USE OF SOFT COAL SUPPLY IS CURTAILED

Sixth Day of Strike Sees Restrictions on Stores of Fuel and Annullment of Many Trains in Middle West

INDIANA COMMISSION BANS LIGHTED STREETS

Water Plants Close in Kansas—Nebraska Faces Shutting Down of Schools

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—New restrictions on the use of soft coal were announced today, the sixth day of the miners' strike. In some localities orders were even more drastic than during the war but the general situation showed little change.

While production in West Virginia and Colorado was reported increased since yesterday, there was no noticeable change in the ranks of the 425,000 striking miners.

Two States Appeal

Appeals for coal to prevent distress in many towns in Kansas and Alabama were sent to state and railroad officials.

Bunkering of foreign owned ships at American ports was ordered stopped by the central coal committee of the railroad administration.

Sixty-six trains were annulled by the Chicago and Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads.

Indiana's public service commission took the most drastic action in the domestic field. It decreed lightless trees, discontinuance of electric sign service, coal gas for heating and other advisable restrictions of service by public utilities with the less than two weeks supply of coal.

One independent steel mill in Pittsburgh was handicapped for coal.

Miners Ask Dissolution

Counsel for the miners filed a petition in the Indianapolis federal court for the dissolution of the government's temporary injunction against the strike.

The railroad administration's coal distribution system under fuel administration regulations was announced to be in full operation today. In Chicago the coal committee of the northwestern and central-western railroad regions announced removal of all restrictions on coal shipments for federal, state, county, and municipal, public utilities, daily newspapers and a few similar classifications throughout the country. The order applied to coal already taken charge of in transit and that to be mined, and was designed to meet pressing necessities such as freeing coal cars for mines still in operation.

Trains Annulled

The suspension of trains, the majority of them suburban and local passenger runs made an idle train crew of each train annulled. Of the 66 runs eliminated, 14 directly

BURGLARE ATTEMPT DURING THEFT DENNISON RESIDENCE IS ENTERED FAMILY HEARS MEN ASCEND STAIRS

A daring burglary was attempted in the center of the business district about 10 o'clock last night when two men entered the L. A. Dennison residence at 170 Court street and went upstairs with the evident intention of ransacking the upper apartments of the dwelling. Mrs. Dennison, a neighbor and several young people were downstairs at the time the men entered the house and heard them ascend the stairs but supposed that the two young men who are rooming there had returned, having left the house but a few moments before. Suspicions were aroused however when the men were called to and did not answer, and the police responded.

Mrs. Dennison warned the officer that the men were probably armed as there were two revolvers upstairs, but found no one, although there was evidence of the rooms having been hurriedly ransacked. An open window told the story.

Shots Fired in Pursuit

At this juncture a young woman who resides at the Dennison home cried: "There they go" and pointed to two men running west on Court street toward the river. Officer Moffitt started in pursuit ordering them to halt and firing three shots. Their lead of two blocks however, enabled them to escape the officer. A search for an hour was made of the lumber piles but no trace was found of the fugitives.

Two revolvers in one of the upstairs rooms were found to have been opened and cast aside by the intruders. The guns, one of which was a 22-caliber were loaded and it is thought likely that they were rejected because of the small caliber.

No Valuables Taken
Mrs. Dennison, after a hurried checking up stated that nothing of value had been taken, although there was a purse containing $20 in one of the rooms.

It is believed that the robbers were the same men who a few hours before had presented themselves at the Dennison residence as painters who had been ordered to do some work by Mr. Dennison. Mrs. Dennison informed them that they must be mistaken and they then asked Mr. Dennison and were told he was not at home.

Tangible results will appear in a few days and definite figures will be announced.

RANCH BURIED BY LANDSLIDE

Springer Farm Near Marshfield Wiped Out But Home Is Not Touched

MARSHFIELD, Or., Nov. 6.—The Springer ranch, three miles above Larson inlet, was destroyed by a great landslide during the recent rains, according to word brought here today. The place was a moderate sized stretch of narrow bottom land along Larson creek and when the slide occurred the entire area of lowland was obliterated by the earth, rubble and trees from the hillside. The owners' loss is said to be complete. The site of the home was not within the slide area and the dwellers escaped death only by a narrow margin.

