dancing and cards. At the close the hostesses served a Halloween luncheon. Their guests numbered 24 couples.

Mrs. Fred Thompson and Mrs. Grover Bellinger were joint hostesses Wednesday afternoon for the Retharians club at the home of the former. Autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums adorned the rooms in dainty fashion. At the close the hostesses served a dainty luncheon. Members of the club are: Mrs. H. V. Compton, Mrs. Alfred Schramm, Mrs. James Helitzer, Mrs. Roy Shields, Mrs. Alpheus Gillette, Mrs. Elmo S. White, Mrs. F. L. Utter, Mrs. Cecil Hawley, Mrs. Frank Reeves, Mrs. Elliott Colony and the hostesses. During the afternoon officers for the year were elected with the following results: Mrs. Grover Bellinger, president; Mrs. Frank Reeves, vice president; Mrs. Elliott Colony, secretary; Mrs. Fred Thompson, treasurer.

Decidedly different from most of the parties for the week, which chose for their appointments Halloween features was the Philadonian at home, "In the Land of Make-Believe" yesterday afternoon in the Philadonian hall at the university. Palms, ferns and dainty bused flowers transformed the room into a perfect fairyland. A delightful little program was given. Miss Evelyn De Long gave a piano solo, "Fairy Chimes," Miss Odell Savage told a little fairy story, entitled "The Wood Nymph," and three pupils of Mrs. Ralph White delighted the guests with the Butterfly dance. Alumni and Philadonian girls assisted throughout the afternoon Mrs. R. H. Robertson, Mrs. Alf Schramm, Miss Beryl Holt and Miss Margaret Graham. In the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served, the blue bird idea was used, with the lights hung with a shower of the little emblems of happiness and on each menu card was a graceful little bird. This was the most delightful of the annual Philadonian parties and will long be remembered by the 100 guests who included the women faculty members of the non-society girls of the campus. The committee in charge were Miss Sibyl Smith, Miss Eva Parrott, Miss Emma Shanafelt and Miss Faye Perring.

Another very enjoyable Halloween party was given by Miss Salome Socolofsky at her home on North Summer street on Friday night. The rooms were artistically decorated with autumn leaves and they were lighted with yellow candles. Fortune telling and other reasonable games were the diversions of the evening, after which Miss Socolofsky served light refreshments. Her guests for the evening were Professor and Mrs. John R. Sites, Misses Jean Sevy, Fay McInnock, Mildred Stevens, Mildred Strevey, Viola Ash, and Messrs. Ray Todhunter, Vern Ferguson, Robbin Fisher, Francis Cramer, Edwin and Walter Socolofsky.

Among the very younger folk one of the happiest little parties was the one for which Miss Julia Elvin, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James Elvin was hostess Friday afternoon. The guests were met at the door by a ghost, who escorted the guests into the rooms which were decorated with jack o' lanterns, corn stalks, black cats and other Halloween features. Late in the afternoon Miss Elvin served dainty Halloween refreshments. Those who made up the party were Misses Florence Barker, Doris Hicks, Bernice Humphreys, Dorothy Boshart, Grace Thompson, Bertha Babcock, Ruth Halverson, Maxine Ulrick, Alma Johnson, Maxine Donaldson and Delbert Viesko, Wayne Setterlee, David Holman and Thomas Elvin.

Miss Alice McKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McKinnon was hostess for a delightful Halloween party on Thursday night, inviting a group of the younger high school set. Games appropriate to the Halloween season were enjoyed and at the close the hostess served a dainty luncheon. Miss McKinnon's guests were: Prudence Patterson, Charlotte Zeller, Ruth Kuhn, Lenta Baumgartner, Ruth Griffith, Wayne Harris, John Caughell, Arthur Hamilton, Christopher Busch, Louis West and Elmer Reid.

A group of the very younger set made merry frolicking over Halloween games Friday night when Miss Mary Bowen and Miss Dorothy Bowen were hostesses for a party with most clever arrangements. Dimly shaded lights, jack o' lanterns, black cats and witches hidden in tall corn stocks produced a weird atmosphere to the basement which

Can You Imitate a Phonograph?

Possibly not—but there are people in the world who do imitate the reproduction of a record so cleverly that it is sometimes called

Re-Created Music

No Phonograph Is Musically Perfect

but there is one phonograph above all others that will reproduce the work of all artists (regardless of what company makes their records) to a greater degree of perfection and with less needle and mechanical noises, than any other phonograph in the world. It is the

It Is Not a Concert Phonograph

The Sonora was recognized in 1915 by the highest musical authorities in the world as a phonograph capable of reproducing music more perfectly than any other phonograph in the world. It was not a perfect instrument then nor do we claim it to be such today. The fact remains, however, that since 1915 the Sonora has made startling improvements in their instrument and certain phonographs which boast of being perfect and capable of re-creating music are no different today than they were Five Years Ago when they competed with the Sonora for first honors in tone quality award at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

At the close of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, Mr. O. H. Fernbach, Secretary International Award System, wrote the following from San Francisco:

"I beg to inform you that the only Jury which heard and tested all the phonographs exhibited at the Panama-Pacific Exposition recommended that the Sonora be given a marking for tone quality higher than that given to any other phonograph or talking machine."

The Sonora will reproduce any make of disc record more perfectly than any phonograph in the world. You can prove this fact to your entire satisfaction if you will bring any record you are thoroughly familiar with, to our store. We will play it for you on the Sonora. We will leave to your own good judgment. Investigate Sonora merit today. We will gladly assist you. Sonora represented exclusively in Salem by had been turned over to the kiddies. Diving for apples, telling ghost stories and many other games typical of the evening were the diversions. At a late hour the hostesses served a Halloween supper. Guests for the evening were Gertrude Winslow, Dorothy Moore, Melvin Winslow, Malcolm Graber, Merle Renso and Charles Bowen, Jr.

The Cecilia Music club gave a delightful Halloween party on Friday night when they invited a group of their friends for a dancing party and to play games with them at the Knights of Columbus hall. The hall was profusely decorated with autumn leaves, sweet briar tips and jack o' lanterns, black cats and other Halloween decorations. The high school orchestra furnished excellent music for the evening and made their debut to Salem dancing circles. Two witches' tents were improvised and here in dimly shaded haunts gypsies told the guests their future. During the dancing punch was served and after the dance a delicious supper was served in which the Halloween ideas were further used. A group of the mothers of the girls acted as patronesses, Mrs. H. H. Cory, Mrs. J. H. Walker, Mrs. Charles Elgin, Mrs. H. E. Marcus and Mrs. E. Sheldon. The members of the club are: Ruth Wechter, Lola Millard, Frances Dodge, Lucille Moore, Marion Emmons, Katharine Vincent, Florence Elgin, Florence Young, Helen Cory, Lois Smith, Hilda Tillinghast, Nellie Rowland, Phyllis Walker, Junette Jones, Gertrude West, Junelle Vandevort and Mabel Marcus.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elgin at their home on South High street entertained the members of the Golden Hour club and their husbands with a Halloween party on Friday night. The rooms were artistically decorated with Halloween ideas and the diversion of the evening was cards. High honors falling to Mrs. Claire Vibbert and Dr. Fred Ellis. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bishop, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. George Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ingrey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Pemberton, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Pound, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Selwert and Mr. and Mrs. Claire Vibbert.

Miss Eunaine Craig was a charming hostess Friday night for a dinner at the Marion hotel, preceding the Illahee dance. Tiny lighted jack o' lanterns were placed at each cover. Miss Craig's guests were Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. Pomeroy and E. M. Duffy of Corvallis.

The teachers of the feeble minded school gave an enjoyable Halloween party to the children on Thursday evening. The teachers and their guests were masked. Games and Halloween stunts filled the evening hours and at the close the teachers served cider and doughnuts.