CANDIDACY IS ANNOUNCED BY SAM A. KOZER

Deputy Secretary of State Points to Long Record as Public Servant

CHIEF EXTENDS CREDIT Aspirant's First Position at Capitol Was Under Frank J. Dunbar

Sam A. Kozar, deputy secretary of state under Ben W. Olcott, present secretary of state for the past eight years, yesterday announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state at the next primary election, occurring in May, 1920. He bases his candidacy on a long experience and intimate knowledge of state, departmental and institutional affairs and on the duties of secretary of state gained through an extended period of active service and close application to duty.

Mr. Kozar first became identified with the secretary of state's office in January, 1899, filling the position of auditing clerk under Frank J. Dunbar, who at that time assumed the duties of secretary of state. Mr. Dunbar retired from office in January, 1907, after an eight-year term and was succeeded by Frank W. Benson, who appointed Mr. Kozar his chief clerk, which position he filled until March 1, 1909, when Mr. Benson appointed him as insurance commissioner.

Olcott Names Kozar.
Mr. Benson at that time became governor by virtue of the election of Governor Chamberlain to the United States senate. Mr. Kozar served as insurance commissioner until Sep-

OPPOSITION STOPS VOTE ON TREATY

Ratification Near With Both Sides Favoring but Group of Senators Blocks Action—Reservations Is Reason

PARLIAMENTARY BATTLE OPENS SHOWDOWN

Gore Amendment to Make War Matter for Referendum Is Defeated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Whether to ratify the treaty with Germany without reservations or amendments seemed for a while this afternoon about to be decided by the senate.

Thrown into the thick of a dramatic parliamentary battle, a request for an immediate showdown on unqualified acceptance of the treaty got the backing of leaders on both sides, who seemed anxious to outdo each other in pressing for a roll call. But before the stage of action was reached the move was blocked by Republican senators who objected that it might cut off any later attempt to put reservations into the ratification.

Reservations Taken Up
The senate got back to its regular order of business, and having voted down the last of a long list of proposed amendments, began work on the reservations presented by the foreign relations committee, said to have the backing of a majority of the senators. When a recess was taken until tomorrow the first of the fifteen committee proposals had not yet come to a vote.

The reservation got before the senate only after a point of order against them had been overruled by Vice President Marshall, who declared no technicalities of the senate rules would be permitted to stand in the way of the right of the senate majority to frame its ratification of the treaty as it chose. The ruling, which followed an hour of bitter argument was accepted as containing a significant declaration of policy with respect to the parliamentary tangle developing around the treaty.

Leaders at Sea

Leaders were as much at sea as ever tonight over the date when a final vote might be reached. But they declared effort would be made to hasten the reservation debate. Democratic leaders, at an evening conference, thrashed over the whole situation and sought some method of bringing the long fight on the controversy to a conclusion.

Meantime White House officials revealed that plans were on foot for an early conference between President Wilson and Senator Hitchcock regarding the senate situation. It was said at the capitol tonight, however, that no such appointment yet had been made or requested by Mr. Hitchcock.

Gore Proposals Defeated
The flurry over an immediate vote on unreserved ratification came just after the senate had voted down, 67 to 18, the amendment by Senator Gore, Oklahoma, to make any declaration of war under the league of nations contingent on a popular referendum. Two more amendments had been prepared by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, but he decided to withhold them and offer them later as reservations. That cleared away the last of the amendments, and Senator Lodge called up the committee reservations.

Immediate objection came from the administration forces. Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, declaring the proposals could not properly be considered until the resolution of ratification came before the senate. He was assailing the Republicans for delay and charging that their methods were designed to prevent a direct vote on the question of unreserved ratification, when Senator Lodge asked: "If the senator wants to hasten action, why doesn't he ask for a vote right now on ratification without reservations?"

POLICY ON MEXICAN RAID OUTLINED GOVERNMENT NOT TO PAY JENKINS MINE THEFTS "MIGHT" BE DIFFERENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The policy of the United States regarding kidnapping of Americans in Mexico and attacks upon Americans and their property in that country was set forth today in an official announcement that unless negligence on the part of the Mexican authorities can be shown, there will be no claim for damages made by this government. The kidnapping of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla and the payment by his attorney of $150,000 ransom for his liberty was discussed at length by a high official of the state department in outlining the policy of the United States.

Government Not Responsible

Jenkins will have to effect his own reimbursement of the money paid to the Mexicans who kidnapped him, it was said, unless he can prove that the Mexican government was negligent in affording him protection. The fact that he was an official of the United States government has no bearing on the matter in any way, it was stated. Americans in Mexico can expect no more, or different protection than is afforded to Mexicans under the Mexican law, this official said, in definitely disposing of the suggestion that the protection sought by Americans in Mexico through diplomatic channels, to counterbalance the greater measure of protection granted to Mexicans by their courts, will not be urged by this government.

Robberies "Might" Be Different

It was admitted by the state department official that the robbery of American mine and oil company paymasters "might be" different as the paymasters are compelled to notify the authorities in advance of their route, time of departure and the amount of money carried. Assertion that on occasions, Mexican soldiers in federal uniforms are reported as participating in the robberies and that officers of the federal army at times have led their men in alleged raids on the camps, brought the reply that in such events there "might be" grounds for a claim against the Mexican government under international law.

But the note specifies that before the treaty can be made effective through a process verbal of the deposit of the ratifications, the German representatives shall obligate their nation to carry out the terms of the protocol.

Obligations Not Met.
The protocol contains a number of obligations assumed by Germany in the armistice convention and complementary agreements which have not been carried out and which have been the subject of urgent representations. These include the withdrawal of German troops from Russian territory, and the delivery of certain German tonnage.

FOUR BOYS CHARGED WITH LONG SERIES OF REGULAR THURSDAY NIGHT BURGLARIES AT MARKET

Within three hours after a prowler was reported to be in the People's Cash Market at 156 North Liberty street, Officers Ganiard and Branson had rounded up four young lads implicated, according to a confession made by one of the quartet, in systematically burglarizing the shop. Earl Viesko, Carl Berdwell, Floyd Satterree and Perry Walcher, who ages range from 14 to 16, will appear before City Recorder Race tomorrow and face charges, the results of last night's investigations.

The arrests terminate a series of systematic burglaries which has continued for two months or more. Thursday night of each week would be the time selected for the "jobs."

Upon responding to the call, the officers found no traces of intruders, but had evidently taken alarm and made a get-away. The proprietor of the shop, W. J. Walcher, appeared on the scene and upon entering the place it was discovered that $10.50 was missing from the till. That the job was an amateur's stunt was first made evident to the officers when it was noticed that $14.97 in a purse was undisturbed, though the first sum was taken from the same wallet. Officer Ganiard discovered imprints of a rubber heel on the floor of the refrigerator and also one on a plank outside a window through which entrance to the shop had been effected.

Officer Branson also noticed that the plank outside was badly worn under the window, indicating that entrance by way of the window had been used frequently.

Perry Walcher, the younger son of the proprietor was questioned by the officers and after denying any knowledge of the matter at first, soon made a few statements which gave the officers something to work on. Earl Viesko, awakened from sleep at his home on South Liberty street also denied knowledge of the affair but he said to have soon admitted that he had received $4 and a fountain pen as proceeds of former raids.

Younk Satterree, who the officers say acted in a very manly manner in making a clean breast of the whole affair gave the officers a history of the "burglaries" the shop being entered every Thursday night for the past two months and small amounts taken. The lads were able to explain their absence each time to their parents by pretending that they were attending a meeting of a boys' organization.

The officers found the money buried under a tree within three blocks of young Satterree's home. The parents of the boys were astounded at the revelations. Earl Berdwell who lives on Saginaw at Union claimed
